SERIES CONCEPT

Positions in this series provide care, training, and treatment to children and adolescents with behavioral and emotional disturbances in a 24-hour/7-day a week treatment home setting.

Assess client behavior through direct observation and reports from parent/guardian, school, and related social service agencies; assess home environment through home visits, history taking, and other agency reports.

Establish treatment goals and objectives with parent/guardian and develop specific treatment modalities using adjunct therapies such as relaxation training, and provide daily group sessions to develop social skills, group interaction and problem solving, and empowerment skills.

Develop preliminary and regular treatment plan with other treatment team members; monitor target behaviors, special treatment procedures, and case history for each client in the home; make treatment recommendations; coordinate treatment with peers, external agencies, and service providers; organize and conduct treatment team meetings as required; review and revise treatment plan with parent/guardian as needed; initiate and carry out therapeutic, social, recreational, educational, and physical care activities in accordance with the treatment plan and with supervisory approval.

Implement individualized treatment plans to facilitate the return of clients to the least restrictive environment (i.e., home/community); use a psycho-educational approach to modify inappropriate behaviors and develop new social, academic, coping, problem solving, and self care skills; implement relevant components of the teaching model on a daily basis with clients; conduct individual and group counseling sessions for assigned clients; employ appropriate counseling techniques and implement data collection procedures; complete required case records according to policies and procedures; and evaluate progress through a review of completed homework and direct observation of parent/child interactions.

Organize and supervise recreational outings/activities such as birthday parties, camping trips, and movie outings; ensure that clients behave and do not walk away; assist clients in making purchases such as buying tickets and refreshments.

Ensure clients take prescribed medications.

Teach, train and supervise clients in self care skills, social skills, empowerment, and academic skills in order to accomplish goals in individualized treatment plans by utilizing a motivational system/token economy, teaching interactions, role playing, daily family conference, and relationship building on a consistent and ongoing basis; implementing weekly home notes, daily point cards, and school notes to initiate change in client behavior through immediate feedback; and tutoring clients to improve academic performance.

Implement client monitoring, verbal strategies, and non-physical interactions to de-escalate clients; ensure the safety of clients, staff, and family members; identify and implement responses to treatment home safety and security issues according to established procedures; respond to emergencies and implement behavior modification techniques or other psycho-therapeutic interventions appropriate to the situation and the client; and complete incident reports as required.

Provide liaison services with a variety of community agencies including school, juvenile justice, State and county welfare in order to coordinate treatment and make referrals by scheduling and coordinating meetings, initiating phone contacts with appropriate resources; serving as a client advocate in court to support clients and to ensure treatment continuity through court testimony and written reports; and coordinating and consulting with teachers and school counselors through school notes, phone contacts, and individual education plan meetings to recommend changes in school program, thereby increasing school success of clients.

Consult and advise other agency professionals regarding client/family treatment issues and agency policy to facilitate a continuity in treatment approach by coordinating and attending weekly treatment home staff meetings; attending agency all-staff meetings; coordinating meetings with outpatient clinicians to share client/family treatment issues, discuss referrals, and process admission; scheduling appointments with agency psychiatrists and social skills clinicians and confer as needed; and participating on agency committees such as quality assurance committee, management council, family review committee, and vocational committee.

Maintain client files to ensure compliance with the NRS and division and agency policy by preparing professional case notes on a weekly basis to reflect client progress in residence, home, school, and community; submitting case notes to supervisor for review; implementing changes in client files suggested by peer review committee (quality assurance committee); updating and revising treatment plans as required; and completing and updating all required agency and program specific forms.

Compile and interpret behavioral statistics to assess client progress and provide program accountability by gathering data from home notes, school notes, point cards, behavior inventories, psychological inventory, report cards, direct observation and client self-reports; maintaining current graphs and charts of targeted behavior; and applying behavioral data to develop individualized treatment plans.

Prepare and submit written and oral client and/or family progress status reports to other professional agencies such as courts, welfare agencies, and probation.

Maintain records for expenditures and supplies to ensure accountability by gathering and submitting grocery and activity receipts; and obtaining purchase orders for special needs such as supplies, equipment, and client gifts.

Provide a safe, clean, healthy home-like environment in compliance with federal and State standards and teaching model procedures by maintaining attendance and census records; scheduling and performing daily household maintenance chores including cleaning and laundry; preparing and serving nutritional meals to clients following menus based on dietary and nutritional information including the four basic food groups; and procuring household supplies from warehouse and retail stores.

Perform related duties as assigned.
