Under general direction, Staff Specialists in the Right-of-Way Division of the Department of Transportation participate in developing, formulating, and coordinating statewide programs, policies and procedures related to areas such as acquisition, relocation assistance, appraisal, property management, utilities/railroad relocation, and occupancy permits.

Research, evaluate and interpret federal and State statutes related to assigned programs and develop, recommend and implement policies and procedures in order to maintain the department's compliance with them.

Update and maintain policies and procedures in program manuals in order to reflect federal and State statutes.

Develop and/or revise forms, legal documents and brochures in order to provide necessary resources for right-of-way staff, other agencies and the public.

Act as a liaison with departmental divisions and other federal, State and local public agencies on matters relating to programs.

Conduct studies, audits and research and prepare reports for use by management, federal agencies and others.

Review and recommend approval of, or amendments to, engineering and architectural plans for non-highway improvements in the right-of-way in conjunction with requests for leases and licenses prior to requesting other departmental approvals and final approval from the Federal Highway Administration.

Review and audit various right-of-way transactions and work products to ensure compliance with appropriate regulations and department policies; assess consultant contract provisions, successes and the need for future modifications.

Review, evaluate and oversee program operations; serve as program advisor to professional staff and management; provide expertise to claims staff in using newly developed or ongoing industry practices; assess program quality and results.

May serve as a member of committees and review boards to develop recommendations for action.

Develop, arrange and conduct training for department staff and other public agencies concerning right-of-way issues, transactions, activities, and the interpretation of new or revised laws and regulations.

Participate as needed in right-of-way activities pertinent to the assignment.

Perform related duties as assigned.
