Chairperson Fox: Called the meeting to order. She took roll and a quorum was established.

II. PUBLIC COMMENT NOTICE: Read into record by Chairperson Fox.

No vote or action may be taken upon a matter raised under this item of the agenda until the matter itself has been specifically included on an agenda as an item upon which action may be taken.

Chairperson Fox: Asked if there were any public comments. There were none.

III. APPROVAL OF MINUTES OF PREVIOUS MEETING.

A. September 30, 2016

MOTION: Motion to approve the minutes of the meeting dated September 30, 2016.
BY: Chairperson Fox
SECOND: Commissioner Read
VOTE: Motion passed unanimously.

IV. PRESENTATION OF HEARING OFFICER CASE HANDLING STATISTICS AND POSSIBLE DECISION TO RENEW THE HEARINGS DIVISION AND/OR THE INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR CONTRACTS

Shelley Blotter: Presented the statistics from the Hearing Officers. She noted the information in the packet allowed Board Members to review the average number of days from appeal to outcome, the average cost per case for each appeal and the type of outcomes that we have been receiving. They are pleased with the services that are being provided by both the Hearings Division and the independent contractor, Charles Cockerill.

They presented these statistics for the Commission and were also asking for a decision on whether to extend the contracts of the Hearings Division, as well as Mr. Cockerill. If the decision were to extend the contract, it would be as of July 1, 2017 and can extend the contract for the Hearings Division up to four years and Mr. Cockerill for three years. If the decision were to choose to renew both of them, it is recommended three years for both so they can stay on the same timeframe for both contracts and handle them together.

Chairperson Fox: Noted she was going to read some items of the statistics into the record. She stated, it appears that the average number of days for appeal to outcome remains below the six month processing time and there's been a decrease in processing time during the last two fiscal years. It also appears that the cost per appeal has dropped since the Hearings Division was contracted to perform the hearings function. In most cases assigned to the Hearings Division, Hearing Officers and Mr. Cockerill did not result in a hearing as they were settled, withdrawn or dismissed.

Over 90% of the decisions by the Hearings Division Hearing Officers and Charles Cockerill have not been appealed. In the summary provided, it is the position of the Division of Human Resources Management, Hearings Division Hearing Officers and Mr. Cockerill's performance is considered timely, has resulted in a lower cost compared to when a pool of independent contractors were used and they are decisions not being overturned by District Court. Therefore, it indicates to Commissioners, this new approach to the hearing of cases has been positive for both employees and management. Ms. Blotter said that the Division of Human Resources Management has been pleased with this new approach also.

Bryan Nix: Introduced himself as a Senior Appeals Officer for the Hearings Division. He thanked Shelley for keeping track of these statistics. It's something they used to have to do, although they still do track, it's pleasant to see its being handled by Shelley who does such a great job. He noted, they are very pleased with this contract. They've had some challenges. They didn't get positions requested in this year's budget. It's been a bit of a challenge finding courtrooms and managing them with our current staff.

But, from the statistics our costs are down, it's being done in a timely manner and they plan on continuing.

Charles Cockerill: Introduced himself as an Attorney with Allison MacKenzie Law Firm in Carson City. He's been doing this work since 2010. His specialty is representing employers and he thinks he has done a good job being a reasonable Hearing Officer over the last number of years. He is aware and happy with the recommendation but is also happy to continue to serve the State of Nevada as a Hearing Officer for up to three years.

David Read: Stated, he's very pleased to see these numbers. The hearing system seems to have evolved very nicely. He understood that Mr. Cockerill was kind of a back-up in case Hearings Division, Hearings Officers couldn't hear the case. It is now understood that he is regularly scheduled but from an employee standpoint, it's nice to have someplace to go other than just the Hearings Division, Hearings Officers. He doesn't really see any significant cost savings. They seem to be doing very well with both the Hearings Officers and Mr. Cockerill compared to what was done in the past.

MOTION: Motion to continue with the Hearings Division handling personnel appeal hearings, as well as the contract with Mr. Cockerill, beginning July 1, 2017 for three years.
BY: Commissioner Read
SECOND: Chairperson Fox
VOTE: Motion passed unanimously.

V. DISCUSSION AND APPROVAL OR DENIAL OF PROPOSED REGULATIONS
CHANGES TO NEVADA ADMINISTRATIVE CODE, CHAPTER 284

- A. LCB File No. R024-16
 - Sec. 1. NAC 284.5405 Annual Leave: Credit upon reinstatement, rehiring, reemployment or transfer.
 - Sec. 2. NAC 284.551 Sick Leave: Credit upon rehiring, reemployment or transfer.

Carrie Hughes: Introduced herself as Personnel Analyst with the Division of Human Resource Management. The Division recommends the amendments including NAC 284.5405 and 284.551 to address the treatment of leave balances of non-classified employees, Nevada System of Higher Education employees and any employees of a governmental agency acquired for administration by the State when an employee is appointed to a non-classified, unclassified or classified position without a break in service. As this type of movement is not frequent, questions have occurred as to the rights of these employees.

These amendments will ensure consistency in the future. The first substantive amendment strikes the term 'unclassified employee' as used in relationship to positions in the Nevada System of Higher Education. This language is confusing as such a term is not used within the system. It has been replaced with "employees occupying a position within the Nevada System of Higher Education," in both regulations, to clarify that a Nevada System of Higher Education employee may transfer his/her leave balances to the new appointment.

The amendments also propose to remove the requirement to recalculate leave balances when such movement occurs. These provisions have previously been included as Nevada System of Higher Education employees that are in not in the classified service and employees of a governmental agency acquired for administration by the State may have had leave accrual rates that are different than those provided for employees in the classified and unclassified service.

These amendments will simplify this process and reduce staff time required to make the recalculation. The amended regulations will now allow an employee to transfer over an amount of annual leave that does not exceed the accrual rate of a classified or unclassified State employee and all of his/her accrued sick leave.

Commissioner Mauger: Asked for clarification, if the individuals going from one department to another, or in this situation, from the Nevada System of Higher Education to another Department but don't incur a break at all or leave the employ of the State and are then able to come back? Carrie Hughes: Noted, this portion of the regulation addresses those that are moving without a break in service from either the Nevada System of Higher Education or these acquired governmental agencies, or also the non-classified. Those moving between different departments that are in the classified or unclassified are addressed a little differently.

Commissioner Spurlock: Asked to clarify if are we talking more about the change in the employee's status than classified versus unclassified. He didn't get the impression that simply a change in department, with no break in service, as long as the employee kept the status was any issue. Carrie Hughes: Noted, they are moving sometimes from different organizations. But yes, it is the change coming into the classified and unclassified service.

Shelley Blotter: Provided the following example, if the person had held a position in the administrative faculty in the Nevada System of Higher Education and then accepted a position in the unclassified service within the Department of Health and Human Services, they would be able to bring over their leave balances if they had not incurred a break in service. It's really addressing that type of movement.

Chairperson Fox: Clarified, it just cleans up the language so that in essence, their leave banks transfer in totality instead of doing some calculation that was confusing and difficult to accomplish. Carrie Hughes: Clarified that their sick leave would transfer in total but their annual leave would not exceed that of the accrual rate of a classified or unclassified employee and that there might be an adjustment there.

Commissioner Mauger: Asked, as an example, if an employee moves from one department to another department, they are carrying their time with them. Carrie Hughes: Stated, this is talking about moving the leave balances. So yes, there's sick and annual time moving that so it's available.

Commissioner Mauger: Noted, a concern with this choice to be in a new department, is that the individuals that are there now with X amount of years, versus those carrying their time over, could create a hostile situation. The concern is basically that the individual will be afforded the right to carry their longevity over and then the individuals working in there. Peter Long: Stated, this is just simply an annual leave balance. This is not longevity.

MOTION: Motion to approve Item V., A., LCB File No: R024-06.
BY: Commissioner Mauger
SECOND: Commissioner Spurlock
VOTE: Motion passed unanimously.

VI. DISCUSSION AND APPROVAL OR DENIAL OF CLASS SPECIFICATION MAINTENANCE REVIEW

A. Social Services & Rehabilitation

1. Subgroup: Rehabilitation

- a. 12.433 Rehabilitation Technician Series
- b. 12.449 Rehabilitation Instructor Series

2. Subgroup: Juvenile

- a. 12.523 Assistant Superintendent, Youth Facility
- b. 12.532 Head Group Supervisory Series
- c. 12.535 Group Supervisor Series

Heather Dapice: Introduced herself as a Supervisory Personnel Analyst with the Division of Human Resource Management Classification Unit. She presented for approval recommendations of changes to the class specifications for the Rehabilitation Technician and Rehabilitation Instructor. These are items IV., A., 1., a. and b. on the agenda.

The Division recommended that minor revisions be made to refresh the language and to maintain consistency with formatting and structure. These class specifications were reviewed and revised as part of Biennium Class Specification Review Process. The changes were identified in red in the handouts provided. The Division requested that the Commission approve the recommendations effective this date.

MOTION: Approval of Item VI., A., 1. Subgroup: Rehabilitation
BY: Chairperson Fox
SECOND: Commissioner Read
VOTE: Motion passed unanimously.

Heather Dapice: Stated, Regarding Item VI., A., 2. a., Assistant Superintendent Youth Facility, VI., A., 2. b., Head Group Supervisor and VI., A., 2., c., Group Supervisor. The Division recommended that minor revisions be made to refresh language, clarify special requirements and maintain consistency with formatting and structure. Again, these class specifications were revised and reviewed as part of the Biennium Class Specification Review Process. The changes were identified in red in the handout provided. The Division requested that the Commission approve the recommendations effective this date.

Chairperson Fox: Noted, the special requirement language is pursuant to NRS 628.270 in the Federal Prison Rape Elimination Act, applicants must submit to criminal and child abuse background checks and the background must be cleared of any disqualifying events. Heather Dapice: Confirmed, that language previously had just been placed on the announcement for the recruitment. Now it is clarified in the class specifications themselves.

Commissioner Spurlock: Asked, what the intent of the change on the Education and Experience section was. It appears to be a lot of reordering of language, but what was fundamentally changed about that, or was it just more of a format type change? Heather Dapice: Noted, the majority of it was a format change, however, they included additional degree requirements to be consistent with all three series. Some of them may have not been included, for example, some may have included business management, while others may not have. Some may have included human services, or social services, and the others may not have. All of the degree requirements are included to be consistent.

Commissioner Spurlock: Clarified, you're looking for more of a general consistency across more than just one classification? Heather Dapice: Confirmed.

MOTION: Approval of Item VI., A., 2. Subgroup: Juvenile.
BY: Chairperson Fox
SECOND: Commissioner Mauger
VOTE: Motion passed unanimously.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT NOTICE: Read into record by Chairperson Fox

No vote or action may be taken upon a matter raised under this item of the agenda until the matter itself has been specifically included on an agenda as an item upon which action may be taken.

Chairperson Fox: Asked if there were any public comments. There were none. She noted, the Commissioners want to express a special thank you to Tawny Polito who has accepted a promotion. She provided the administrative support to the Commission for the past five years. She'll be available to her replacement to assist in her training and transition, but we do want Tawny to know how much we appreciated all of her efforts to be our backbone.

In Reply, Refer to:

Dear Personnel Commission,

We appreciate the opportunity to address the classification appeal of Erik Reed, Right-of-Way Agent II with the NDOT Right-of-Way Division and provide you with the basis for recommending "no change" in classification of his position.

In addition, the Division of Human Resource Management has reviewed Mr. Reed's NPD-19 and NDOT's determination and concluded that "Significant Change" has not occurred to this position and as a result have denied his appeal.

On February 2, 2016 an NPD-19 was submitted for this position and no significant change was determined after a desk audit was conducted and comparison was made to other Right-of-Way Agent positions as well as comparison to the class concepts for Right-of-Way Agent II and III.

The NDOT believes that after thorough examination of the NPD-19 submitted for Mr. Reed's position and comparison to the duties performed by other Right-of-Way Agents as well as the requirements under NAC 284 for reclassification to a higher grade level based on "significant change", Mr. Reed's reclassification request is not supported and request the Personnel Commission deny this appeal.

Sincerely,

APPEAL SUMMARY

Personnel Commission

Individual Appeal

Personnel Commission Meeting March 10, 2017

Prepared by the NDOT Human Resources Division

Appeal Summary

The Nevada Department of Transportation, through its delegated authority, has denied Erik Reed's reclassification request from a Right of Way Agent II, grade 34 to a Right of Way Agent III, grade 36.

Nevada Department of Transportation's Recommendation

NDOT believes the level of responsibility of Mr. Reed's position is appropriately classified as a Right of Way Agent II based on the nature and complexity of work assigned to his position, decision making authority, consequence of error, Knowledge, Skills and Abilities as well as comparison to other Right of Way Agent positions.

An independent review of Mr. Reed's position was conducted by the Division of Human Resource Management, Classification Section who also concluded that his position is appropriately classified as a Right of Agent II.

In Conclusion, the appellant's duties are consistent with the Right of Way Agent II class concepts and other Right of Way Agent II's at NDOT. In addition, the new duties listed on Mr. Reed's NPD-19 were not determined to be at the level of a Right of Way Agent III and did not meet the definition of "Significant Change".

Finally, granting this request would create inequities within the NDOT Right of Way Division.

Erik Reed, Right-of-Way Agent II
364 Cascade Mist Avenue
Las Vegas, NV 89123
ereed@dot.state.nv.us

Dear Mr. Reed:

I have received your appeal regarding the results of the classification study recently conducted by the Nevada Department of Transportation (NDOT) under a delegation agreement with the Division of Human Resource Management. You are appealing the denial of the request to reclassify your position from a Right-of-Way Agent II, 7.437, grade 34 to a Right-of-Way Agent III, 7.436, grade 36.

My responsibility in the classification appeal process is to objectively review the classification determination for validity and adherence to accepted classification principles and to assess the use of appropriate methodology. I must consider the points in the original determination with which you disagree and the rationale for this disagreement. My review of this appeal took into consideration all the information gathered during the classification study including the current NPD-19 upon which the determination was made; a review of the class specifications for the Right-of-Way (ROW) Agent Series, a review of the appeal documents submitted, and additional information received.

In reviewing and comparing the original NPD-19 that created the position with work performance standards signed by you on August 25, 2011, the NPD-19 recently submitted and statements made by both you and management, there appears to be several conflicting items. The original NPD-19 and work performance standards show responsibility for negotiation/acquisition, appraisal, relocation assistance, property management and utility coordination/project lead; however, the recently submitted NPD-19 only shows duties associated with utilities.

In making decisions as to the functionality of positions within their span of control, departments are authorized to add and/or remove duties to positions based on their organizational requirements. It appears that sometime between the date the work performance standards were signed and the date you submitted your NPD-19, there was a reorganization of the Right-of-Way Division; however, it does not appear that duties and responsibilities were clarified through new NPD-19's or work performance standards. At this time, I would strongly suggest a meeting between yourself, division management and departmental human resources to clarify your actual duties and responsibilities and create new work performance standards detailing this information.

With regards to the reasoning for your appeal, you state in your appeal letter that the major difference between the ROW Agent II and III is that the ROW Agent III "frequently and regularly serve as project managers with responsibility for project status reporting, coordination of activities with other disciplines and divisions, project timelines, and consultant contract administration." You further state that since you spend the preponderance of your time performing project management duties you are working outside the scope of your current class and therefore meet the definition of significant change according to NAC.

Project Management, is not the defining characteristic of the ROW Agent III class. The class concept for the ROW Agent III states the following: "Under general direction, incumbents, in addition to performing the full range of duties described in the series concept, function independently in at least three of the following right-of-way disciplines: property appraisal, negotiations, relocation assistance, property management, and utility/railroad relocation. Incumbents at this level frequently and regularly serve as project managers with responsibility for project status reporting, coordination of activities with other disciplines and divisions, project timelines, and consultant contract administration. They also function as leadworkers for other right-of-way staff assigned to projects and provide guidance to local public agencies regarding right-of-way issues. This is the advanced journey level in the series."

In order to be classified at the ROW Agent III, incumbents must meet the class concept as a whole, not in part. Positions may perform one or two higher-level duties; however, this does not provide the basis for reclassification to the higher level.

While ROW Agent III positions may not have direct responsibility for each discipline area, they must be able to function independently in at least three of them. This statement not only requires ROW Agent III's to have a breadth of experience and comprehensive knowledge necessary to make judgements, decisions and determinations related to at least three discipline areas, but in addition, as problems arise during the course of assigned projects; authorizes them to do so. As indicated by management within your division, your position is not required to function at this level, nor is it authorized to make this level of determination.

Also, the ROW Agent III is not the only level in the series that is assigned projects as evidenced by the statement in the ROW III class concept "...function as leadworkers for other right-of-way staff assigned to projects..." and the ROW Agent II class concept "...may provide direction...for various projects." The primary difference between the ROW Agent III and the ROW Agent II with regards to project management is the scope and complexity of the projects themselves. The ROW Agent III is assigned the most complex assignments as determined by management. They also function independently and make high-level decisions. While you believe that you are performing project management for complex assignments, management within NDOT's Right-of-Way Division has indicated that your position is not responsible for projects that have the same high-degree of complexity as the ROW Agent III. As such, there appears to be a miscommunication between yourself and management with regards to the defining characteristics of complexity of assigned projects. I would suggest a meeting between you and your immediate supervisor in order to receive clarification. It should also be noted, that project management is not a newly assigned duty to the position, as evidenced by the original NPD-19 dated August 4, 2000 and work performance standards signed by you on August 25, 2011.

Furthermore, the ROW Agent III functions as a leadworker for other right-of-way staff assigned to projects and provides guidance to local public agencies regarding right-of-way issues. A leadworker has on-going responsibility for prioritizing and assigning work; reviewing work products; resolving problems; and reporting to the supervisor regarding status of work, the performance of individual employees, and training needs. ROW Agent II's, on the other hand, may provide direction to less experienced agents, other department personnel and to other public and private entities for various projects. In reviewing documents obtained and information received from yourself and management, your position does not function as a leadworker; however, with the hiring of several new right-of-way agents within the division, there may be some confusion between yourself and management as to your exact responsibilities in this area. I would again suggest a meeting to obtain clarification.

Lastly, the Right-of-Way Agent III is the advanced journey level in the series. This means that positions function at the highest level, with the highest degree of complexity, intricacy, involvement and complication; and are authorized to make independent decisions, determinations and judgements with little to no supervisory input. Again, upon review of documents obtained and information received, your position does not function at this level.

In conclusion, after a thorough review of all duties performed and analysis of all relevant documentation, I find that the original classification determination was based on sound evidence and evaluated according to prescribed classification procedures and methodology. It is my decision that the Right-of-Way Agent II, 7.437, grade 34 is the correct classification for the position.

I am sorry that my response could not have been more favorable and I again wish to reiterate my suggestion that a meeting between yourself, division management and departmental human resources be held to further clarify and document the duties and responsibilities of your position in contrast to those of the Right-of-Way Agent III.

Thank you for the cooperation shown during the course of this study. Per NAC 284.152, you may appeal this decision to the Personnel Commission within 30 days after receipt of this letter by notifying the Division of Human Resource Management in writing at 209 East Musser Street, Suite 101, Carson City, NV 89701. Regulations also require that your appeal should be sent to me and contain the rationale for your disagreement with this determination.

Sincerely,

Peter Long

In Reply Refer to:

Erik Reed, Right of Way Agent II
123 E Washington St., Building C
Right of Way Division, Utilities Section
Las Vegas, NV 89101

Dear Erik:

The NDOT Human Resources Division has carefully reviewed the request to reclassify your position from ROW Agent II, grade 34 to ROW Agent III, grade 36. The process of evaluating your position included an in-depth analysis of documents such as the NPD-19 submitted; current class specifications; the desk audit completed on 06-09-2016 with Jessica Biggin, Assistant Chief ROW and myself; and, an interview with Dave Moreno, ROW Supervisor, Ruth Borrelli, Chief ROW Division, and Jerry Hoover, Assistant Chief ROW Division.

Based on the data collected in the review, we have concluded that the level of responsibility and scope of your duties correctly align with 7.437, ROW Agent 2, grade 34.

Per regulation, a position may be reclassified when significant change in the duties and responsibilities being performed has occurred. NAC 284.126, 1(b) defines significant change as "a change in duties and responsibilities assigned to a position in a class that:

- 1) Is outside the scope of the class as described by the class specification;
- 2) Is not part of the scope of responsibility of the position; and
- 3) Results in the preponderance of duties and responsibilities being allocated to a different class."

In short, significant change means that the duties assigned to a position have changed to such a degree that the current class concept no longer fairly describes the preponderance of responsibilities. In applying the definition, change that is the result of natural growth or an increase in workload, common to most positions in State service, is not considered to fall within the meaning of significant change, nor is the addition of duties that are similar in nature or complexity to current or previously performed responsibilities.

In order to be reclassified from one level in a series to a higher level, a position must spend the preponderance of time performing higher-level duties. Some positions may perform one or two higher-level duties; however, this does not provide the basis for reclassification to the higher level.

Your request for reclassification to a ROW Agent 3 was submitted for review on February 10, 2016. The following week, your NPD-19 was discuss with Jerry Hoover, Acting Deputy Chief, ROW and Ruth Borelli, Chief, ROW. It was communicated to both you and your supervisor,

Dave Moreno, that you were not authorized to work out of class and that any ROW Agent 3 duties assigned to you would be removed.

During your desk audit, you stated that none of the ROW Agent 3's in the LV ROW Utilities Section meet the class concepts for the ROW Agent 3 level since they are not performing at least three ROW disciplines. Your assessment has no bearing in fact and does not justify upgrading your position as you do not meet the class concepts for ROW Agent 3. The ROW Agent 3's in the Las Vegas Utilities section are independently performing the most complex ROW functions and are assigned ROW projects that exceed your current job assignments, knowledge, decision making authority and experience level. Based on your current and previous work assignments it has been determined that your job functions are not at the level of the ROW Agent 3's in Las Vegas and that you are appropriately classified at the ROW Agent II level.

The class concepts for Right-of-Way Agent II describe responsibility for perform the full range of duties described in the series concept and function proficiently in at least two of the following right-of-way disciplines: property appraisal, negotiations, relocation assistance, property management, utility/railroad relocation, and may provide direction to less experienced agents, other department personnel and to other public and private entities for various projects. This is the journey level class in the series.

Right-of-Way Agent III's perform the full range of duties described in the series concept, function independently in at least three of the following right-of-way disciplines: property appraisal, negotiations, relocation assistance, property management, and utility/railroad relocation. Incumbents at this level frequently and regularly serve as project managers with responsibility for project status reporting, coordination of activities with other disciplines and divisions, project timelines, and consultant contract administration. They also function as lead workers for other right-of-way staff assigned to projects and provide guidance to local public agencies regarding right-of-way issues. This is the advanced journey level in the series.

In addition, the organizational structure in the LV Utilities section is comprised of three ROW Agent 3's and two ROW Agent 2's. Since the initial submission of your NPD-19's, there have been several ROW Agent 3 vacancies for which you have interviewed. Although you were not selected for these positions, it has been determined by the ROW Division that additional ROW Agent 3's are not needed in the LV Utilities office.

In conclusion, after a thorough review of all duties performed and analysis of all relevant documentation, it was determined that there has been no significant change in duties and responsibilities being performed and that the preponderance of duties are consistent with ROW Agent II, 7.437, grade 34.

This classification decision is not a reflection on your abilities or accomplishments, nor should it be seen as minimizing your contributions. It is apparent that you are providing a valuable service to your agency; however, we are required to make decisions based on objective classification principles and regulations.

Per NAC 284.152, you have 20 working days from receipt of this recommendation to appeal to the Division of Human Resource Management.

Sincerely,

Rob Easton, Personnel Officer II, SPHR, SHRM-SCP

1. What is prompting this request? If this is an existing position, state the significant changes (as defined in NAC 284.126) in duties and responsibilities which have been made in the position since it was established or last reviewed by Human Resource Management. If this is a new position, have there been additional responsibilities placed on the organization? If yes, please explain. Attach documentation relative to legislation, board/commission proceedings, new organizational goals, etc., if applicable.

This request is being made because Employee has been performing duties and responsibilities which are specific to the class specifications of Right of Way Agent III and beyond the scope of current class of Right of Way Agent II. For example, Employee has been requested to act as project manager, manage consultant contract administration, perform complex tasks, and train newly hired agents.

2. What position(s), if any, previously performed these new or additional duties? List class title and position control number of position(s). (A separate NPD-19 may be required for these positions.)

Right of Way Agent III, and Right of Way Supervisor

3. Briefly describe the major purpose of this job.

Right of Way Agent II's major purpose is to coordinate relocation and adjustment of affected utility and railroads by agreement; review and interpret contracts and plans; identify the type and location of utility; ensure they are included in the design division's construction plans; make contact with public and private utility companies to coordinate relocations and verify ownership of facilities; research and determine prior rights; research and determine access rights to right-of-way; verify cost estimates provided for the relocation of utility; coordinate relocation agreements ensuring construction plans and work are completed on schedule; verify billings; and process purchase orders for payment. Much of these activities are performed under the supervision of Agent III, which has not been the case for Employee.

Right of Way Agent III's major purpose is similar to that described above; however, they regularly serve as project managers with responsibility for project status reporting, coordination of activities with other disciplines and divisions, project timelines, and consultant contract administration. They also frequently train new employees and function as lead workers for other right-of-way staff assigned to projects. Much of these activities are performed under general supervision of the Right of Way Supervisor, which has been the case for Employee since Employee has been asked to perform the duties of a Right of Way Agent III.

4. Attach a copy of the agency organizational chart to this form. Please circle this position.

5. List the duties performed in this job. Assign a number to each duty and estimate the percentage of time spent on each duty (percentages should add to 100%). If it is not possible to estimate the percentage of time spent in each area daily, estimate the time on a weekly, monthly, or annual basis. If this is an existing position, please put an asterisk (*) next to each duty that is new.

DUTY#	DUTY	FREQUENCY
1	Communication with all utilities operating in the area of the project: Coordinate project between designer and utility company; request red-lines/as-builts, prior rights information, and inform utilities of project scope, limits, and potential impact to their facilities.	35%
2	*Project Management: Responsible for coordinating a series of activities for the purposes of ensuring utility conflicts are addressed, agreements are executed on time, adjustments are completed, and reimbursement invoices/billing are accompanied with supporting documentation and are processed in a timely manner.	30%
3	Establish relocation agreements: Researching and determining prior rights; documenting cost estimates associated with relocation; drafting the agreement, and ensuring agreement is fully executed in a timely manner.	20%
4	*Contract Preparation: Create the scope of work, roles and responsibilities for the right-of-way utilities; follow administrative services for Request for Proposal (RFP) procedures to contract for sub-surface utility engineering and other work.	15%

6. What duties are performed that require the incumbent to make choices, determinations, or judgments? Please give examples.

All of the duties described above involve making choices, determinations, using judgments, and exercising independence and initiative. Right of Way Agent IIs receive direction from Supervisor, while Right of Way Agent IIIs only receive occasional guidance from the Supervisor. When acting as Project Manager, Employee has had to determine which agreements are applicable; which meetings to attend; what kind of correspondence to prepare and determine the level of utility coordination and outreach based on an analysis of the project scope. Another example where choices, determinations and judgments are utilized is the creation of a shell contract for outside consultants. Employee has been responsible to provide input and direction, as well as to initiate the development of a template using Employee's best determinations and judgments.

7a. List the class titles and position control numbers of all employees that are supervised by this position.

Good afternoon Rob.

Ruth and I have been discussing through emails, Erik Reed and Agent II duties. I mentioned to Ruth that in my opinion Mr. Reed is performing agent II duties. But I wasn't clear about him assisting and/or training of other agents. Ruth was clear in telling me that as an agent II, Mr. Reed should not be performing this task, and to have him stop this immediately, which in turn I kindly agreed to do so.

This morning at 8:30 am I spoke to Erik Reed regarding assisting other agents in the office. After conferring with him and explaining that assisting and/or training is not in line with an Agent II duties, I directed him to stop doing so immediately and he understood. Other than that, I feel at this time Erik Reed is performing Agent II duties. I'd also like to add that I am providing Agent II level supervision to this employee. Please let me know if you need anything else.

Sincerely,

David Moreno

1. What is prompting this request? If this is an existing position state the significant changes in duties and responsibilities which have been made in the position since it was established or last reviewed by State Personnel. If this is a new position have there been additional responsibilities placed on the organization? If yes, please explain. Attach documentation relative to legislation, board/commission proceedings, new organizational goals, etc., if applicable.

This request is for a new position. With the population explosion in the Las Vegas Valley there has been a substantial increase in new roadway construction and roadway widenings. Through increased efficiency in our office, we have been able to adopt to the increased workload over the years. However, recent project announcements and policy changes, which have shifted part of the workload of local public agencies to NDOT, have seriously impacted our ability to meet critical dates. One major project is the US-95 widening. This project will require approximately 250 acquisitions and 1000 business and residential relocations. This workload, along with utility relocations and property management, will inundate my current staff to the point of overload. Construction dates will not be met without additional staff.

In addition to US-95, there are five other major projects planned. These projects are "on top of" the daily workload experienced by the Las Vegas Right-of-Way office. We have also been incorporated into the Stewardship Program which either assumes the local public agencies workload on certain projects or oversees their programs to ensure Federal guideline compliance. The staffing in the Las Vegas Right-of-Way office must be increased to meet the additional responsibilities placed on the division.

2. What position(s), if any, previously performed these new or additional duties? List class title and position control number of position(s). (A separate NPD-19 may be required for these positions.)

These duties are currently being accomplished by RW Agent II's and III's. However, the major projects mentioned above, which will begin in the near future, will overwhelm the staff and the project dates will not be met unless additional staff is added.

3. Briefly describe the major purpose of this job.

Right-of-Way Agents appraise, acquire, relocate, clear, and manage real property for the State of Nevada, Department of Transportation, other State agencies, and as requested, its political subdivisions. As such, the statutory knowledge base includes State and Federal laws, and regulations.

Appraisal reports are required to meet the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice.

This includes the fiduciary responsibility to the public to ensure fair and equal treatment, reviewing accuracy of all collected data, preparing appropriate documents, initiating contact with property owners, resolving either department and/or owner problems related to the project and the acquisition, preparing closing documents and transferring of funds or presenting account of negotiations to review board and recommending condemnation when no amicable agreement can be reached. Incumbents often continue negotiations in coordination with legal counsel and may assist counsel in reaching settlement or in trial preparation and may act as an expert witness in a court of law for related right-of-way matters. The negotiations or acquisitions are complex and at times controversial, involving real estate planning and development practices, engineering and law concepts and natural resource influences.

6. What duties are performed that require the incumbent to make choices, determinations or judgements? Please give examples.

The R/W Agent II is knowledgeable, proficient and acts in a capacity in two or more of the duties outlined above simultaneously on a daily basis as summarized and listed on attachment "A" hereto. With detailed examples immediately following.

APPRAISAL, NEGOTIATIONS AND ACQUISITION – 30%

The negotiator analyzes the appraisal, engineering plans, legal documents, correspondence and the site to present the State's offer to owners. Through collaborative negotiation concepts and practices, the negotiator implements high quality solutions, not necessarily monetary, to obtain agreement between the property owner and the State.

Negotiation with a diverse and often adversarial property owner requires analytical skills, creative problem solving and empathy. An organizational aptitude for maintaining thorough records and for processing documents is essential.

In accordance with the policies and procedures of "The Department's Right-of-Way Manual" every effort is made to acquire real property by negotiations and agreement with the property owner. It is the goal of this policy to avoid costly litigation and relieve congestion in the courts, to assure consistent treatment for the individual property owners in dealing with the Nevada Department of Transportation, and to promote general confidence in the State Government's land acquisition policies and practices. Following appraisal and establishment of just compensation the Nevada Department of Transportation is required to make every effort to acquire the subject parcel through agreement and negotiations as expeditiously as possible.

As with the appraisal process, each task in the negotiation process carries with it a unique set of decisions which must be made. For example, the R/W Agent must decide which of the property owner's objections, arguments and opinions to pursue further. These decisions are made by the R/W Agent based on the validity of the claims. Those claims the R/W Agent determines to be valid are presented to management, together with reasoning, documentation, and recommendations for administrative action to facilitate an agreement. It should be noted that the R/W Agent is a representative for both the property owner and the State. To ensure all legitimate claims, objections, arguments and additional data supplied by the owner and/or developed by the R/W Agent are considered in compliance with State and Federal laws, procedures and objectives ensuring fairness to all parties involved.

1. Upon receiving the acquisition assignment:

A review is performed of the right-of-way plans, title report, legal description, the approved appraisal report and any other prior correspondence. This review is necessary to become thoroughly knowledgeable with the acquisition assignment, and to verify accuracy of the information presented in the appraisal and documentation. Also included is a verification of legal ownership, since property is a transferable right.

Preparation of the written letter of offer. This letter conforms to an approved format and includes the amount of the total offer, which is derived from the Appraisal Review estimate of value, and may include any or all of the following: value assigned to land, improvements, damages in the case of partial acquisitions, and uneconomic remaining properties.

Preparation of an Appraisal Summary Statement. The information on this form is extracted from the appraisal report and the appraisal review and serves as a condensed version of the appraisal. This summary is helpful to the property owner in understanding the appraisal itemizations of various values and as a quick reference tool for the property owner and the R/W Agent.

Preparation of the Public Highway Agreement. Each agreement is tailored to the particular type of acquisition i.e. leasehold interest, total acquisition, partial acquisition, permanent easement, temporary easement etc. Information from the appraisal report and the appraisal review is used to complete this agreement. This agreement is used to clearly delineate the commitment, obligations, and responsibilities of the contracting parties, i.e., the Nevada Department of Transportation and the owner of the property to be acquired.

Preparation of the Deed. This includes verification of the Grantor and Grantee, to avoid creating "clouds" on title to real estate, legal description and signatures. This document transfers title and when recorded becomes part of the public record. This document is critical and must be letter perfect.

Note: Clearing "clouds" on a chain-of-title can be a lengthy and costly legal battle (court action) and that could potentially cause delays in Department projects.

Initiating the First Contact. Usually a telephone call is the quickest and most successful form of contact. However a registered letter in some instances is required to initiate contact with the owner. This sets up a time and a place at the owners convenience to initially present the State's written offer.

The First Contact. This requires meeting the property owner, any representatives, agents and/or attorneys face at a designated time and place. This is obviously a very important meeting. The most important accomplishment of this meeting is to cultivate an attitude of trust and confidence in the negotiator. Explanation of the process and identification of possible problem areas also occur at this time.

Problem Solving. Utilizing a variety of negotiating techniques the R/W Agent must negotiate with property owners, Department managers, attorneys, and others to resolve problems and remove obstacles to a fair and equitable agreement. Problems can be varied and complex. The resolution process can be time consuming and mentally taxing.

Negotiation Diary. Upon conclusion of each contact, whether by phone or in person, with the owner and any representatives, the pertinent facts are recorded in the negotiator's diary. This maintains an accurate record of the entire negotiation process to ensure all details, promises, solutions, discoveries, problems and obstacles are considered and noted. In some instances the diary may be subpoenaed as evidence in Court actions where the Agent may be called to testify.

Administrative Settlement. When no amicable agreement can be reached with the property owner and additional monetary consideration is required, a proposal for settlement may be considered. The R/W Agent decides on the validity of the owner's claims and recommends a proposed Administrative Settlement based on the information available. A thorough knowledge of the property's appraisal is necessary to support the value in the proposed Administrative Settlement, i.e. - is the additional data included or considered in the report? - what, if any, affect may the additional data have on the value conclusions? - is there additional market data that became available after the appraisal was completed?

RECEIVED BY

JUL 24 2000

Closing Package. When negotiations have been successfully completed and the owner has executed the Public Highway Agreement, preparation of the closing package commences. A Request for Payment and Purchase Order is prepared utilizing the Reviewing Appraiser's review sheet for coding. The negotiator's diary is closed, an escrow is established with all the particular items and conditions addressed, and the Parcel Closing Checklist is finalized. A copy of the deed, original Public Highway Agreement, copies of all pertinent correspondence, parcel map and copies of the letter of offer and Appraisal Summary Statement are included in the package for submittal to the Supervisory R/W Agent.

Escrow. Deposit funds, documents and pertinent terms and conditions in escrow. Monitor the escrow to assure closing. Audit title policy and escrow billing. A thorough knowledge of the escrow process is crucial. This assures an accurate statement of closing costs that may be audited in the future. The R/W Agent has the sole responsibility of the accuracy of these costs and that funds have been disbursed appropriately.

Condemnation. When, in the R/W Agent's judgement, negotiations for a property become futile, the R/W Agent may recommend a convening of the review board to consider condemnation action. In preparation for the review board meeting, the R/W Agent prepares the Negotiator's Report to the Legal Division which includes three copies of the original acquisition file. A Review Board meeting is then scheduled. When the meeting is held, with appointed members of the Right-of-Way Division and the Legal Division, the R/W Agent presents an account of negotiations to date and the obstacles for successful conclusion of the negotiation. The Review Board relies heavily on the opinion and judgement of the Agent.

The acquisition for the following property interests require special procedures: Mining Claims, Temporary and Permanent Easements, Entry permits, permission for placement of Air Quality of Meteorological Equipment, Material Sites (gravel pits), Special Use Permits (Federal and Local). Detailed information on procedures is available upon further request.

Ownerships that require special handling are as follows: Railroad Grant Lands, State of Nevada Lands, County Lands, Lands owned in Fee by Incorporated Cities, School Districts, Non-Profit Organizations, Federal and Native Reservation Lands.

RELOCATION ASSISTANCE – RESIDENTIAL, BUSINESS, FARM, AND NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATIONS – 30%

Upon assignment and in accordance with the approved policies and procedures in "The Right-of-Way Manual", the goal is to provide relocation advisory and financial assistance for individuals, businesses, non-profit organizations or farm operations that must be relocated as a result of the State's acquisition of real property for highway purposes.

Every person or business being displaced is eligible to receive advisory assistance in relocating to a replacement dwelling or business location. When certain eligibility requirements are met, displaced persons are also entitled to financial assistance in relocating their personal property and for the increased costs of buying or renting a replacement dwelling. These services and benefits are in addition to compensation received by the property owner for the acquisition of real property and property rights.

As with two previous processes, each task in the relocation process carries with it a unique set of decisions which must be made. For example, the R/W Agent must decide which data from the local real estate market to use to determine the dollar amount of the relocation entitlement. Does a replacement dwelling meet the Federal guidelines for being decent, safe and sanitary (DSS)?

The RW Agent determines relocation benefit eligibility based upon the appraisal, length of occupancy, available housing, type of business and extensive interviews with the relocatee.

The RW Agent continuously updates knowledge of residential, commercial, and industrial real estate markets, along with Federal, State, and local codes.

Information must be quickly assimilated. This information can range from complex business operations to senior citizens special needs for their moving alternatives, bids, contract documentation and payment scheduling.

- C. Extract from the appraisal report pertinent descriptive data to be utilized as a basis for determining what will constitute comparable housing.
- D. Collect rental/for sale information from Realtors, classified newspaper ads, and field search and analyze it for decent, safe and sanitary comparable dwellings. If necessary, apply "carve-out" procedures.

- G. Calculate probable entitlement and prepare the Statement of Probable Entitlement and other necessary paperwork prior to meeting with the relocatee.
- H. Meet with the relocatee in person. Provide the 90-Day Letter to relocatee along with the Statement of Probable Entitlement and Relocation Brochure. Explain the entire relocation program as it applies to residential occupants. Explanation includes the 90-day letter, probable entitlement, moving options, eligible expenses, criteria for replacement housing, decent, safe and sanitary standards, time of payments, possibility of continuation of current residence beyond 90 days, appeal procedures. Through explanation, empathetic listening, and persuasion, assure the relocatee that the relocation entitlement is fair and the RW Agent will be of assistance. Establishing rapport and a co-operative, understanding relationship with relocatees is of primary importance, as moving is rated as one of life's most stressful occurrences.
- I. Interview relocatee to determine the relocatee's needs, desires, and any problems related to the move.
- J. Present alternatives and solutions for areas of concern which are readily resolvable. By this process, determine which problems require further research for resolution.
- K. Schedule subsequent appointment with relocatee.
- L. Summarize interview in personal diary for official record.

- M. Proceed with problem resolutions. Define the problem; generate possible solutions; select appropriate resources for solutions, extract and evaluate relevant information from those resources, select most appropriate solution, explain solution to relocatee and others, as necessary, and assist the relocatee in following a logical course of action. Types of problems range from things such as special needs in the replacement dwelling to social and financial problems which require contact with social service agencies, State, Federal, City, County, utilities, school systems, real estate agents, mortgage brokers, escrow officers, landlords. Every effort is made to minimize the stress and adverse impact associated with moving.
- N. If necessary, accompany and assist the relocatee on the inspection of comparable replacement dwellings.
- O. Explore, interpret, and apply the rules and regulations of the relocation program to accommodate the needs and preferences of the relocatee.
- P. Determine the effect of the selection of the actual replacement dwelling on the eligibility for payment of the relocation allowance and advise the relocatee accordingly.

- R. Gather and evaluate supporting data for calculation of replacement housing payments, increased interest, and incidental expenses, as appropriate.
- S. Provide guidance to the relocatee in the selection of a moving option. Review in detail the moving options, i.e. State-selected commercial mover, relocatee-selected commercial mover, actual expense option, self-move, or a move based upon the fixed rate schedule. Discuss the ramifications and complexities of each option with the individual so that an informed decision can be made.
- T. If a commercial move is selected, obtain estimates from the movers and prepare a contract. Oversee and monitor the move to assure only eligible personalty is moved and the move is accomplished in a timely manner.
- U. If a self-move is selected, monitor to avoid development of potential problems.
- V. Collect supporting documents and submit payments for replacement housing and moving expenses. All payments are subject to state and federal audits.

2. Business Relocation Assignments (commercial and Industrial) including utility operations, junkyards, billboards and wrecking yards, farms and ranches and non-profit organizations (churches, schools, hospitals correctional facilities and cemeteries):

- C. Extract, from the appraisal report, information regarding improvements that have been acquired so as to eliminate them from consideration in determining moving expenses.
- D. Conduct and/or review and approve the compilation of a certified personal property inventory.
- E. Interview the displacee to identify in detail displacee's needs, desires and problems.
- F. Summarize the interview in a relocation diary for the official record.

- H. If a commercial move is selected, obtain estimates, prepare the contract, plan the move with the mover, oversee and monitor the move. If the lower of two bids is the option selected, obtain two acceptable moving estimates based on the inventory. Compare the bids and assess whether the difference between them warrants soliciting a third. Select the low bid and advise the displacee of the amount of compensation to be paid for the move.
- I. If a value finding option is selected, a second relocation agent, not associated with the displacee, evaluates the complexity and time required for the move and formulates a moving cost estimate under a maximum amount option. Present that R/W Agent's opinion to the displacee and explain other moving options available. Assist the displacee in choosing a moving option. If value finding is still the option of choice, the displacee accomplishes the move with minimal R/W Agent monitoring.
- J. Collect supporting documents and submit payment of moving expenses. ALL payments are subject to State and Federal audits.
- K. Determine what expenses (e.g., improvements to the property, advertisement, impact fees, increased operating costs) are necessary and eligible as re-establishment expenses, not to exceed $10,000.00. Inspect the replacement property, obtain cost estimates, discuss the issues with the displacee, verify previous two years expenses and income and project next two years to assess whether increased operating costs will exist. Based on decisions of displacee and program guidelines, determine eligibility for reimbursement.
- L. If displacee decides not to relocate some personal property, verify that a bona fide attempt has been made to sell the items. Determine eligibility for direct loss payment and compute amount of payment based on procedures contained in the manual.
- M. Determine eligibility for actual reasonable search expenses.
- N. Determine eligibility for in-lieu business payment, within a permitted range, utilizing IRS tax returns and certified financial statements.

A. Multi-use Leasing/Licensing Program

Multi-Use Leasing/licensing program (The purpose and function of this duty is to implement and maintain a program to lease or license NDOT right-of-way to adjoining property owners, depending upon the Department's ownership interest. This generates revenue to the Department, lowers the Department's maintenance costs and promotes appropriate development of highway frontage.)

1. Multi-Use Leases: Leasing of a portion of highway right-of-way to the abutting owners where the State has a fee interest in the right-of-way.
2. Multi-Use Licenses: Facilitating the joint use of property within the right-of-way when the State has an easement interest only. (With the exception of the State's interest in the right-of-way, the processing and administration of Multi-Use Leases and Licenses are essentially the same.)
3. Upon contact by the adjoining property owner, the Right-of-Way Agent solicits a formal letter of request which must contain, among other things, various maps, statement of proposed use, vesting documents, proposed improvements, right-of-way and survey data and approvals from local jurisdictions.
4. At the time of receipt of the letter of request, the Right-of-Way Agent sets up a file and submits duplicates to the Right-of-Way Engineering Section for a title search, verification of right-of-way dimensions, vesting documents and at the appropriate time, preparation of the parcel map.
5. After notification by Right-of-Way Engineering of the State's ownership interest in the right-of-way, and after reviewing the title information, the Right-of-Way Agent prepares the lease or license.
6. When a lease is required, an appraisal or other appropriate valuation technique must be performed to establish a fair market rental value.
7. The Right-of-Way Agent must obtain the review and recommendation of the appropriate NDOT divisions, District Engineer and the Federal Highway Administration.
8. The Right-of-Way Agent must obtain the notarized signature of the lessee/licensee and forward the package to the Supervisory Right-of-Way Agent for submittal to the Staff Specialist for complete execution. A billing request is completed and submitted with the package setting forth the terms and frequency of the billing for the amount the lessee is to pay the State annually and, in the case of a license, the one-time fee.
9. The Right-of-Way Agent must ensure that the payment and the necessary insurance documentation have been received from the lessee/licensee so the lease/license can be recorded in the county in which the parcel is situated.
10. Upon recordation, the Right-of-Way Agent must ensure that the lessee/licensee receives a certified copy of the lease/license.

People are frequently apprehensive, suspicious, skeptical, uncooperative, occasionally hostile, misinformed or unreceptive. Their level of education, knowledge and communication skills vary. Rarely do we meet someone who is informed, understanding and cooperative.

13. Describe any unusual physical demands or working conditions required in this job, i.e., requires frequent lifting or moving of office furniture, frequent exposure to hazardous materials, etc.

This position typically requires sitting at a desk or table with intermittent standing and walking. There is occasional lifting of light objects (less than 25 pounds), bending and crouching. Work requires field reviews adjacent to highways that are dangerous, noisy and necessitates exposure to dust, dirt and grease, etc. This also includes exposure to cold and inclement weather. When monitoring properties being demolished, there is occasional exposure to asbestos and other hazardous materials that require the use of protective clothing, i.e. masks, goggles, gloves and vests. Travel by car and airplane is required. Driving long hours to various parts of the State is demanding and is often accomplished in one day to save taxpayer dollars. The need to distinguish between shades of colors is required.

14. Provide any additional information about the job which you consider to be important to the classification, but which has not been previously mentioned.

Highway projects are often undertaken to enhance public safety. Anything we do or fail to do that delays a project could place the public at risk. Errors during the valuation process may create inappropriately high or low value determinations for properties being acquired, thus, creating a hostile atmosphere between the State and individuals involved in acquisition, poor public relations and loss of confidence in the acquisition process, the Right-of-Way Division and the State as a whole. Errors of that nature could generate condemnation actions, inverse condemnation actions resulting in excessive litigation costs, inappropriate awards and additional financial burdens to the taxpayer. Errors during the valuation or negotiation process could result in denial of Constitutional Rights. Errors during the relocation process could result in denial of entitlements under the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act of 1970, as amended. This could result in the loss of Federal funds.

Errors in the Utility/Railroad adjustments/relocation could cause train derailment, interference with Interstate commerce and disruption of major cross-country fiber optics communication lines thus national security. Errors could also expose construction workers and field personnel to hazardous working conditions, threats to life (accidental gas explosions for unidentified lines, lines not located), and costly delays in construction contracts where utilities and railroads are not adjusted in a timely manner. Also, major equipment may sit idle or NDOT's contractor may be forced to re-schedule, thus interfering with subsequent or simultaneous projects.

Examples of typical problems/sensitive issues that must be addressed:

Acquiring property or property rights from unwilling owners.
Relocating persons already upset with the acquisition process or in ill health.
Faithfully represent the property owner's position while maintaining effective working RELATIONSHIPS with colleagues and management.

Examples of change in procedure without someone else's approval:

Major items in right-of-way acquisition are governed by multiple statutes, policies, Federal and State laws, as such cannot be changed. Changes can be made in a variety of situations, i.e., changes in the terms and conditions of a Public Highway Agreement, with adequate justification; on-site modification of a demolition contract, changes to value estimates and appraisals.

James Reynolds, Compliance/Audit Investigator III, 11.363, grade 35
Appeal of the Division of Human Resource Management's decision to not reclassify Mr. Reynolds to Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator

Personnel Commission March 10, 2017

Prepared by the Department of Administration
Division of Human Resource Management

APPEAL SUMMARY

Mr. Reynolds, a Compliance/Audit Investigator III with the State of Nevada, Department of Employment, Training & Rehabilitation, is appealing the Division of Human Resource Management's decision to not reclassify the position from a Compliance/Audit Investigator III, 11.363, grade 35 to a Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator, 11.360, grade 37.

BASIS FOR APPEAL

Mr. Reynolds' appeal is based on the belief that a preponderance of his duties are within the higher level classification to include performing work on a Statewide basis, directly supervising the investigative activities of subordinate staff, and making sure the office is properly staffed.

DIVISION OF HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT'S RECOMMENDATION

The Division of Human Resource Management's analysis concluded that there has been no significant change in duties and responsibilities warranting reclassification, the position does not meet the class concept of a Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator and the appellant's duties are consistent with the Compliance/Audit Investigator III level.

The current duties and responsibilities of the position are to act as a leadworker by training and coordinating the work of lower level Compliance/Audit Investigators; review completed blocked claims for compliance; resolve difficult in-state and out-of-state blocked claims; complete difficult collections and legal actions; review determination letters prepared by lower level investigators for compliance; and provide information, guidance and assistance to the general public, businesses, other State agencies and interested stakeholders.

These duties are consistent with the class concepts of the Compliance/Audit Investigator III, which state, in part, "act as a leadworker on a regular reoccurring basis and perform specialized investigative/audit functions dealing with complex and/or multiple program violations and/or criminal activity; make determinations on the level and intent of investigations; act as a leadworker by providing training or coordinating the work of Compliance/Audit Investigator II's or I's while conducting investigative and/or audit functions; review final investigative or audit reports for accuracy, clarity, format and to ensure policy and procedure was followed, and provide assistance to lower level investigators regarding case preparation and presentation in a court of law; recommend or develop new and/or revised policy, procedure and proposed legislation to aid in the compliance and control of program areas."

As the duties performed are consistent with the class concepts, the Compliance/Audit Investigator III remains appropriate for the preponderant duties of the position.

RE: Mr. James Reynolds – NDP-19

Dear Mr. Long:

Please allow this letter to act as an appeal pursuant to Nevada Administrative Code (NAC) 284.152(4), of the determination letter dated December 13, 2016 (referred to hereinafter as "determination letter") regarding the above referenced employee.

Please be advised that Mr. Reynolds is in the process of seeking a "Resolution Conference" (it was previously set, then taken off calendar and is pending rescheduling) regarding the desk audit conducted relating to this matter. However, in an abundance of caution, and to ensure Mr. Reynolds is complying with the statutory requirements, he is also providing this written appeal to the determination letter.

First, allow me to thank you for your comprehensive letter addressing my November 10, 2016 letter. That being said, there continue to be disagreements regarding key points.

You incorrectly stated that I was asserting in my prior letter that,

'Preponderance', 'natural growth' or 'increase in workload' precludes reclassification and would mean essentially, that unless the increased duties or workload were part of some sudden and unforeseen event, no employee could ever seek reclassification. The determination letter makes no assertion as to 'sudden and unforeseen events', NAC 284.126(1)(a) does not mention or infer 'sudden and unforeseen events' and NAC 284.126(2) specifically identifies that reclassification of positions can occur as a result of gradual accumulation of duties and responsibilities which results in significant change.

It is not I who is positing that a “gradual accumulation of duties and responsibilities” cannot result in a re-classification. Rather it was Ms. Heather A. Dapice, in her first determination letter, dated October 13, 2016, (referred to herein after as “first determination letter”) who stated that,

[i]n applying the definition, change that is the result of natural growth or an increase in workload, common to most positions in State service, is not considered to fall within the meaning of significant change, nor is the addition of duties that are similar nature or complexity to current or previously performed responsibilities. (See enclosure, letter from Ms. Heather A. Dapice, dated October 13, 2016).

You seem to agree with my point that gradual increases can still result in a re-classification, but then later state that if the State were to essentially double an employee’s work load, that would not warrant re-classification.

For example, Compliance/Audit Investigators conduct audits on a periodic basis by either randomly selecting individual firms or businesses or as required by State law. If State law stated that 10% of businesses were to be audited every year and that changed to 20%, there is no change in the duty itself just the frequency of the audits, which increases the workload. There is no change in the duty itself, significant change has not occurred the position would not for reclassification.

Regardless, although Mr. Reynolds’s workload has increased as he is taking on significant additional duties, it is not just the work load, but also the duties outside the scope of the current classification of Audit/Investigator 35, which is at issue here. A preponderance of Mr. Reynolds duties are within the higher level classification of grade 37 and a reclassification is warranted. I understand your explanation of the term preponderance, but I would again refer to the definition I cited in my prior letter, “preponderance’ is defined as, ‘[s]uperiority in weight, importance or influence.’ See Blacks Law Dictionary, 2nd Pocket Ed., (2001) at pg. 547.”

In particular, Mr. Reynolds was mandated to perform work on a statewide basis, directly supervise the investigative activities of nine subordinate investigators. Additionally, Mr. Reynolds is responsible for their training needs and personal evaluations, and making sure the office is properly staffed. Again, this is not the position Mr. Reynolds assumed in 2009 when forced to take this job as to was the only job offered to him off of the re-employment list – a list he was a member because of prior budget cuts.

I believe that you are asserting that because Mr. Reynolds himself has a supervisor who also performs these duties, Mr. Reynolds is not performing them. While Mr. Reynolds has tremendous respect for his supervisor, because he is reporting to his supervisor does not preclude Mr. Reynolds from himself performing supervisory duties. Mr. Reynolds is performing the duties that would qualify him for “supervisor” under the code.

There is a lot of discussion in both the most recent determination letter, as well as the first determination letter, regarding what the code really means. Preponderance means “[s]uperiority in weight, importance or influence.” Id. It is not the 50% mark you state in your letter. If that were the case then the code would state “50%” rather than use the term “preponderance” which allows for both a greater than half calculation, but also allows for preponderance to be something more than just a mathematical calculation and address “importance” or “influence.” Although, Mr. Reynolds asserts he has meet the 50% mark regardless, but even if that were not the case, that is not the end of the inquiry when using the term preponderance.

To determine legislative intent, this court first looks at the plain language of a statute. Salas v. Allstate Rent-A-Car, Inc., 116 Nev. 1165, 1168, 14 P.3d 511, 513-14 (2000). We only look beyond the plain language if it is ambiguous or silent on the issue in question. Id. We read statutes within a statutory scheme harmoniously with one another to avoid an unreasonable or absurd result. Allstate Ins. Co. v. Fackett, 125 Nev. 132, 138, 206 P.3d 572, 576 (2009)(citing to Torrealba v. Kesmetis, 124 Nev. 95, —, 178 P.3d 716, 721 (2008)).

Conclusion: The preponderance of duties performed by Mr. Reynolds are that of a Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator, 11.306, grade 37. Further, Mr. Reynolds performed as such prior to the removal of the “supervisor” description in the grade 35 description which occurred in 2010.

Please note, I have enclosed the prior appear letter of November 10, 2016 with this correspondence and I incorporate the contents and legal positions articulated in the letter, in this letter and as a part of this appeal as well.

Mr. Reynolds is submitting this written appeal and pursuing a Resolution Conference, however, Mr. Reynolds also asserts that he is entitled to a hearing on this matter.

Very truly yours,

RE: Mr. James Reynolds – NPD-19

Dear Ms. Murphy:

I have received your letter of appeal regarding the results of the classification study recently conducted by the Department of Administration, Division of Human Resource Management (DHRM), Compensation, Classification and Recruitment (CCR) section. You are appealing the request of Mr. James Reynolds to re-classify his position from Compliance/Audit Investigator III, 11.363, grade 35 to Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator, 11.360, grade 37.

My responsibility in the classification appeal process is to objectively review the classification determination for validity and adherence to accepted classification principles and to assess the use of appropriate methodology. I must consider the points in the original determination with which you disagree and the rationale for this disagreement. My review of this appeal took into consideration all the information gathered during the classification study including the current NPD-19 upon which the determination was made; information gathered during the initial audit; a review of the class specifications for the Compliance/Audit Investigator Series, and a review of the appeal information submitted.

I will address your concerns as I understand them.

- You indicate that a preponderance of Mr. Reynolds duties are within the higher level classification of grade 37 and a reclassification is warranted. In particular, he was mandated to perform work on a statewide basis, directly supervise the investigative activities of nine subordinate investigators, has responsibility for their training needs and personnel evaluations, makes sure the office is properly staffed and his State ID identifies him as Chief Investigator. In addition, you indicate that the standard where "natural growth" or "increase in workload" precludes reclassification and would mean essentially that unless the increased duties or workload were part of some sudden and unforeseen event, no employee could ever seek reclassification and that would render the code that enables an employee to determine whether they were entitled to reclassification as completely meaningless and inapplicable. You also state that in layman's terms preponderance means generally more than half, not that it be more than half as part of a sudden or unexpected event, as the determination letter attempts to assert.

With regards to performing work on a statewide basis; this statement does not encompass the full duty as outlined in the class concept for the Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator, which states, in part, that "incumbents are responsible for the administration of investigative activities on a statewide basis. They establish and direct investigative activities based on department goals and objectives; review and evaluate operational efficiency and compliance with program policy and procedure...." This responsibility belongs to the Audit Supervisor, 7.145, grade 37 who functions as the Regional Audit Manager within the Employment Security Division of the Department of Employment, Training and Rehabilitation (DETR), who in turn performs this duty under general direction of the Audit Manager, 7.139, grade 38, for DETR. Mr. Reynolds, under the limited supervision of the Audit Supervisor, assists in coordinating investigative activities such as making determinations on the level and intent of investigations and coordinating the work of Compliance/Audit Investigator II's and I's. These duties are clearly defined in the class concept for the Compliance/Audit Investigator III.

As to directly supervising investigative activities of nine subordinate investigators, having responsibility for their training needs and personnel evaluations and making sure the office is properly staffed; this position does not currently function in the capacity of a supervisor. A supervisory position, as outlined in NAC 284.498(5)(b), means a position which is held by an employee who: 1) formally evaluates staff; 2) is involved in the hiring and firing of subordinate staff; and 3) establishes policies which affect the performance or behavior of subordinate staff. Mr. Reynolds does not currently meet this definition; however, he does act as a leadworker by providing training, coordinating the work of lower level Compliance/Audit Investigators while conducting investigative and/or audit functions, reviewing final investigative audit reports for accuracy, clarity, format, and to ensure policy and procedure was followed and providing assistance to lower level investigators regarding case preparation and presentation in a court of law. These duties are also clearly defined in the class concept for the Compliance/Audit Investigator III. Also, while Mr. Reynolds makes recommendations and gives input with respect to performance evaluations, leave requests, and staffing items, the responsibility for conducting performance evaluations, preparing and approving work schedules, approving leave, etc., is that of the Audit Supervisor.

Also, you indicate that since Mr. Reynolds State ID identifies him as a Chief Investigator this is a point that warrants reclassification. The job titles as listed on these identification cards are unofficial titles and have no bearing and play no part in the classification process itself.

Furthermore, I am unclear as to how you determined that the standard where "preponderance", "natural growth" or "increase in workload" precludes reclassification and would mean essentially, that unless the increased duties or workload were part of some sudden and unforeseen event, no employee could ever seek reclassification. The determination letter makes no assertions as to "sudden and unforeseen events", NAC 284.126(1)(a) does not mention or infer "sudden and unforeseen events" and NAC 284.126(2) specifically identifies that reclassification of positions can occur as a result of gradual accumulation of duties and responsibilities which results in significant change.

With regards to the clarification of "natural growth" in classification methodology; "natural growth" is small incremental changes to duties and responsibilities that can occur through regulation changes, changes in operational procedures, process changes, technology changes, etc., that occur over time and do not affect the complexity of work assigned or the basic function of the position. For example, Compliance/Audit Investigators conduct audits on a periodic basis by either randomly selecting individual firms or business or as required by State law. If State law stated that 10% of businesses were to be audited every year and that changed to 20%, there is no change in the duty itself just the frequency of the audits, which increases the workload. Since there is no change in the duty itself, significant change has not occurred and the position would not warrant reclassification.

With respect to preponderance in the reclassification process, the agency and/or incumbent identifies a weight to a duty by assigning a percentage of time to that duty, as such, we can quantify with reasonable certainty the percentage of time an individual is performing a particular duty. For example, if a position performs duties at the Administrative Assistant II level 70% of the time and performs higher level duties of an Administrative Assistant III 30% of the time, they will be classified at the Administrative Assistant II level as they are the preponderant duties.

These clarifications neither change the intent nor do they add additional requirements in order to be re-classified; there still must be significant change in the duties and responsibilities that are outside the scope for the class as described in the class specification, is not part of the scope of responsibility of the position, and results in the preponderance of duties and responsibilities being allocated to a different class.

- You reference the determination letter statement "In reviewing the current duties and responsibilities of the position, to the duties and responsibilities of the position when it was initially classified, the only significant difference is the removal of 'supervision' from the position on 03-05-2015," and state that the change and removal of the term "supervisor" has to do with the internal manner in which Mr. Reynolds' job was defined and that the removal of supervision does not change the preponderance of duties being within the higher grade 37.

As previously stated, a position may be re-classified when significant change in the duties and responsibilities has occurred. In comparing the duties and responsibilities of the position when it was classified at the Compliance/Audit Investigator III to the duties and responsibilities described in the most recent NPD-19, there has been no change other than the removal of supervision. As such, reclassification to the Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator is not warranted as significant change has not occurred.

You indicate that the higher level duties performed are: performing work on a statewide basis; directly supervising the investigative activities of nine subordinate investigators; responsibility for the training needs of the investigators, personnel evaluations and making sure the office properly staffed. As previously stated, Mr. Reynolds is not responsible for the administration of investigative activities on a statewide basis, does not directly supervise staff, does not perform personnel evaluations and does not authorize staffing levels, these tasks are under the purview of the Audit Supervisor and Audit Manager.

Mr. Reynolds has responsibility for making determinations on the level and intent of investigations; acting as a leadworker by providing training or coordinating the work of Compliance/Audit Investigator II's and I's while conducting investigative and/or audit functions; reviewing final investigative or audit reports for accuracy, clarity, format and to ensure policy and procedure was followed; and providing assistance to lower level investigators regarding case preparation and presentation in a court of law. These duties are clearly defined in the class concept for the Compliance/Audit Investigator III.

In order to be classified to the Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator level, Mr. Reynolds must perform the duties and responsibilities ascribed to this level. Mr. Reynolds is not responsible for the duties described in the class concept, which include the following: administration of investigative activities on a statewide basis; establish and direct investigative activities based on department goals and objectives; review and evaluate operational efficiency and compliance with program policy and procedure; directly supervise a staff of subordinate Compliance/Audit Investigators; assist in the planning and development of the program budget, internal policy and procedure and the implementation or introduction of State legislation; review and approve training programs; prepare and approve work schedules which involved assigning days off, duty hours or compensatory leave; allocate investigators to shifts based on assessed needs; maintain reporting procedures and review status reports to determine achievement of objectives and compliance with applicable laws and regulations; oversee the use and repair of property and equipment; identify program needs, research and develop policy and procedures, and develop written proposals for presentation to management; submit requests for procedural changes in order to improve compliance, audit and enforcement activities to the agency head. While Mr. Reynolds may assist, the responsibility for the performance of the above duties and the authority for the program itself resides with the Audit Supervisor and Audit Manager.

- Lastly, Mr. Reynolds contends that while NAC 284.206 was suspended, and has yet to be reinstated, he disagrees with the determination that he would be unable to meet the requirements set forth in this statute and asserts he has been performing a preponderance of the duties of the higher grade 37 classification.

NAC 284.206(2)(a) states "an employee may receive a special adjustment to pay equivalent to 5 percent of the employee's base rate of pay during any period in which the employee works out of his or her class on a continuing basis and performs essentially all the duties and responsibilities of a position classified at a higher grade." As Mr. Reynolds did not perform essentially all of the duties and responsibilities ascribed to the Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator, he would not meet this requirement.

NAC 284.206(3)(c) states "the employee is supervising other employees of the same or a higher grade if the supervision is (1) not part of the supervision or management responsibilities for a program that is provided for in the class specification; and (2) includes, without limitation, selection, work assignment, training, work review, reports on performance and discipline of employees." Since Mr. Reynolds did not supervise staff at the same or higher grade, he would not meet this requirement.

Upon review and analysis, and considering all information provided and subsequently gathered, I find that the Compliance/Audit Investigator III is the correct classification for the position.

Thank you for the cooperation shown during the course of this study. If you wish to appeal this determination to the Personnel Commission, you must do so within 30 days after receipt of this decision (NAC 284.152).

Sincerely,

Peter Long

RE: Mr. James Reynolds – NDP-19

Dear Mr. Long:

Please allow this letter to act as an appeal pursuant to Nevada Administrative Code (NAC) 284.152, of the determination letter authored by Ms. Heather Dapice (“determination letter”) regarding the above referenced employee.

Please be advised that Mr. Reynolds is in the process of seeking a “Resolution Conference” (it was previously set, then taken off calendar and is pending rescheduling) regarding the desk audit conducted relating to this matter. Both myself and my client have been in contact with Ms. Denise Woo-Seymour regarding same. It is my understanding that the Resolution Conference ought to be exhausted prior to proceeding with this written appeal of the determination letter, in regards to his desk audit. However, in an abundance of caution, and to ensure Mr. Reynolds is complying with the statutory requirements, he is also providing this written appeal.

That being said, the Resolution Conference regarding the desk audit could be instructive in this matter, requiring that the determination on this appeal be stayed pending the outcome of the Resolution Conference. Regardless of the actual mechanics, the purpose is to provide all parties with the appropriate notice and to comply with the timelines required by statute. I have copied your assistance Ms. Ipolito on this matter, and have also sent under separate cover, via email and hardcopy, a request to reconvene the Resolution Conference.

(a) Address the points outlined in the Division of Human Resource Management’s recommendation regarding the proper classification for the position in question:

(a)(1) According to the determination letter issued, the State’ position is that a preponderance of Mr. Reynolds’s duties still fall within the ambit of Compliance/Audit Investigator III, 11.363, grade 35; therefore, a re-classification to grade 37 is not warranted, per the standard outlined in NAC 284.126(1)(b). (See pg. 1 determination letter).

(a)(2) According to the determination letter “change that is the result of natural growth or an increase in workload, common to most positions in State service, is not considered to fall within the meaning of significant change, nor is the addition of duties that are similar in nature of complexity to current or previously performed responsibilities.” (See pg. 1-2 determination letter).

(a)(3) “In reviewing the current duties and responsibilities of the position, to the duties and responsibilities of the position when it was initially classified, the only significant difference is the removal of ‘supervision’ from the position on 03-05-2015.” (See pg. 3 determination letter).

(a)(4) The removal of the term “supervisor” from the duties description of Compliance/Audit Investigator III, 11.363, grade 35 does not impact the actual duties assigned to a grade 35 Audit Investigator.

(a)(5) “While direct supervision of a staff or subordinate Compliance/Audit Investigator is detailed, it is not a preponderant duty and would not, in and of itself, justify reclassification to the higher level.” (See pg. 4 determination letter).

(a)(6) Mr. Reynolds is not eligible for a special adjustment in pay, although per NAC 284.206, even if Mr. Reynolds had met the standards for an adjustment in pay, NAC 284.206 was suspended in 2010 and has not been rescinded. (See pg. 4 determination letter).

(b) Indicate the points with which the appellant disagrees and express the reasons for the disagreement:

(b)(1) A preponderance of Mr. Reynolds duties are within the higher level classification of grade 37 and a reclassification is warranted. In particular, Mr. Reynolds was mandated to perform work on a statewide basis, directly supervise the investigative activities of nine subordinate investigators. Additionally, Mr. Reynolds is responsible for their training needs and personal evaluations, and making sure the office is properly staffed. Mr. Reynolds State ID even identifies him as Chief Investigator, however, this is not the position Mr. Reynolds assumed in 2009 when forced to take this job as to was the only job offered to him off of the re-employment list – a list he was a member because of prior budget cuts. Notably, there is a pending grievance regarding the payment matter, DETR has notified Mr. Reynolds regarding an alleged overpayment based upon the State’s error in his reemployment. DETR has proposed that Mr. Reynolds agree to repay said amounts. This is wholly inappropriate, although it is a separate matter.

(b)(2) The additional requirements which the determination letter claims bars Mr. Reynolds request for re-classification under NAC 284.126(b) are improper and must be stricken. This appears to be a way to avoid the fact that as a result of budget cuts issued by the State in earlier years Mr. Reynolds was forced to assume duties on a statewide basis, a preponderance of his duties.

The code is plainly worded that where a “preponderance” of duties fall within the higher grade, reclassification is warranted. “Preponderance” is defined as, “[s]uperiority in weight, importance or influence.” See Blacks Law Dictionary, 2nd Pocket Ed., (2001) at pg. 547. The above quoted language of the determination letter which purports to further explain the application of the statute and explain what “preponderance” means is not supported by the actual text of the code in question, and in fact in layman’s terms preponderance means generally more than half, not that it me more than half as part of a sudden or unexpected event, as the determination attempts to assert. In fact, the standard that where it is a “natural growth” or “increase in workload” precludes reclassification would mean essentially that unless the increased duties or workload were part of some sudden and unforeseen event, no employee could ever seek a reclassification. That would render the code that enables an employee to determine whether they are entitled to reclassification as completely meaningless and inapplicable. That is improper, unfair and a violation of due process.

To determine legislative intent, this court first looks at the plain language of a statute. Salas v. Allstate Rent-A-Car, Inc., 116 Nev. 1165, 1168, 14 P.3d 511, 513–14 (2000). We only look beyond the plain language if it is ambiguous or silent on the issue in question. Id. We read statutes within a statutory scheme harmoniously with one another to avoid an unreasonable or absurd result. Allstate Ins. Co. v. Fackett, 125 Nev. 132, 138, 206 P.3d 572, 576 (2009)(citing to Torrealba v. Kesmetis, 124 Nev. 95, —, 178 P.3d 716, 721 (2008)).

Although this is an administrative matter, the reading and interpretation of a code is still controlled by general legal concepts encapsulated in case law, i.e., plain language controls. Allstate, 125 Nev. at 138. The determination letter is attempting to include intent and additional requirements which are nowhere contained within the language of the code itself. Agreeably, an administrative agency should be provided deference in interpretation of statutes and an administrative agencies interpretation of its governing statute is persuasive, however an agency is not imbued with the power of re-writing statute or code. Nevada PERS v. Smith, 129 Nev. Adv. Op 65, *8, 310 P.3d 560, 565 (2013).

(b)(3) The change and removal of the term “supervisor” has to do with the internal manner in which Mr. Reynolds’s job was defined. Even allowing for the change and removal of the term “supervisor” from the job description, Mr. Reynolds’s job duties, by a preponderance, still fall within the higher grade of 37.

(b)(4) There is a difference between being a “team lead”, which the amended 2010 guidelines assign to a grade 35 Audit Investigator and being a Supervisor, and the statement that the removal of this specific duty, which is now under the guidelines of grade 37 is essentially meaningless is not meritorious. Either the written guidelines and descriptions of duties mean something or they do not. Mr. Reynolds’s position is that they do.

(b)(5) Mr. Reynolds does not dispute that his supervisory role alone would support reclassification, however, as discussed in section (b)(1), this alone is not the basis for Mr. Reynolds’s request for reclassification. There are additional duties which are included in the higher grade 37 position, which Mr. Reynolds has been forced to assume. These additional duties do constitute a preponderance of his duties and mandate reclassification - please see section (b)(1) supra.

(b)(6) Setting aside that this appears to be a moot point, given that NAC 284.206 was suspended in 2010 and has yet to be reinstated, Mr. Reynolds disagrees with the determination that he would not be able to meet the requirements under NAC 284.206. Mr. Reynolds asserts he has been performing a preponderance of the duties of the higher grade 37 classification, as detailed above at length.

Conclusion: The preponderance of duties performed by Mr. Reynolds are that of a Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator, 11.306, grade 37. Further, Mr. Reynolds performed as such prior to the removal of the “supervisor” description in the grade 35 description which occurred in 2010.

Mr. Reynolds is submitting this written appeal and pursuing a Resolution Conference, however, Mr. Reynolds also asserts that he is entitled to a hearing on this matter.

Very truly yours,

PATTI, SGRO & ROGER

RE: Mr. James Reynolds – NPD-19

Dear Ms. Murphy:

The Division of Human Resource Management has carefully reviewed the request to reclassify Mr. Reynolds' position from a Compliance/Audit Investigator III, 11.363, grade 35 to a Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator, 11.360, grade 37. The process of evaluating the position included an in-depth analysis of documents such as the NPD-19 submitted, both old and current class specifications, work performance standards, the original NPD-19 that established the position effective 07-17-2003, the desk audit completed on 10-11-2016, and an interview with Supervising Auditor I Arturo Martinez.

Based on the data collected in the review, we have concluded that the level of responsibility and scope of duties assigned to Mr. Reynolds correctly align with the Compliance/Audit Investigator III, 11.363, grade 35.

Per regulation, a position may be reclassified when significant change in the duties and responsibilities being performed has occurred. NAC 284.126, 1(b) defines significant change as "a change in duties and responsibilities assigned to a position in a class that:

- 1) Is outside the scope of the class as described by the class specification;
- 2) Is not part of the scope of responsibility of the position; and
- 3) Results in the preponderance of duties and responsibilities being allocated to a different class."

In short, significant change means that the duties assigned to a position have changed to such a degree that the current class concept no longer fairly describes the preponderance of responsibilities. In applying the definition, change that is the result of natural growth or an increase in workload, common to most positions in State service, is not considered to fall within the meaning of significant change, nor is the addition of duties that are similar in nature or complexity to current or previously performed responsibilities. The use of new technologies and methods to carry out the same or similar duties also would not constitute significant change.

Positions may perform some higher-level duties; however, this does not provide the basis for reclassification to the higher level. In order to be reclassified from one level in a series to a higher level, a position must spend the preponderance of time performing higher-level duties.

In reviewing the current duties and responsibilities of the position, to the duties and responsibilities of the position when it was initially classified, the only significant difference is the removal of "supervision" from the position on 03-05-2015.

The class concept for the Compliance/Audit Investigator III, 11.363, grade 35, dated 10-19-1990, states the following:

"Performs the full range of duties in the series concept, in addition, under limited direction of the Chief Investigator, Program Administrator or designee, acts as a lead worker on a regular reoccurring basis and performs specialized investigative/audit functions dealing with complex and/or multiple program violations and/or criminal activity. Requires an extensive knowledge of state and federal laws, case law, program regulations, industry standards, concepts and practices to conduct detailed investigations and audits. Final reports and recommendations are reviewed and approved by the Chief Investigator or Program Administrator.

This is the lead worker/advanced journey level in the class series and is distinguished from the lower level investigators by making determinations on the level and intent of investigations, and acting as a lead worker by providing training, supervision, or coordinating the work of Investigator II's and I's while conducting investigative and/or audit functions. May review final investigative or audit reports for accuracy, clarity, format, and to insure policy and procedure is followed. May provide assistance to lower level investigators regarding case preparation and presentation in a court of law. The Investigator III's utilize their extensive knowledge of industry standards and case history to recommend or develop new and/or revised policy, procedure and proposed legislation to aid in the compliance and control of program areas."

The NPD-19 classifying the position, currently held by Mr. Reynolds, established duties and responsibilities that provided for supervision of Compliance/Audit Investigator II's to include evaluating performance. A supervisory position, as outlined in NAC 284.498(5)(b), means a position which is held by an employee who: 1) formally evaluates staff; 2) is involved in the hiring and firing of subordinate staff; and 3) establishes policies which affect the performance or behavior of subordinate staff. As such, Mr. Reynolds was working within the duties and responsibilities of a Compliance/Audit Investigator III when he was appointed to the position on 02-09-2009.

In 12-10-2010, the Personnel Commission approved amended class specifications which removed the language for supervision from the concept for the Compliance/Audit Investigator III; however, removal of "supervision" did not affect the grade of the position and therefore it would not be considered grade determining for this series. The current class concept for the Compliance/Audit Investigator III, 11.363, grade 35, states the following:

"Under limited supervision, incumbents act as a leadworker on a regular reoccurring basis and perform specialized investigative/audit functions dealing with complex and/or multiple program violations and/or criminal activity. Extensive knowledge of State and/or federal laws, case law, program regulations, industry standards, concepts and practices is required to conduct detailed investigations and audits. Final reports and recommendations are reviewed and approved by the Chief Investigator or Program Administrator.

This level in the class is distinguished from the lower level by responsibility for making determinations on the level and intent of investigations, and acting as a leadworker by providing training or coordinating the work of Compliance/Audit Investigator II's and I's while conducting investigative and/or audit functions. Incumbents review final investigative or audit reports for accuracy, clarity, format and to ensure policy and procedure was followed, and provide assistance to lower level investigators regarding case preparation and presentation in a court of law. Compliance/Audit Investigator III's recommend or develop new and/or revised policy, procedure and proposed legislation to aid in the compliance and control of program areas."

Supervision could have been removed from Mr. Reynolds' position when the amended class specifications were approved on 12-10-2010; however, neither the agency nor Mr. Reynolds submitted an NPD-19 to evaluate his position as a result of this change.

The next step of the process was to determine if Mr. Reynolds was functioning as a Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator between 12-10-2010 and 03-05-2015.

The current class concept for the Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator, states the following:

"Under general direction, incumbents are responsible for the administration of investigative activities on a statewide basis. They establish and direct investigative activities based on department goals and objectives; review and evaluate operational efficiency and compliance with program policy and procedures; and directly supervise a staff of subordinate Compliance/Audit Investigators performing Medicaid, securities, real estate, mortgage lending, insurance, prevailing wage or workers' compensation investigations and audits. Incumbents assist in the planning and development of the program budget, internal policy and procedure, and the implementation or introduction of State legislation. In addition, they work directly with the Program Administrator, agency heads, business representatives, violators, the complainant and judicial system regarding complaint resolution, regaining compliance, pursuing criminal prosecution, imposing administrative sanctions or penalties or addressing a hearings board or commission.

Oversee the training of staff based on projected or identified needs in the area of investigations, audit, inspection, community relations, program rules and regulations and related laws; review and approve training programs to ensure compliance with program goals and objectives.

Prepare and approve work schedules which involves assigning days off, duty hours or compensatory leave; allocate investigators to shifts based on assessed needs; maintain reporting procedures and review status reports to determine achievement of objectives and compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

Oversee the use and repair of property and equipment by inspecting and ascertaining repairs or replacement; analyze equipment requests, determine needs and prepare requests or recommendations.

Identify program needs, research and develop policy and procedures, and develop written proposals for presentation to management; submit requests for procedural changes in order to improve compliance, audit and enforcement activities to the agency head."

In comparing the duties and responsibilities of the position when it was classified to its current duties and responsibilities, it does not appear that Mr. Reynolds has ever functioned in the capacity of a Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator. While direct supervision of a staff of subordinate Compliance/Audit Investigators is detailed, it is not a preponderant duty and would not, in and of itself, justify reclassification to the higher level. It should also be noted that this position reports to a Supervising Auditor I, who reports to a Supervising Auditor II who in turn reports to an Employment Security Division Manager IV; as such, this position would not be considered a Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator as it does not have responsibility for the administration of investigative activities on a statewide basis.

In order for Mr. Reynolds to have been eligible for a special adjustment to pay, he would have had to have met one of two requirements detailed in NAC 284.206. NAC 284.206(2)(a) states "an employee may receive a special adjustment to pay equivalent to 5 percent of the employee's base rate of pay during any period in which the employee works out of his or her class on a continuing basis and performs essentially all the duties and responsibilities of a position classified at a higher grade." NAC 284.206(3)(c) states "the employee is supervising other employees of the same or a higher grade if the supervision is (1) not part of the supervision or management responsibilities for a program that is provided for in the class specification; and (2) includes, without limitation, selection, work assignment, training, work review, reports on performance and discipline of employees." Mr. Reynolds has neither performed essentially all the duties and responsibilities of a position classified at a higher grade nor has he supervised other employees of the same or a higher grade; as such, Mr. Reynolds would not be eligible for a special adjustment to pay pursuant to NAC 284.206.

In the event that Mr. Reynolds had met the requirements detailed above, he still would not have been eligible to receive a special adjustment to pay as NAC 284.206 was suspended by the Governor effective October 2010 and has not yet been reinstated.

After a thorough review of all duties performed and analysis of all relevant documentation, it is determined that significant change in duties and responsibilities being performed has not occurred and that the nature and complexity of work performed and preponderance of duties are consistent with Compliance/Audit Investigator III, 11.363, grade 35.

It is also determined that Mr. Reynolds did not perform in the capacity of a Chief Compliance/Audit Investigator prior to the removal of supervisor duties and therefore is not entitled to a temporary classification and/or a special adjustment to pay.

If you disagree with this determination, you may file a written appeal with Division of Human Resource Management Administrator Peter Long within 20 working days after the receipt of written notice of this determination. Complete details of the appeal process may be found within Nevada Administrative Code (NAC) 284.152. Correspondence to Division Administrator Peter Long should be sent to his attention at:

This classification decision is not a reflection on Mr. Reynolds abilities or accomplishments, nor should it be seen as minimizing his contributions. It is apparent that he is providing a valuable service to his agency; however, we are required to make decisions based on objective classification principles and regulations.

We appreciate Mr. Reynolds participation in the classification process and wish him the best in his career with the State of Nevada. If you have any questions concerning this matter, please contact me at 702-486-2919.

- 1. What is prompting this request? If this is an existing position, state the significant changes (as defined in NAC 284.126) in duties and responsibilities which have been made in the position since it was established or last reviewed by Human Resource Management. If this is a new position, have there been additional responsibilities placed on the organization? If yes, please explain. Attach documentation relative to legislation, board/commission proceedings, new organizational goals, etc., if applicable.

I filed grievance on January 13, 2015. In this grievance, I detailed the work that I am currently performing and have been performing since 2011. These duties and responsibilities that I have been forced to assume are beyond the scope of the duties and responsibilities of my classification, Compliance/Audit Investigator III. I have been mandated to perform several aspects of the Chief Investigator's job, as well as maintain my Investigator III duties and responsibilities. Specifically, I have been mandated to perform work on a statewide basis, directly supervise the investigative activities of nine (9) subordinate investigators. Additionally, I have been made responsible for their training needs and personal evaluations, and to make sure the office is properly staffed. Notably, my State ID even identifies me as Chief Investigator. I also act as the liaison to the Attorney General's office in workers compensation cases.

- 2. What position(s), if any, previously performed these new or additional duties? List class title and position control number of position(s). (A separate NPD-19 may be required for these positions.)

These job tasks and duties are to be performed by the Chief Compliance Audit Investigator, Class 37, 11.360. Notably, I am not aware of a time where there was a Chief Compliance Audit Investigator during my employment. This is due to the fact that I was performing all of these tasks.

- 3. Briefly describe the major purpose of this job.

The major purpose of the Chief Compliance Audit Investigator, Class 37, 11.360, as set forth by the Class Concepts prepared by the State of Nevada, Department of Administration, Division of Human Resource Management is as follows:

Under general direction, incumbents are responsible for the administration of investigative activities on a statewide basis. They establish and direct investigative activities based on department goals and objectives; review and evaluate operational efficiency and compliance with program policy and procedures; and directly supervise a staff of subordinate Compliance/Audit Investigators performing Medicaid, securities, real estate, mortgage lending, insurance, prevailing wage or workers' compensation investigations and audits. Incumbents assist in the planning and development of the program budget, internal policy and procedure, and the implementation or introduction of State legislation. In addition, they work directly with the Program Administrator, agency heads, business representatives, violators, the complainant and judicial system regarding complaint resolution, regaining compliance, pursuing criminal prosecution, imposing administrative sanctions or penalties or addressing a hearings boards or commission.

Oversee the training of staff based on projected of identified needs in the area of investigations, audit, inspection, community relations, program rules and regulations and related laws; review and approved training programs to ensure compliance with program goals and objectives.

Prepare and approve work schedules which involves assigning days off, duty hours or compensatory leave; allocate investigators to shifts based on assessed needs; maintain reporting procedures and review status to determine achievement of objectives and compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

Oversee the use and repair of property and equipment by inspecting and ascertaining repairs or replacement; analyze equipment requests, determine needs and prepare requests or recommendations.

Identify program needs, research and develop policy and procedures, and develop written proposals for presentation to management; submit requests for procedural changes in order to improve compliance, audit and enforcement activities to the agency head.

4. Attach a copy of the agency organizational chart to this form. Please circle this position.

The organizational chart does not provide for a Chief Compliance Audit Investigator, Class 37, 11.360. Again, I am not aware of a time where there was a Chief Compliance Audit Investigator during my employment. This is due to the fact that I was performing all of these tasks.

5. List the duties performed in this job. Assign a number to each duty and estimate the percentage of time spent on each duty (percentages should add to 100%). If it is not possible to estimate the percentage of time spent in each area daily, estimate the time on a weekly, monthly, or annual basis. If this is an existing position, please put an asterisk (*) next to each duty that is new.

I defer to my Work Performance Standard signed and dated in February 2014, as this sets forth the duties I have been forced to assume.

PERSONS CONTACTED:	Edward Lagomarsino, Supervising Auditor II, Rober Tekneipe, Supervising Auditor I
RECOMMENDED CLASS TITLE & CODE:	Compliance Audit Investigator III, 11.363

POSITION BACKGROUND:

An NPD-19 has been submitted to reclassify the position of Compliance Audit Investigator II, class code 11.365 pay grade 33 to the position of Compliance Audit Investigator III, class code 11.363, pay grade 35. The request is being elicited by the assumption of supervisory duties and the reorganization of the Southern Nevada Field Audit Cost Center. The department is responding to the increased workload in the Las Vegas Field Office. Based on the duties and responsibilities that were described in the NPD-19 it is determined that the position should be classified as a Compliance Audit Investigator III, class code 11.363, pay grade 35.

The series concept for this position states that the Compliance Audit Investigator: monitors compliance and detect violations of state and/or federal laws, rules, or regulations pertaining to a specific program or regulatory area such as securities, Medicaid, or worker's compensation. The investigative process is initiated following a formal complaint, suspected or confirmed violation utilizing standard investigative techniques.

The primary purpose of the Field Office is to audit employers to make sure they are in compliance with the unemployment insurance laws of the state. Generally, any employer who pays wages of $225 or more during any calendar quarter for services performed in Nevada must register with the Employment Security Division of the Department of Employment, Training, and Rehabilitation, and pay unemployment taxes on those wages. There is no unemployment insurance tax paid by employees.

POSITION ANALYSIS:

This study was completed by reviewing the NPD-19, several comparable studies and the classification specifications. Interviews were also conducted with the ESD Contributions Field Audit Supervising Auditor II, Edward Lagomarsino, and Robert Tekniepe, Supervising Auditor I.

It was determined from the audit that the incumbent will be responsible for the supervision of the Compliance/Audit Investigators. An Auditor III has been established to supervise the Auditors. The incumbent is responsible for assigning cases and receiving information from Compliance Audit Investigators II.

ALIGNMENT WITH THE SERIES CONCEPT:

According to the NPD-19, the incumbent: supervises and leads eight Compliance Investigators II and coordinate their work-50%; conduct benefit claims investigations using both auditing and investigation skills-20%; collects funds and delinquent reports-15%; make determinations on blocked claims and other assignments-5%; represents the division at the referee appeal hearings-5%; assists employer in areas concerning Unemployment Compensation Law-3%; and receive assignments from other states or agencies to investigate employers or claimants-2%.

The classification concept for the position states that "under limited direction of the Chief Investigator, Program Administrator or designee, acts as a lead worker on a regular reoccurring basis and performs specialized investigative/audit functions dealing with complex and/or multiple program violations and/or criminal activity." The specification goes on to say that this class is "lead worker/advanced journey level in the class series and is distinguished from the lower level investigators by making determinations on the level and intent of investigations, and acting as a lead worker by providing training, supervision, or coordinating the work of Investigator II's and I's while conducting investigative and/or audit functions."

COMPARATIVE ANALYSIS:

Discussions with Mary Day, Supervisory Personnel Analyst, clarified the status of Compliance/Audit Investigator III in that any Compliance/ Audit Investigator who either coordinates the activity of a function or who supervises other Compliance/Audit Investigators should be classified as a Compliance/Audit Investigator III. It should also be noted that in a memo dated July 17, 2003 to Greg Febbo, Chief, Field Services-Las Vegas describes the intent of the Division to assign supervisory duties to this position.

CLASSIFICATION RECOMMENDATION

Based on the information gathered in the study, I recommend that the position be reclassified from Compliance Audit Investigator II, class code 11.365 to a Compliance Audit Investigator III, class code 11.363. The Budget Office supported the study on August 15, 2003. According to the Paul Russell, Budget Analyst IV, the Employment Security Division-Contribution Field Audit Office has enough funding support this position.

Incumbents must supervise a staff consisting of one or more Audit Supervisors or have responsibility for managing an audit unit of lower level Auditor III and/or Auditor II positions. Supervision includes performance evaluations, work performance standards, scheduling, work assignment and review, training and discipline. Work is assigned through adherence to an approved annual audit plan coordinated with agency goals and objectives and is reviewed through goal attainment and as unusual circumstances occur.

AUDITOR III: Under limited supervision, incumbents are expected to perform the full range of duties described in the series concept and either:

- 1) Supervise a staff of lower level auditors to include performance evaluations, work performance standards, scheduling, work assignment and review, training and discipline; and conduct the most difficult audits which are sensitive or highly complex in nature as defined by each agency. Incumbents assign and review work for technical accuracy and provide guidance and assistance as needed; or
- 2) Perform internal audits the preponderance of the time as a permanent assignment. Internal auditing is defined as an independent, objective assurance and consulting activity designed to add value and improve an organization's operations through evaluation of systems and processes. Auditing activities go beyond document review and are aimed at mitigating risks; ensuring effective and efficient operations; ensuring reliability and integrity of financial and operational information; safeguarding of assets; and compliance, by the employing agency, with laws, rules, regulations and established policies and procedures.

AUDITOR II: Under general supervision, incumbents perform the full range of duties described in the series concept and perform audits of both a routine and complex nature. Work is assigned through adherence to an approved annual audit plan coordinated with agency goals and objectives and is reviewed and evaluated for technical accuracy to existing audit standards. EXPLANATION OF CHANGE

The Nevada Department of Administration, Division of Human Resource Management, conducted a class specification maintenance review for the Speech Pathologist series.

In coordination with subject matter experts from the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), Division of Aging and Disability Services, it is recommended that revisions be made to the series concept and minimum qualifications to update occupational language and to reflect current methods and practices being used by DHHS's Division of Aging and Disability Services.

Language was added and/or removed to clarify the scope of the Speech Pathologist within and outside of the Nevada Early Intervention Services program. Also, reference to "Video Fluoroscopic Evaluations" was removed, as this is a procedure that is completed in a medical setting and not individual homes. Additionally, the title of the cited Public Law, and language to clarify all codes that apply to the work of Speech Pathologists, was added.

Under general direction, Speech Pathologists provide specialized therapeutic services involving the measurement, testing, identification, diagnosis, prediction, treatment, case management, counseling, coaching and supporting of individuals with communication needs and disorders; deficiencies in sensory, perceptual, motor, cognitive and social skills necessary for communication; and sensorimotor dysfunctions of the mouth, pharynx and larynx. Therapeutic services may be provided in residential, outpatient, home, childcare, community or clinic settings for children and/or adults with speech and language delays, audiological difficulties, mental illness and/or developmental disabilities.

10.615 – Speech Pathologist II, Grade 35: Under general direction, incumbents perform the full range of duties outlined in the series concept including advanced, specialized evaluations and interventions.

10.619 – Speech Pathologist I, Grade 33: Under direction, incumbents acquire skills and experience in performing the duties outlined in the series concept. Incumbents satisfactorily completing one year as a Speech Pathologist I in a trainee capacity, and with the recommendation of the appointing authority, may progress to Speech Pathologist II. This is the entry level in the series.

Throughout the course of the study, management and agency staff participated by offering recommendations and reviewing changes as the process progressed. Management and agency staff support this recommendation.

EXPLANATION OF CHANGE

As part of the biennial Class Specification Maintenance Review process, the Division of Human Resource Management (DHRM) has conducted a review of the DETR Business Process Analyst series.

In consultation with Subject Matter Experts from the Department of Employment, Training & Rehabilitation (DETR) it was determined that the series and class concepts and the minimum qualifications are comparable to the Business Process Analyst (7.655) series and that it would be beneficial to reclassify the existing DETR Business Process Analyst positions to the Business Process Analyst series. This change allows for greater recruitment potential as the Business Process Analyst I can be utilized as either a trainee level or a sub-journey level.

As a result of the above, DETR submitted NPD-19's for positions classified at the DETR Business Process Analyst II to be reclassified to the Business Process Analyst III and positions classified at the DETR Business Process Analyst I to be reclassified to the Business Process Analyst II levels. These NPD-19's were approved by DHRM and the Interim Finance Committee on 10-25-2016. These changes were budget neutral.

Due to the series no longer being utilized, it is therefore recommended that the DETR Business Process Analyst series be abolished.

Throughout the course of the study, management and agency staff participated by offering recommendations and reviewing changes as the process progressed, and they support this recommendation.

At the request of the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), Division of Welfare & Supportive Services (DWSS), the Division of Human Resource Management has conducted a review of the Family Services Specialist series. Analysts within the Division of Human Resource Management worked with subject matter experts from DWSS, and as a result of this review, it is recommended that minor revisions be made to the Family Services Specialist class specifications Informational Notes and Special Requirements.

The requested changes are in accordance with NRS 293.5045 voter registration requirements. Also, the agency requires that for most positions in this series, applicants meet a minimum typing speed established by the agency at the time of recruitment. These changes require no modification to the Education & Experience, Entry Level or Full Level Knowledge, Skills and Abilities sections of the minimum qualifications. These revisions will help the agency maintain compliance along with assisting in the recruitment process.

Family Services Specialists perform a variety of paraprofessional duties to assist families in achieving self-sufficiency. Incumbents determine eligibility for a variety of public assistance and health related programs; provide coordinated employment and training services including assessment, vocational guidance, support services and education to clients; and/or provide child support enforcement services. Positions in this series may specialize in one service area, or may work in multiple areas depending upon the needs of the agency.

Throughout the process, management and staff within DWSS and the Division of Human Resource Management participated by offering recommendations and reviewing changes as the process progressed and they support the recommended changes.

BASIS FOR RECOMMENDATION

As a result of an Individual Study, and in partnership with a Subject Matter Expert from the Nevada Department of Tourism and Cultural Affairs, Division of Tourism, Indian Commission, it was determined that modifications to the class concept for Museum Director I, Option A, were needed to account for the addition of the Stewart Indian School Cultural Center.

The class concept was modified to reflect the addition of the Stewart Indian School Cultural Center. It was determined that the duty statements and minimum qualifications for the Stewart Indian School Cultural Center are the same as those required for the East Ely Railroad Depot Museum, therefore no changes to the minimum qualifications were required.

At the request of the Division of Human Resource Management, Recruitment Unit, it is recommended that a minor revision be made to the Auditor class series.

This class specification was recently approved by the Personnel Commission as part of the biennial Class Specification Maintenance Review process; however, prior to posting the approved class specification to NVAPPS, the Recruitment Unit identified a typographical error in the Education & Experience section of the minimum qualifications for the Auditor I, 7.164, grade 32.

The equivalency should read “two years of experience as an Accountant Technician I in Nevada State service.”

It is therefore recommended that the above minor modification be made in order to maintain consistency with Recruitment policy when establishing equivalent experience in Nevada State service.

BASIS FOR RECOMMENDATION

At the request of the Division of Human Resource Management, Recruitment Unit, it is recommended that a minor revision be made to the Chief Insurance Examiner class specification.

When the Actuary series was revised and re-titled as the Insurance Actuarial Analyst series, the equivalency listed in the Education & Experience section of the minimum qualifications for the Chief Insurance Examiner was not amended to reflect the title change.

The equivalency should read “two years of experience as an Insurance Examiner II or Insurance Actuarial Analyst II in Nevada State service.”

In addition, a typographical error in the Special Requirement section required correction.

It is therefore recommended that the above minor modifications be made in order to maintain consistency with format and structure.

BASIS FOR RECOMMENDATION

At the request of the Department of Transportation, and upon review by the Division of Human Resource Management it is recommended that the Manager Right-of-Way Services series be amended to reflect a name change at the Manager II, Right-of-Way Survey Services – PLS level.

It is recommended to amend this title to reflect a change from Public Land Surveyor (PLS) to Professional Land Surveyor (PLS). This title better reflects the required licensure as a Professional Land Surveyor.
