HANDBOOK INTRODUCTION

The employee handbook provides a ready reference for new and experienced State of Nevada employees when questions arise relating to the terms and conditions of employment.

This version of the State of Nevada Employee Handbook supersedes all previous versions of the handbook.

This handbook provides an abbreviated version of the Rules for State Personnel Administration (Chapter 284 of the Nevada Administrative Code), State statutes and federal laws that govern the classified service and when applicable, the unclassified service.

You will find references at the end of most sections to the Nevada Revised Statutes (NRS), Nevada Administrative Code (NAC), State Administrative Manual (SAM), department website information, and/or State policies and guidelines where you can obtain further information on a particular topic.

In addition to the topics covered in this handbook, your agency may have adopted policies and procedures that govern your employment.

This handbook does not create any rights, benefits, or duties, which are not set forth in the Nevada Revised Statutes, Nevada Administrative Code, or federal laws; and it does not constitute a contract with public employees.

If you have questions regarding any of the policies, procedures, or benefits covered in this handbook, you are encouraged to contact your supervisor, the personnel representative in your agency, or the Division of Human Resource Management.

The information in the handbook is current as of the publication date but is subject to change as statutes and regulations are modified. If you would like to provide suggestions to improve the content of the handbook, please contact the Division of Human Resource Management.

FILLING VACANCIES

Job Announcements

Public notices are used to announce the recruitment for vacant positions. Classified job announcements can be accessed through Nevada Applicant Processing and Placement System (NVAPPS) via the Division of Human Resource Management website. NVAPPS allows you to conveniently search and apply for job openings online. Job announcements include salary information, a description of the position, the minimum qualifications, the location of the vacancy and the filing period. An announcement may be published to provide for open competition, a promotional competition, or a combination of both. The system also allows for position vacancies to be posted in real time. Results from any recruitment may be used to fill subsequent vacancies. Therefore, individual job announcements may not always be published for each individual vacancy. (NAC 284.295, 284.309)

Applications

It is your responsibility to apply for any recruitment for which you are qualified, eligible and interested. To apply for a position, you must file an application with the Division of Human Resource Management or its designated representative as specified in the job announcement. You are encouraged to utilize NVAPPS when applying for recruitments. NVAPPS stores your applicant profile information to expedite application for future recruitments. Paper applications, when necessary, can be obtained by contacting the Division of Human Resource Management and will be accepted for single recruitments only. A separate paper application must be submitted for each recruitment that interests you. Applications must be received no later than 5:00 p.m. on the closing date at the location specified on the announcement. It is important that your application be properly completed since incomplete or improper completion would be cause for rejection of the application. (NAC 284.313)

Minimum Qualifications

The minimum qualifications statement on the job announcement is to inform you of the education, experience and other requirements of the position. Thoroughly document your education, training and experience, demonstrating that they meet the requirements as posted. Only those applicants whose applications demonstrate that they meet the minimum qualifications and other criteria in the job announcement are verified.

When applying through NVAPPS, you will be asked to provide your e-mail address, which allows the recruiter to notify you each time the status of your application changes (i.e., meeting the minimum qualifications, missing information, requesting clarifying information, etc.) as well as information about the next steps in the process. (NAC 284.313)

Promotional Recruitments

Promotional recruitments are limited to employees with at least six months of continuous (full-time equivalent) employment in the classified service. If your supervisor is given reasonable notice, you may qualify for release time with pay to interview with an agency of the State of Nevada or complete any other requested assessments. (NAC 284.313, 284.353)

Open Competitive Recruitments

Open competitive recruitments are open to all individuals who meet the minimum qualifications of the position. There is no minimum service requirement for employees in the classified service to apply for an open competitive recruitment.

Lists of Eligible Persons and Certification

The most common types of eligible lists to which employees may be certified and their order of priority are as follows:

1. Reemployment lists of employees who have been laid off or injured on the job.
2. 700-hour lists.
3. Legislature transfer lists, if available.
4. Divisional promotional lists.
5. Departmental promotional lists.
6. Statewide promotional lists.
7. Open competitive lists.
8. Any combination of the above.

The types of lists referenced above, other than reemployment lists, 700-hour lists and Legislature transfer lists are certified in either ranked or unranked order unless the position is filled in some other manner (i.e. voluntary demotion, transfer). When the list is ranked, the names of eligible persons appear in the order of their total ranking that they earned in the examination, including preference points for veterans and Nevada residents. The candidates receiving the ten highest scores on a ranked list are eligible to be appointed to vacancies.

The list of eligible applicants may be unranked: (1) for entry level classes; (2) when recruitment failed to produce more than five qualified applicants; (3) for classes where promotional applicants are not normally available; or (4) when possession of a license or certification is required. (NRS 284.155, 284.255, 284.265, 284.309, 284.320, NAC 284.358-284.374)

Generally, the term of eligibility on a list is one year. (NRS 284.250, NAC 284.374)

Inquiry of Availability

The hiring agency must contact the eligible applicants on the hiring list, as required per ranked or unranked lists, to inquire about their availability for a job interview for the available position. If you are contacted, you must respond to a written/mailed inquiry within six days of the postmark, to an electronic inquiry within two days, to a written/hand delivered inquiry within 24 hours, to an in-person oral inquiry within 24 hours, or to a telephone inquiry within two days if a voicemail or electronic message was left. (NAC 284.373)

Secondary Employment

If you have another job while employed by the State, you must complete a Secondary Employment Disclosure form available on the Purchasing Division website and the Division of Human Resource Management website, and submit it for approval by your agency head. When you obtain or have a change in your secondary employment, you must submit a Secondary Employment Disclosure form within 30 days of acceptance and must renew the disclosure by July 1st of each year. The agency head must review the form for conflicts with State employment. Approved forms should be filed in your personnel file. Secondary employment includes, but is not limited to, contracts with the State, work with temporary employment agencies, and provider agreements. (SAM 0323)

The Americans with Disabilities Act

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 is a civil rights act prohibiting discrimination against individuals with disabilities in employment, public services and transportation, public accommodations, and telecommunications. The ADA Amendments Act (ADAAA), effective January 1, 2009, was adopted to restore the original intent of the ADA by providing a clear and comprehensive national mandate for the elimination of discrimination.

To be considered disabled under the ADA, you must:

1. Have a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities;
2. Have a record of such an impairment; or
3. Be regarded as having such an impairment.

Additionally, to be covered by the ADA, you must be otherwise qualified for the job, program, or activity to which access is sought.

Under the ADA, employment decisions must be based on your ability to perform the essential functions of your position with or without reasonable accommodation. Your agency is not required to make accommodations that would eliminate one or more essential functions of your job or that would impose an undue hardship on the operation of your agency's business. Under the ADA, for the purposes of providing reasonable accommodation, the State of Nevada as a whole is considered the employer and not individual agencies. In addition, the ADA seeks to delay consideration of medical or disability-related information until a conditional job offer has been made to the best-qualified applicant. If a State employee is unable to perform the essential functions, the Division of Human Resource Management will assist the employee and the agency appointing authority by identifying vacancies for a possible reassignment.

Each State agency is responsible for designating an ADA Coordinator who can be contacted for information on the Act and who will respond to questions or complaints about its application in that agency. The Americans with Disabilities Act \(ADA\) & the ADA Amendments Act \(ADAAA\) Employment Provisions Guide is available on the Division of Human Resource Management website. Human Resource Management's ADA point of contact can be reached at (775) 684-0104. Human Resource Management's ADA Coordinator is also available as a resource regarding the employment provisions of the law and can be reached at (775) 684-0111. (NAC 284.120, 284.441)

APPOINTMENTS AND PROBATIONARY PERIODS

An appointment occurs when an applicant accepts an offer of employment and a date of hire is agreed upon with the appointing authority.

New Hire

When you initially accept an appointment in State government, you are considered a new hire. As a new hire, you will be required to serve a probationary period of either six months or one year.

Reemployment

Reemployment is a type of appointment that does not result in a break in service. The types of reemployment are as follows:

1. Military reemployment — Any remaining portion of a probationary period must be completed upon return to State service. (NAC 284.444)
2. Reemployment of permanent employees who have been laid off — Completion of a new probationary period is required if you are reemployed in a different class or in a different department.
3. Reemployment due to reclassification of a position to a lower class.
4. Reemployment due to restoration of a promotional employee who fails to attain permanent status.
5. Reemployment of seasonal employees.
6. Reemployment due to a permanent disability arising from an injury sustained at work.

Further information on this subject can be obtained by contacting your personnel representative or the Division of Human Resource Management.

Reinstatement

If you have resigned from State service as a permanent employee in good standing, you may be reinstated to a position in the same or a similar grade or class following termination, if you meet the minimum qualifications.

The probationary period following reinstatement may be waived in writing by your appointing authority, but you will not be eligible to compete in promotional recruitments until you have completed six months (full-time equivalent) of continuous State service. You cannot be reinstated to underfill a position that is at grade 30 or above if the position is allocated at a higher-grade level than the position you held at the time of termination. (NRS 284.330, NAC 284.386)

Reappointment

If you are a current employee in State service, you may be reappointed to a class that you formerly held or to a comparable class if you meet the current minimum qualifications and receive the appointing authority's approval. To be reappointed to a comparable class, the Division of Human Resource Management must approve the reappointment. If you were a probationary employee, you must serve a new probationary period. You cannot be reappointed to a position at grade 30 or above if the position is allocated at a higher level than the position you formerly held. (NAC 284.093, 284.404, 284.444)

Transfer

You may be considered for a transfer from your agency to another State agency without loss of benefits, such as retirement, insurance, and sick and annual leave credit. A request for a transfer should be made directly to the hiring agency. If you are a probationary employee who transfers within the same class, you must serve the remaining portion of your probationary period. A probationary employee who transfers to a different class must serve a new probationary period. You cannot transfer through non-competitive means to underfill a position at grade 30 or higher if the position is allocated at a higher-grade level than the position you currently hold.

Demotion

An employee may be demoted to a position in a class with a lower grade level if the employee meets the minimum qualifications and if the appointing authority approves. You may not demote through non-competitive means to underfill a position at grade 30 or higher if the position is allocated at a higher grade level than the position you currently hold. (NAC 284.402)

Promotion

Promotion is advancement to a vacant position in a class that has a higher grade than the class previously held. As an employee of the State, you may compete in recruitments for promotional openings when you have served six months (full-time equivalent) of continuous classified service. If you are a permanent employee and accept a promotion, you will be required to serve a trial period of either six months or one year. If you fail to attain permanent status in a position to which you were promoted, you must be restored to the position from which you promoted. If your former position has been filled by an employee with greater seniority, you will be placed in a vacant position of the same class as your former position. However, if such a position is not available, you will be appointed to a vacant position of equal or lower grade than your former position or placed on a reemployment list. (NRS 284.300, NAC 284.462)

Other Appointments

State government also has other appointment types such as provisional, emergency, and temporary appointments. (NRS 284.310, 284.315, 284.325)

Unclassified and non-classified employees are appointed outside of the merit system and are not governed by the regulations relating to classified service.

Probationary Period/Status of Appointment

As a new hire, your status of appointment is “probationary.” After you have successfully completed a full probationary period, you are considered a “permanent” employee. If you are promoted to a new position after you become a “permanent” employee, your status of appointment is “trial period.”

The probationary period for classes at grade 19 and below is six months of full-time equivalent service. The probationary period for classes at grade 20 or higher is one year of full-time equivalent service. (NAC 284.442)

During the probationary period, your conduct and job performance are reviewed more frequently. Dismissals or demotions may be made at any time during the probationary period in accordance with regulations. (NRS 284.290, NAC 284.458)

Once you have successfully completed the probationary period for a class, you will attain permanent status. (NRS 284.290)

Acceptance of New Appointment

State employees are required to give two weeks’ written notice before beginning service in a new position under the jurisdiction of another appointing authority, unless both appointing authorities mutually agree to a shorter period of notice.

Nepotism/Dating Relationship

The State of Nevada prohibits persons from working in the direct line of authority of someone with whom there is a “dating relationship” or a family member, including a spouse, child, parent, sibling, aunt, uncle, niece, nephew, grandparent, grandchild, or first cousin or the same relation by marriage or domestic partnership. “Direct line of authority” includes an employee’s immediate supervisor, that supervisor’s supervisor and each subsequent level of supervision all the way up through the employee’s chain of command to the department director. A supervisory relationship includes responsibility and accountability for assigning work, evaluating performance, hiring, disciplining, and training, as opposed to temporary or ad hoc employment situations caused by an emergency or a special project of limited duration. “Dating relationship” is defined as an intimate association primarily characterized by the expectation of affectional or sexual involvement. The term does not include a casual relationship or an ordinary association between persons in a business or social context. (NRS 281.210, NAC 284.0533, 284.375, 284.377)

EMPLOYEE PERFORMANCE AND DEVELOPMENT

Work Performance Standards

Work Performance Standards are written statements of the results and/or behavior expected of you when your job elements are satisfactorily performed under existing working conditions.

Standards are required for all classified positions, and you will be provided with a copy of the standards for your position. (NRS 284.335, NAC 284.468)

Performance Evaluation

If you are serving a six-month (full-time equivalent) probationary period, your supervisor will evaluate your performance at the completion of the second and fifth months. If you are completing a one-year (full-time equivalent) probationary period, your evaluations will be conducted at the completion of the third, seventh, and eleventh months. You will receive a copy of each performance report. Once you have attained permanent status, your performance will be evaluated annually. Your annual evaluation date will typically coincide with your pay progression date, which is defined as the date you complete one year of employment equivalent to full-time service following appointment to your current grade. Each evaluation will include a discussion between you and your supervisor to review and clarify goals and methods to achieve them. It will also include a written evaluation of your progress in the job. Evaluations will be made with reference to established work performance standards. (NRS 284.335 and 284.340)

If you disagree with the report on performance, you may request a review. Such a request must be made in writing, identifying specific points of disagreement, and must be submitted within 10 days of the discussion of the report on performance between you and your supervisor. A reviewing officer will be assigned to review the report on performance. The reviewing officer is the supervisor of the person who prepared your report on performance or another person designated by the appointing authority. A permanent employee may appeal the final decision rendered following the request for review of a contested performance evaluation through the procedure for the adjustment of a grievance. (NAC 284.470)

Training

The State of Nevada supports training programs and employee development to improve the efficiency and productivity of all State employees. It recognizes continued training and development for career employees is essential in providing quality services for State government.

Each agency is responsible for agency orientation, on-the-job training, and any formal or specialized training in areas unique to the work environment and required by the agency.

In order to avoid duplication of effort, the Division of Human Resource Management has been designated to coordinate and provide training applicable to all State employees. This training includes courses in supervision, management, customer service, and sexual harassment prevention, as well as the supervisory training mandated by NRS 284.338 and NAC 284.498. These courses are offered via classroom instruction and online in a self-paced e-learning environment. You can access a complete listing of courses in the Training module of the Nevada Employee Action and Timekeeping System (NEATS) and on the e-Learning System by clicking the link on the NEATS home page.

The Office of Employee Development (OED) administers both open enrollment State employee training and development programs, as well as targeted professional development programs for managers and aspiring leaders. Other services provided by OED include special request and off-site training classes, including retreat presentations, organizational development initiatives, needs assessments, meeting facilitation, curriculum development, and consultation services.

The open enrollment courses are available to individual employees who want to improve their knowledge and skills in areas such as communication styles, writing work performance standards, motivating employees, basic supervision, and conflict resolution among other topics.

The OED offers two management and leadership programs: The Management Academy and the Nevada Certified Public Manager (NVCPM) Program. The Management Academy is a 5-month statewide program designed to provide practical skills and tools to mid-level managers. The NVCPM Program is a nationally accredited program specifically for public sector personnel. The program accepts State, local, and Federal government employees. You could be accepted into the program if you supervise people, manage projects, hold a supervisory or managerial position responsible for providing technical or professional support to an agency, or have been identified by the agency director as an individual showing potential for advancement into such positions. The 18-month program offers over 300 hours of instruction and activities focused on the development of key management and leadership competencies for public managers to build a foundation of management excellence in government. Upon successful completion, participants are awarded the designation of Certified Public Manager (CPM).

Additional information about the Certified Public Manager Program may be found on the Division of Human Resource Management website. The Division of Human Resource Management's Office of Employee Development can be reached at (702) 486-2663 or (702) 486-2900. (NRS 284.343, NAC 284.482)

RECORDS

Employment Records

Your agency human resources office maintains a working file with copies of documentation. This file includes personnel action documents, such as your Employment Status Maintenance Transaction (ESMT) forms, mandatory employment forms, such as policy acknowledgement forms, performance evaluations, and documentation of disciplinary action. This file may also include letters of commendation, training certificates, or other work-related documents that you or your supervisor requested to be included in your file. Contact your agency personnel representative for the procedure for viewing your agency file.

Your official personnel file is maintained at the Division of Human Resource Management, Central Records Section. You, or those indicated in NAC 284.726, may view your personnel file by making an appointment with Central Records by calling (775) 687-9095 or by email at DHRM-CentralRecords@admin.nv.gov. There is a fee for obtaining copies of your file and your request must be made in writing. The employment records are maintained in accordance with the State Records Retention Schedule. (NRS 284.105, NAC 284.714)

Public Records

The Division of Human Resource Management maintains a roster of State employees in public service which includes your name, class title and rate of pay. This information is considered public record and could be released upon receipt of a written request. Upon request, the Division of Human Resource Management is required to provide your personal mailing address to the State Controller's Office and the Internal Revenue Service. Information deemed as sensitive relating to law enforcement officials will not be released. (NAC 284.714, 284.718, 284.726)

POSITION CLASSIFICATION

Position classification is the process of grouping positions into classes based upon the type and level of the duties and responsibilities assigned. A class consists of positions that are sufficiently similar to warrant the same job title, rate of pay, and statement of minimum qualifications for recruitment purposes. Classification may occur as a result of an individual or occupational study.

You, your agency, or the Division of Human Resource Management, may initiate an individual study. Reclassification of an existing position through the individual study process requires verification of significant change resulting from a gradual accumulation of new duties or a planned organizational change. Position-specific information is collected on a Position Description Questionnaire (NPD-19) and is used by the Division of Human Resource Management (or delegated agency personnel staff) in the evaluation process. (NAC 284.126)

NAC 284.126 (1) (b) defines significant change as "a change in the duties and responsibilities assigned to a position in a class that:

- 1) Is outside the scope of the class as described by the class specification;
- 2) Is not part of the scope of responsibility of the position; and
- 3) Results in the preponderance of duties and responsibilities being allocated to a different class."

In short, significant change means that the duties assigned to a position have changed to such a degree that the current class concept no longer fairly describes the preponderance of responsibilities. In applying the definition, change that is the result of natural growth or an increase in workload, common to most positions in State service, is not considered to fall within the meaning of significant change, nor is the addition of duties that are similar in nature or complexity to current or previously performed responsibilities. The use of new technologies and methods to carry out the same or similar duties also would not constitute significant change.

Positions may perform some higher-level duties; however, this does not provide the basis for reclassification to the higher level. In order to be reclassified from one level in a series to a higher level, a position must spend the preponderance of time performing higher-level duties.

Duty statements outlined in the class specification are not an exhaustive list of assignments tasked to positions within a particular class. Most classes include a mixture of higher and lower level duties and of stronger, average, and weaker positions. The key to determining if duties are appropriately classified is whether or not they are related to the series and class concept, and whether or not the predominant duties are of comparable difficulty and complexity to duties considered characteristic of the class.

A Biennial Class Specification Maintenance Review is initiated by the Division of Human Resource Management to review and update class titles, concepts, knowledge, skills and abilities and/or minimum qualifications of classes. Class specification revisions require approval by the Personnel Commission or pursuant to NRS 284.160(4) and are effective upon approval, by the Personnel Commission or absent written objection.

The classification factors used to evaluate positions are the nature and complexity of work; required knowledge, skills, and abilities; supervisory/managerial responsibility; independence/supervision received; scope of responsibility/consequence of error; authority to take action/decision making; and personal contacts. In addition, to identify the most appropriate class, a position's duties are compared with other positions having similar or related duties and with relevant class specifications. (NRS 284.160-284.170, NAC 284.126-284.152)

Payday

If you are an employee in the Central Payroll system, you are paid biweekly. If you are an employee in the Nevada System of Higher Education, you are paid semi-monthly. If you have access to the Nevada Employee Action and Timekeeping System (NEATS), you may view your paycheck information online.

Rate of Pay

The compensation schedule for classified employees in State service consists of pay ranges for each grade. Within each grade are ten steps. As a classified employee in State service, your pay will be set at one of the steps within the grade for the class to which you are appointed.

You may choose to be on the Employee/Employer Pay Contribution Plan or the Employer Pay Contribution Plan. If you elect the Employee/Employer Pay Contribution Plan, you may switch at any time to the Employer Pay Contribution Plan. Once you select the Employer Pay Contribution Plan, you cannot switch back to the Employee/Employer Pay Contribution Plan. (These elections are more fully explained in the Retirement Program section of this handbook.)

“Off-the-Clock” Work Prohibited

Nonexempt employees must report all time worked on their timesheet. “Off-the-clock” work is prohibited and failure to accurately record working time is grounds for discipline. Supervisors shall not allow employees to engage in “off-the-clock” work.

Merit Pay Increase

NAC 284.196 provides for you to receive an annual merit salary increase on your pay progression date if your last performance evaluation was standard or better and you have not reached the maximum step within the grade. The maximum merit salary increase is an adjustment of one step annually. (NAC 284.194)

If the date of promotion coincides with the pay progression date, the merit salary increase will be computed first and the promotional increase applied to the new pay rate. (NAC 284.186)

In addition to merit salary increases, salaries may be adjusted by general salary increases granted by the Legislature.

Overtime

Under State law, overtime is any time worked in excess of eight hours in 1 calendar day, eight hours in a 16-hour period or 40 hours in a week. If you choose and are approved for a variable/innovative workday schedule, you will earn overtime after 40 hours in a week. If you are in a position of law enforcement or fire protection, you may be covered by different overtime provisions as provided by statute or agreement. All overtime must be approved in advance by your appointing authority or his or her designee. (NRS 284.180)

If you are an employee in a position designated as exempt under the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act and the Nevada Revised Statutes, you are not entitled to compensation for overtime. (NRS 284.148)

Overtime hours are compensated either for pay, which is the preferred method, or in compensatory time off, both at the one and one-half time rate for each hour worked over 40. Agreements may be reached with your employer to provide for compensatory time off in lieu of overtime for pay. Compensatory time must be taken within a reasonable time after accrual at the direction of the appointing authority. If you request to use earned compensatory time and give at least two weeks’ notice, it cannot be unreasonably denied. (NRS 284.180, 284.181, NAC 284.242, 284.254, 284.258)

Payment for Holidays

If you are a nonexempt employee, you are entitled to receive payment for eleven holidays per year when you are in “paid status” during any portion of your shift immediately preceding the holiday. In addition, if you work on a holiday, you are entitled to earn straight time payment for the hours worked on the holiday. If you are an exempt employee and you work on a holiday, you do not receive additional compensation but may have your schedule adjusted during the week in which the holiday occurs or in a subsequent week to recognize the holiday or additional time worked. (NRS 236.015, NAC 284.255-284.257)

Call Back Pay

Under certain circumstances you may be eligible to receive call back pay. If you meet the requirements of NAC 284.214, you will be credited with two hours of call back pay at the rate of time and one-half. For each additional hour that you work after the two hours for which you are paid call back pay, you will be paid overtime at the rate of time and one-half. (NAC 284.214)

Shift Differential

Shift differential is an adjustment in pay equivalent to an additional 5 percent of an employee’s normal rate of pay. To qualify, you must be a nonexempt employee and you must work in a unit requiring multiple shifts in a 24-hour period and be assigned to a period of work of at least 8 hours, of which at least 4 hours fall between the times specified in regulation. If you are working a qualifying shift that is reduced due to daylight savings time, you will still receive shift differential pay for that shift. (NAC 284.210)

Standby Pay

If you are a nonexempt employee, you are entitled to receive additional pay, at the rate of 5 percent of your normal compensation, for every hour you are in standby status. You are in standby status when you are directed to remain available to work and prepared to work if the need arises. You cease to be on standby status and must be compensated for actual hours worked when you begin the performance of your duties after receiving notice to return to work. (NAC 284.218)

Per Diem and Travel

Many State employees must travel in connection with official duties. If you travel on official business, you will receive an allowance for meals and lodging. If you have been employed by the State for at least six months, a State sponsored credit card may be issued for use in covering travel advances and expenses. Each agency head is responsible for establishing agency rules concerning hours during which an employee will be allowed to claim meals. Your travel should be made by the least expensive method available. (NAC 284.258, SAM 0200-0236)

If, in the course of official duties, you are directed by your agency to use your own personal vehicle, reimbursement will be made at the current rate authorized by the Governor’s Finance Office and published in the State Administrative Manual. This rate is adjusted periodically to reflect the allowable federal rate. If you prefer to use your private automobile for personal convenience when conducting State business, you may receive one-half of the authorized rate. (SAM 0202-0214)

Fleet Services

It is the policy of the State that employees use Fleet Services vehicles rather than private automobiles whenever possible. Only State employees are authorized to drive State-owned vehicles and only persons traveling on State business are authorized to ride in these vehicles. Drivers of State vehicles must hold a valid driver’s license and complete a driver’s safety course sponsored by the Division of Risk Management. Fleet Services is available to all agencies in Carson City, Reno, and Las Vegas. (SAM 1402-1418)

INSURANCE BENEFITS

The Public Employees' Benefits Program (PEBP) offers a comprehensive benefits package to eligible employees and their dependents. The benefits include medical, prescription drug, dental, basic life coverage, and long term disability insurance.

Employees enrolled in a PEBP medical plan are also eligible for the following voluntary products: short term disability, voluntary life insurance, long term care insurance, medical and/or dependent care flexible spending accounts and auto-homeowners' insurance. Employees who wish to purchase a voluntary product will pay 100% of the cost of voluntary products.

For more information on any of the following benefits, visit the PEBP website at www.pebp.state.nv.us or call (775) 684-7000 or (800) 326-5496 or email mservices@peb.state.nv.us.

Health Plan Options for Active Employees

The health plan options include the self-funded Consumer Driven Health Plan coupled with either a Health Savings Account (HSA) or Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA) (described below), the Premier (EPO) Plan in Northern Nevada, and the Health Plan of Nevada (HMO) in Southern Nevada. All plans offer medical, dental, prescription drug, preventive care, and vision benefits.

Health Savings Account (HSA)

HSAs are available to eligible employees enrolled in the Consumer Driven Health Plan. HSAs are employee-owned accounts and allow tax-free reimbursement of qualifying out-of-pocket healthcare expenses. PEBP provides partial funding on behalf of the employee; employees also have the option to contribute to the HSA on a voluntary basis through pre-tax payroll deductions. HSAs are regulated by the Internal Revenue Service and calendar year contribution limits apply. HSA funds carry over from year to year. Federal law requires the HSA plan administrator to verify the identity of all account holders. If the account holder's identity cannot be verified when the account is opened, the account holder will have 14 days to provide additional documentation to verify identity. If verification is not completed within 14 days, the HSA account will convert to a Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA) for the remainder of the plan year.

Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA)

HRAs are offered to employees enrolled in the Consumer Driven Health Plan who do not meet the eligibility requirements to establish and/or contribute to a Health Savings Account (HSA). The HRA is an employer-owned account that may be used to pay for qualifying out-of-pocket healthcare expenses. PEBP provides tax-free contributions to the HRA on behalf of an eligible employee; however, employee contributions are not allowed.

Benefits Eligibility

To be eligible for benefits, an employee must be working full-time (minimum 80 hours per month) in a benefits-eligible position.

Start of Coverage

Employees working in a full-time position for a State agency are eligible for benefits on their date of hire if that date is on the first day of the month; otherwise, benefits become effective on the first day of the month immediately following the date of hire.

Initial Enrollment for Active Employees

Initial enrollment in a medical plan or a declination of benefits must be completed within 15 days following an employee's date of hire; or no later than the last day of the month coverage is scheduled to become effective. Employees who wish to enroll dependent(s) on their medical plan will need to provide the required supporting eligibility documents to the PEBP office no later than the last day of the month coverage is scheduled to become effective.

Default Enrollment for Active Employees

Employees who fail to enroll in a medical plan or decline benefits by the date coverage is scheduled to become effective will be defaulted to the Consumer Driven Health Plan (CDHP) with a Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA) and "participant only" coverage. Employees enrolled in the CDHP will pay the monthly premium cost for that coverage.

Employee/Employer Premium Cost Share

The State of Nevada provides a premium subsidy for employees based on the medical plan option and coverage tier (participant only, participant + spouse, etc.). The employee's share of the cost of insurance is paid through monthly pre-tax payroll deductions. Employees may decline pre-tax deductions by using the method prescribed by PEBP.

Basic Life Insurance

Employees enrolled in a PEBP medical plan receive a basic life insurance benefit in an amount established by PEBP. (For information regarding Portability and Conversion of the basic life insurance, see Basic Life and Supplemental Life Insurance Portability and Conversion Rights below.)

Long Term Disability Insurance

Employees enrolled in a PEBP medical plan receive long term disability (LTD) insurance. LTD coverage protects against the loss of income in the event of a disability, resulting in an employee's inability to work for an extended time. The plan has a 180-day waiting period before benefits are payable for an approved claim. The LTD payout is 60% of the first $12,500 of monthly earnings, reduced by deductible income.

Supplemental Life Insurance

Employees enrolled in a PEBP medical plan may also purchase voluntary life insurance coverage at group rates. New hire employees may elect coverage in units of $10,000 to a maximum of $500,000. Employees who want to become insured for an amount greater than $100,000 will be required to provide satisfactory evidence of insurability (meaning, an employee will have to answer medical questions or take a physical exam to purchase coverage in excess of $100,000). To apply for the guarantee issue amount, a new employee must apply within 60 days of their PEBP medical plan effective date. Employees may also apply for coverage for their spouse/domestic partner and dependent children.

Basic Life and Supplemental Life Insurance Portability and Conversion Rights

Employees who terminate employment will lose their basic life insurance benefit. The group life insurance policy allows eligible employees to “port” or “convert” the basic life and/or voluntary life insurance, in accordance with policy provisions and limitations, when they lose coverage due to termination of employment.

Under the Portability provision, insured employees may port their life insurance for themselves and any supplemental life insurance for their dependents, if they are:

1. Under the age of 65 on the date employment terminates,
2. Have been insured for at least 12 consecutive months (coverage under the basic life insurance plan qualifies), and
3. Able to perform the material duties of at least one gainful occupation.

Under the conversion provision, insured employees may convert their life and dependent’s supplemental life if:

1. They were insured under the basic life insurance policy,
2. Their insurance is ending due to termination, and
3. They are not losing coverage due to the non-payment of premiums.

The deadline for an insured employee to apply for portability or conversion is 31 days measured from the date PEBP medical coverage ends.

Voluntary Short Term Disability

Employees enrolled in a PEBP medical plan may purchase voluntary short term disability coverage at group rates. Short term disability (STD) is designed to pay a benefit in the event an employee cannot work because of a covered illness, injury or pregnancy. This benefit replaces a portion of an employee’s income in time of need. This plan provides three options with various waiting periods: 1) Option A: 7 days; 2) Option B: 14 days; and 3) Option C: 30 days. The weekly benefit amount is 60% of the first $2,500 of an employee’s weekly earnings, reduced by deductible income. The maximum STD benefit is $1,500 per week. New hire employees who wish to enroll in the product will be eligible for guarantee issue if application is made within 60 days of the employee’s PEBP medical plan effective date. Late enrollment penalties apply for employees who enroll more than 60 days after becoming eligible. STD does not have a conversion or portability option when coverage ends.

Long Term Care Insurance

Long term care is the assistance received when someone needs help with two or more Activities of Daily Living (i.e., dressing, bathing, going to the bathroom, eating, etc.). This care may be provided in the home, in an assisted living or residential care facility or in a skilled nursing home facility. New hire employees have 30 days to enroll in long term care to receive Guarantee Issue coverage.

Flexible Spending Accounts

Health Care, Limited Scope and Dependent Care Flexible Spending Accounts (FSA) allow employees enrolled in certain PEBP medical plans to set aside pre-tax dollars to a special account that may be used to pay for planned out-of-pocket medical, dental, vision and prescription drug expenses and dependent care expenses. If you wish to participate in an FSA, you must enroll within 60 days of your initial coverage effective date, during the open enrollment period, or during a qualifying life status change. The annual election amount is prorated and divided into monthly pre-tax payroll deductions. You must incur qualifying expenses during the FSA plan year which is July 1st through June 30th. Health Care and Limited Scope FSAs have a carryover provision which allow members to carry over up to $500 at the end of one plan year to the next plan year. Any unused funds in excess of $500 at the end of the plan year cannot be carried over to the next plan year and will be forfeited.

Coverage for Survivors of Active Employees

The covered dependents of a deceased active employee who had 10 or more years of service credit may continue coverage by re-joining the program as a survivor within 60 days of the employee's death. Surviving dependents may include the spouse, domestic partner, and children covered on the employee's medical plan on the date of death. Survivors are not required to receive a survivor's pension benefit.

Retiree Coverage for Employees Initially Hired on or after January 1, 2010

Employees initially hired on or after January 1, 2010, but prior to January 1, 2012, and who subsequently retire with less than 15 years of service credit are eligible to elect retiree coverage. A retiree will not qualify for a "years of service" subsidy or Exchange HRA contribution unless the retirement occurs under a long term disability plan.

Retiree Coverage for Employees Initially Hired on or after January 1, 2012

Employees initially hired on or after January 1, 2012, may participate in the program at retirement but will not qualify for a premium subsidy or an Exchange HRA contribution upon retirement.

Exception

Employees initially hired before January 1, 2012, may qualify for a "years of service" subsidy or Exchange HRA contribution if the employee:

- Was initially hired by a State agency or participating non-State agency before January 1, 2012; and
- Vested with the Public Employees' Retirement System (PERS) or the Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE) (did not withdraw [cash out] their pension from PERS or NSHE); and
- Returned to work with a State agency or participating non-State agency on or after January 1, 2012; and
- Upon retirement, the last employer is a State agency or participating non-State entity.

For detailed information regarding employee benefits, please refer to the PEBP Master Plan Document or the Introduction to Employee Benefits Guide available at www.pebp.state.nv.us or call Member Services at (775) 684-7000 or (800) 326-5496, or email Member Services at mservices@peb.state.nv.us.

Health Insurance Benefits for Eligible Pre-Medicare Retirees

PEBP offers eligible retirees a comprehensive benefits package that includes medical, dental, prescription drug coverage, and basic life insurance. The plans offered to pre-Medicare retirees include the statewide Consumer Driven Health Plan with a Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA), the Premier (EPO) Plan in Northern Nevada, and the Health Plan of Nevada (HMO) in Southern Nevada.

Pre-Medicare retirees (and certain Medicare retirees) who meet the requirements to receive a monthly "years of service" premium subsidy will receive a subsidy based upon their retirement date and years of service credit. For more information regarding premium subsidy eligibility, visit the www.pebp.state.nv.us.

Health Insurance Benefits for Eligible Medicare Retirees

Retirees who have Medicare Parts A and B are required to transition to PEBP's Individual Medicare Market Exchange (IMME), Via Benefits (unless the retiree is covering a non-Medicare dependent). Via Benefits offers a variety of plan options such as Medicare Advantage Plans, Medigap (supplement) Plans, Prescription Drug Coverage, Dental, and Vision insurance.

Eligible retirees enrolled in a medical plan through Via Benefits receive a monthly "years of service" Health Reimbursement Arrangement contribution. The HRA monthly contribution is based on a retiree's retirement date and years of service. For more information regarding eligibility requirements for the Via Benefits HRA, visit www.pebp.state.nv.us.

HRAs may be used to pay for qualifying out-of-pocket health care expenses and/or health care premiums.

RETIREMENT PROGRAM

The State of Nevada is interested in contributing to the future as well as the present well-being and financial security of its employees. Additionally, it is our desire to provide employees with a dependable source of income when planning for retirement needs.

Membership

Membership in the retirement system is required for any employee in a position considered to be half-time or more according to the employer's full-time work schedule. The Public Employees' Retirement System (PERS) has over 100,000 active members, consisting of employees from the State of Nevada, most counties and municipalities within the State, school districts, and public hospitals.

Contributions

All base wages earned are subject to retirement contributions. Other pay types must be specifically listed in NRS 286.025 in order to be included in compensation for purposes of PERS. A few exceptions include:

1. Overtime;
2. Holiday pay when the legal holiday occurs on your regular day off;
3. Most boards and commissions pay;
4. All accumulated leave payments made upon termination of employment; and
5. Earnings from secondary employment.

Upon initial appointment; you may select one of two contribution plans:

Employee/Employer Pay Contribution Plan (EEs/ERs): The employee and employer share equally in the contribution to PERS, currently 14.5% each for regular members and 20.75% for police/fire members. Your contributions are subject to withholding for federal income taxes. Your share of the contribution is refundable upon termination. A refund of member contributions cancels membership in the system and any and all rights to a monthly benefit earned. If you elect the employee/employer-pay plan, you may switch at any time to the employer-paid plan.

Employer Pay Contribution Plan (EPC): Employees may voluntarily choose to participate under the EPC plan. If you elect this plan, you pay your portion of the contribution by way of a salary reduction equal to approximately ½ of the contribution rate on a pre-tax basis. Your employer then pays the contribution to PERS, 28.00% for regular members and 40.50% for police/fire members. Contributions made by your employer under EPC are not deposited to an individual member's account and are not available for refund upon termination of employment. Once you select the EPC, you cannot later choose or go back to the EEs/ERs.

If you are on EPC, you contribute by way of gross salary reduction and are paid at a lower rate than employees on EEs/ERs and defer the payment of federal income taxes. As a result, your take home pay is slightly higher than employees on EEs/ERs.

The following chart illustrates the difference in take-home pay based on the contribution plan for a regular employee with a gross salary of $1,227.20 per pay period.

SAMPLE CONTRIBUTION PLAN COMPARISON	EEs/ERs	EPC
Gross Salary	$1,227.20	$1,227.20
Reduction for Employer Pay	N/A	$150.40
Adjusted Gross Salary	$1,227.20	$1,076.80
Employee Retirement Contribution	$177.94	N/A
15% Income Tax Withholding	$184.08	$161.52
Take-Home Pay	$865.18	$915.28

In the chart above, the estimated difference in take-home pay is $50.10 per pay period. Calculations in this table are based on the current Classified Employer Pay Contribution Plan (EPC) Compensation Schedule effective July 2017 and an assumed income tax withholding of 15%.

Service Retirement

If you were hired prior to January 1, 2010: Regular members may retire at age 65 with 5 or more years of service, at age 60 with 10 or more years of service or at any age with 30 years of service. Members covered by the police/fire early retirement provisions may retire at age 65 with 5 or more years of service, at age 55 with 10 or more years of police/fire service, at age 50 with 20 or more years of police/fire service, or at any age with 25 or more years of police/fire service.

If you were hired on or after January 1, 2010: Regular members may retire at age 65 with 5 or more years of service, at age 62 with 10 or more years of service or at any age with 30 years of service. Members covered by the police/fire early retirement provisions may retire at age 65 with 5 years of service, at age 60 with 10 or more years of police/fire service, at age 50 with 20 or more years of police/fire service, or at any age with 30 years of service.

If you were hired on or after July 1, 2015: Regular members may retire at age 65 with 5 or more years of service, at age 62 with 10 or more years of service, at age 55 with at least 30 years of service or at any age with at least 33 1/3 years of service. Members covered by the police/fire early retirement provisions may retire at age 65 with 5 years of service, at age 60 with 10 or more years of service, or at age 50 with at least 20 years of service.

The computation of retirement benefits for full-time employees is based on three factors:

1. Average compensation – The monthly average of your 36 highest salaried consecutive months based on the Employee/Employer Pay Contribution Plan. If you were hired on or after January 1, 2010, there is a provision that each 12 month period of salary may not increase greater than 10% unless the increase is related to a promotion or assignment.
2. Years of service – If you were hired prior to January 1, 2010, you will receive 2.5% of your average compensation for each full year of service earned before July 1, 2001, and 2.67% for each year of service earned on or after July 1, 2001. If you were hired on or after July 1, 1985, you are entitled to a benefit of not more than 75% of your average compensation. If you were hired before July 1, 1985, you are entitled to a maximum of 90% for up to 36 years of service. If you were hired on or after January 1, 2010, and prior to July 1, 2015, (for regular and police/fire members) you will receive 2.5% of your average monthly compensation for each full year of service credit earned up to 75%. If you were hired on or after July 1, 2015, regular members will receive 2.25% of your average monthly compensation for each full year of service (for regular members) up to 75%. Police/Fire members hired on or after July 1, 2015 will receive 2.5% of their average monthly compensation for each full year of service credit up to 75%.
3. Selection of Retirement Option and Age of Member and Beneficiary at the time of Retirement – The unmodified retirement allowance (Option 1) is the maximum allowance a member can receive upon retirement. If you retire prior to reaching your full retirement age you will receive an early retirement reduction for each full year and prorated for each month you are under full retirement age based on years of service. If you were hired prior to January 1, 2010, you will receive a 4% reduction and if you were hired on or after January 1, 2010, you will receive a 6% reduction for each full year under retirement age. Options 2 – 7 provide for a beneficiary and are reduced from the unmodified allowance. The reduction is based on the retiree and beneficiary's ages at the time of retirement and the option chosen.

Disability Retirement

If you are a member of PERS who has at least five years of service and you become totally unable to perform your current or any comparable job for which you are qualified because of injury or mental or physical illness of a permanent nature, you are eligible to apply for a disability retirement allowance. You must apply for disability retirement prior to termination of employment. More information can be found in the Disability Retirement Guide located on the PERS website.

Survivor Benefits

Pursuant to NRS 286.672, eligibility for survivor benefits is established if:

1. The deceased member had 2 years of service in the 2½ years immediately preceding death; or

2. The deceased member was employed in a part-time position at the time of death and had 2 or more years of service in a part-time position and at least 1 day of service within the 6 months immediately preceding death; or
3. The deceased member had ten or more years of accredited, contributing service; or
4. The death of the member was caused by an occupational disease or an accident arising out of and in the course of employment regardless of service credit; or
5. The death of the member occurs within 18 months after termination of employment or commencement of leave without pay where a mental or physical condition required the termination, or leave without pay; or
6. The death of the member occurs while on leave of absence for training and the member met requirements of 1, 2, 3, or 5 at the time such leave began; or
7. The deceased member is killed in the line of duty or in the course of employment if the date of death occurred on or after July 1, 2013.

Survivor benefits may be available to an employee's spouse or registered domestic partner, children or parent when the conditions above are met. A member may designate a survivor beneficiary and additional payees to receive benefits in the event the member dies unmarried, or if the member and spouse or registered domestic partners die together. More detailed information on qualification for receipt of benefits can be obtained by contacting PERS. (NRS 286.671, 286.679)

For additional information on the Public Employee's Retirement System, visit their website at www.nvpers.org. The website contains publications, benefits and purchase of service calculators, account information, FAQ's and news about retirement. PERS can also be contacted toll free at (866) 473-7768, for further information or counseling.

Deferred Compensation

The State offers a deferred compensation plan (457) that is intended to supplement your retirement. Under the deferred compensation program, there is no waiting period and you can voluntarily defer part of your salary on a pre-tax or post-tax ROTH IRA basis for investment purposes. This is a unique way to save money for the future and defer income tax.

The Internal Revenue Code (IRC) and Nevada Public Employees' Deferred Compensation Program established Plan Document strictly defines the conditions under which deferred compensation can be withdrawn. These conditions are: retirement, termination of employment, death, or certified unforeseen emergency. When the money is withdrawn, there is no pre-retirement penalty and it is treated as ordinary income. For additional information, visit the Nevada Deferred Compensation website or contact your personnel or payroll office, or the Deferred Compensation Program administrative staff.

ADDITIONAL BENEFIT PROGRAMS

Workers' Compensation and Disability

As a State employee, you may be eligible to receive workers' compensation benefits if you incur a job-related injury or illness. These benefits may include medical benefits and, if you are unable to work, income maintenance benefits.

You must notify your supervisor of any work-related accident, injury or illness within 7 days of the incident, in writing by completing the Notice of Injury or Occupational Disease form (C-1 form). In any case, if the accident or injury is minor or major, you must notify your supervisor. The C-1 form can be requested from your supervisor or downloaded from the State Risk Management website. You have 90 days from the filing of the C-1 form to seek medical treatment.

If you seek medical treatment, you must notify your supervisor and use a workers' compensation medical provider designated by the State and a Claim for Compensation/Physician's Report of Initial Treatment form (C-4 form) must be completed and signed by the physician. A list of designated medical providers is available on the State Risk Management website. The C-4 form must be filed within 90 days after the date of accident/injury and submitted to your agency as soon as possible. Upon receipt of the C-4 form, and within 6 working days, your agency will complete and submit the Employer's Report of Industrial Injury or Occupational Disease form (C-3 form).

In accordance with the State Early Return to Work Program, if you are temporarily unable to perform your normal job duties, your agency will attempt to place you in a temporary modified duty assignment that accommodates your work restrictions. (NAC 284.600-284.6012)

If you are released to return to work but have permanent restrictions that will not allow you to perform the essential functions of your position, it will be determined whether reasonable accommodation can be made. If not, every effort will be made to place you in a vacant position for which you are qualified and which accommodates your work restrictions. State employees may be reemployed into a position for which they qualify and their permanent restrictions do not preclude them from performing the essential functions of the job. The position must be at or below your pre-injury position grade level. (NAC 284.6014-284.6019)

Employee Assistance Program

The State of Nevada Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is available to assist current State employees (with the exception of the Nevada System of Higher Education and certain boards and commissions) and their eligible dependents with personal problems or workplace concerns. An eligible dependent, for the purposes of the EAP, is any individual living full-time or part-time in the same household as you, as well as any individual defined as a dependent by the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. An eligible dependent does not have to be biologically or legally related to you.

The core of the EAP benefit is traditional counseling providing assessment, short-term counseling, referral, and follow-up services to address personal and work-related issues. You have access to local in-person counseling through the program. Counseling will involve one assessment session and two additional counseling sessions (to include referral, if appropriate).

You may use administrative leave with pay for up to two visits with an EAP counselor, either in-person or over the phone. (NAC 284.589) However, you may also choose to use sick leave, annual leave, or compensatory time. All services provided by the EAP are confidential.

Additionally, work-life services are provided including unlimited customized research and referral support for issues such as child care, elder care, education, government programs, health/wellness, purchases, and moving/relocation. The EAP provides unlimited telephonic consultation and information with licensed attorneys for issues such as family law, ID theft, custody, real estate, estate planning, and tax questions. Additionally, it provides local referrals for in-person legal consultation with discounted fees. It also provides unlimited telephonic consultation and information with financial experts on issues such as budgeting, debt, credit, tax issues, retirement planning, and real estate.

Initial access to services will be through either the toll free phone number or the internet. A Master's or Doctoral degree-level counselor will answer the toll free number 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and 365 days a year.

Good Government, Great Employees Award

The Merit Award Program was established in 1967 and renamed “Good Government, Great Employees Award” by the 2011 State Legislature. The program is designed to recognize and reward State employees for suggestions that reduce or eliminate State expenses or improve the operation of State government through enhanced efficiency and productivity. A board of appointed State employees and employee representatives administer the program. The Merit Award Board may authorize cash awards up to 10% of the amount of actual savings, up to $25,000. By statute, every State employee who is not a department head or designee is eligible to offer an employee suggestion. Suggestion forms and further information are available on the Division of Human Resource Management website. (NRS 285.005-285.070)

Fraud Hotline

The Division of Internal Audits distributes the Report Fraud, Waste, and Abuse flyer to all State agencies. This flyer contains the phone number to the Fraud hotline and must be conspicuously posted in each public building of your agency. A copy of the notice is also available on the Governor's Finance Office website. You can make a difference by reporting inappropriate use of State funds or federal funds received by a State agency.

ATTENDANCE AND LEAVE

Hours of Employment

Although most offices remain open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, many employees work other than the conventional 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. schedule. You may request a variable/innovative work schedule or be required to work such a schedule, when it is approved by the head of your agency and selected by a majority of the employees in your work unit. Variable/innovative schedules may also be required in agencies where coverage is needed on Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays. Your supervisor will explain the work schedule for your particular work unit. (NRS 281.110, 284.180) To request a variable schedule, complete and submit one of the following:

- Request for Variable Workday Schedule form
- Request for Variable 80-Hour Work Schedule form – fire protection and law enforcement

Time and Attendance Records

If you are a nonexempt employee, you will be required to provide an accurate accounting of the hours worked and leave used during a pay period, including the specific times at which your shifts start and end. Exempt employees only account for leave used in full-day increments unless they are approved for partial day absences under the Family and Medical Leave Act. Your agency will provide instructions on these procedures to ensure proper accounting and payment. (NAC 284.5255, 284.5895)

Annual Leave

If you are a new employee working a full-time schedule, you will earn 10 hours (1¼ working days) of annual (vacation) leave for each month of continuous full-time service. You will have accrued 7½ working days of annual leave after six months of full-time service and will be eligible to use leave at this time. Your appointing authority, or his or her designee, must pre-approve annual leave.

After ten years of continuous service, you will earn up to a maximum of 12 hours (1½ working days) of annual leave per month, and, with 15 years of service, up to 14 hours (1¾ working days) per month.

If you are a part-time employee, you will earn a prorated amount of annual leave based on full-time equivalent service.

Annual leave that is accrued in excess of 30 working days must be used by January 1st, after which it will be forfeited. To avoid forfeiture, a request for permission to take annual leave must be submitted to your supervisor by October 15th. Annual leave in excess of the 30 working days, which is requested by this date but denied in writing, is eligible for payment. Payment for unused leave will be made by January 31st.

If you separate from State service and have worked at least six months, you will be paid for any unused annual leave you have accumulated. (NRS 284.350, NAC 284.113, 284.538-284.5415)

Sick Leave

If you are a full-time employee, you earn 10 hours (1¼ working days) of sick leave for each month of full-time service. Part-time employees earn a prorated amount based on full-time equivalent service. Sick leave can be used as soon as it is accrued. (NRS 284.355, NAC 284.113, 284.5415)

You may only use sick leave for authorized reasons. Authorized reasons for using sick leave are: an inability to work because of illness or injury, incapacity due to pregnancy or childbirth, medical and dental appointments, family illness (subject to some limitations), and death in the immediate family (typically up to 5 working days). (NAC 284.554, 284.568)

Nonexempt employees must report any sick leave taken, even if it is for an appointment or part of the day. Exempt employees report sick leave only if absent for a full day unless authorized for Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) leave. (NRS 284.355, NAC 284.5235, 284.5415, 284.5895)

Maternity Leave

Maternity leave is not a special type of leave, but may consist of a combination of sick leave, annual leave, compensatory time, and leave without pay. If you are eligible for the protections under the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), you will be required to use your FMLA entitlement concurrently with applicable leave types, unless you are receiving short term disability benefits. For more information regarding the FMLA as it applies to State employees, a Family and Medical Leave Act \(FMLA\) Overview document is available on the Division of Human Resource Management website.

Family Illness

If there is an illness or a medical, optometric, or dental service or examination in your immediate family requiring your attendance, you may use your accumulated sick leave, not to exceed 120 hours in any one calendar year. Your appointing authority may approve an exception to the 120-hour limit; however, the request must be in writing and accompanied by a certification from a health care provider that verifies the need. In addition, you are not subject to this 120-hour limitation if the leave is approved under the Family and Medical Leave Act. Immediate family (with regard to family illness) is defined as an employee’s parents, spouse, children (regardless of age), brothers, sisters, grandparents, great-grandparents, uncles, aunts, nephews, grandchildren, nieces, great-grandchildren and stepparents; and, if they are living in the employee’s household, the employee’s father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, grandfather-in-law, grandmother-in-law, great-grandfather-in-law, great-grandmother-in-law, uncle-in-law, aunt-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, grandson-in-law, granddaughter-in-law, nephew-in-law, niece-in-law, great-grandson-in-law, and great-granddaughter-in-law. (NAC 284.5231, 284.52315, 284.5235, 284.5237, 284.52375, 284.558, LCB File R017-16)

Death in the Family

In the event of death within the immediate family, up to 5 working days of sick leave may be used. The appointing authority may approve additional time in instances where extended travel is involved. Immediate family in regard to this is defined as: parents, spouse, children, brothers, sisters, grandparents, great-grandparents, uncles, aunts, nephews, grandchildren, nieces, great-grandchildren, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, grandfather-in-law, grandmother-in-law, great-grandfather-in-law, great-grandmother-in-law, uncle-in-law, aunt-in-law, brother-in-law, sister in-law, grandson-in-law, granddaughter-in-law, nephew-in-law, niece-in-law, great-grandson-in-law, great-granddaughter-in-law, step-parents and step-children. (NAC 284.52315, 284.5237, 284.562, LCB File R017-16)

Sick Leave Payoff

Upon retirement or voluntary termination or in the event of death while in public employment, you or your beneficiaries are entitled to payment for your unused sick leave in excess of 30 days up to the following maximum amounts, provided you have at least 10 years of service. Please see the chart on the next page.

Years of Service	Maximum Payoff Amount
10 or more but less than 15	$2,500
15 or more but less than 20	$4,000
20 or more but less than 25	$6,000
25 or more years	$8,000

Additionally, you may be eligible to receive a portion of your unused sick leave accrued but not carried forward (also known as special sick), when you leave State service. (NRS 284.355)

Use the following formula and example to determine the amount of payoff:

Formula:

$$\frac{\begin{array}{|c|} \hline \text{Sick Leave Hours Accrued} \\ \text{\& Not Carried Forward} \\ \hline \end{array} + \begin{array}{|c|} \hline \text{120 Hours Accrued} \\ \text{Regular Sick Leave} \\ \hline \end{array}}{2} \times \begin{array}{|c|} \hline \text{Rate of Pay} \\ \hline \end{array} = \begin{array}{|c|} \hline \text{Payment Amount} \\ \hline \end{array}$$

Example:

$$\frac{\begin{array}{|c|} \hline \text{70 Sick Leave Hours} \\ \text{Accrued & Not Carried} \\ \text{Forward} \\ \hline \end{array} + \begin{array}{|c|} \hline \text{120 Hours Accrued} \\ \text{Regular Sick Leave} \\ \hline \end{array}}{2} \times \begin{array}{|c|} \hline \text{$16.80} \\ \hline \end{array} = \begin{array}{|c|} \hline \text{$1,596.00} \\ \hline \end{array}$$

Employee Rights Under the Family and Medical Leave Act

Leave Entitlements

Eligible employees who work for a covered employer can take up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave in a 12-month period for the following reasons:

- The birth of a child or placement of a child for adoption or foster care;
- To bond with a child (leave must be taken within 1 year of the child's birth or placement);
- To care for the employee's spouse, child, or parent who has a qualifying serious health condition;
- For the employee's own qualifying serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the employee's job; or
- For qualifying exigencies related to the foreign deployment of a military member who is the employee's spouse, child, or parent.

An eligible employee who is a covered service member's spouse, child, parent, or next of kin may also take up to 26 weeks of FMLA leave in a single 12-month period to care for the service member with a serious injury or illness.

The State of Nevada provides the required up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave to eligible employees for the above reasons and certain military family qualifying exigencies during a "rolling" 12-month period measured backward from the date an employee uses FMLA leave.

An employee does not need to use leave in one block. When it is medically necessary or otherwise permitted, employees may take leave intermittently or on a reduced schedule.

Employees may choose, or an employer may require, use of accrued paid leave while taking FMLA leave. If an employee substitutes accrued paid leave for FMLA leave, the employee must comply with the employer's normal paid leave policies.

The State of Nevada requires use of applicable accrued paid leave while taking FMLA leave. Employees must comply with the State of Nevada's and the agency's normal paid leave policies. If an employee meets the FMLA eligibility requirements and has a qualifying FMLA leave event, the employee must take FMLA leave and exhaust his or her applicable accrued leave concurrently with the FMLA leave, unless the employee is receiving short term disability benefits. If an employee is eligible for FMLA leave due to a work-related injury or illness, the employee must take FMLA leave and may choose to use his or her applicable accrued leave concurrently with FMLA leave.

Benefits & Protections

While employees are on FMLA leave, employers must continue health insurance coverage as if the employees were not on leave.

Upon return from FMLA leave, most employees must be restored to the same job or one nearly identical to it with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms and conditions.

An employer may not interfere with an individual's FMLA rights or retaliate against someone for using or trying to use FMLA leave, opposing any practice made unlawful by the FMLA, or being involved in any proceeding under or related to the FMLA.

Eligibility Requirements

An employee who works for a covered employer must meet three criteria in order to be eligible for FMLA leave. The employee must:

- Have worked for the employer for at least 12 months;
- Have at least 1,250 hours of service in the 12 months before taking leave;* and
- Work at a location where the employer has at least 50 employees within 75 miles of the employee's worksite.

*Special "hours of service" requirements apply to airline flight crew employees.

Requesting Leave

Generally, employees must give 30-days' advance notice of the need for FMLA leave. If it is not possible to give 30-days' notice, an employee must notify the employer as soon as possible and, generally, follow the employer's usual procedures.

Employees do not have to share a medical diagnosis, but must provide enough information to the employer so it can determine if the leave qualifies for FMLA protection. Sufficient information could include informing an employer that the employee is or will be unable to perform his or her job functions, that a family member cannot perform daily activities, or that hospitalization or continuing medical treatment is necessary. Employees must inform the employer if the need for leave is for a reason for which FMLA leave was previously taken or certified.

Employers can require a certification or periodic recertification supporting the need for leave. If the employer determines that the certification is incomplete, it must provide a written notice indicating what additional information is required.

Employer Responsibilities

Once an employer becomes aware that an employee's need for leave is for a reason that may qualify under the FMLA, the employer must notify the employee if he or she is eligible for FMLA leave and, if eligible, must also provide a notice of rights and responsibilities under the FMLA. If the employee is not eligible, the employer must provide a reason for ineligibility.

Employers must notify its employees if leave will be designated as FMLA leave, and if so, how much leave will be designated as FMLA leave.

Enforcement

Employees may file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division, or may bring a private lawsuit against an employer.

The FMLA does not affect any federal or state law prohibiting discrimination or supersede any state or local law or collective bargaining agreement that provides greater family or medical leave rights.

For additional information or to file a complaint: (866) 4-USWAGE (866) 487-9243; TTY: (877) 889-5627; <https://www.dol.gov/whd>

(U.S. Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division, WH1420a REV 04/16)

For more information regarding the FMLA as a State of Nevada Executive Branch employee, a Family and Medical Leave Act \(FMLA\) Overview document is available on the Division of Human Resource Management website.

Holidays

If you are a full-time nonexempt employee, you may be entitled to eight hours of holiday pay. (Under certain circumstances, an employee may earn additional holiday pay). To qualify, you must be in “paid status” for a portion of your scheduled shift before the holiday. As a part-time nonexempt employee, you may qualify for holiday pay if the holiday falls on your scheduled workday and you were in “paid status” during any portion of your shift immediately preceding the holiday. If this is the case, you will be paid the equivalent amount you would have been paid if there had not been a holiday. Check with your supervisor or personnel representative if you have a question regarding eligibility for pay. (NAC 284.0742)

If you are a full-time nonexempt employee and your day off coincides with a legal holiday, your appointing authority may adjust your work schedule for the week, credit your account with eight hours of compensatory time at the straight-time rate, or pay you for the holiday.

Exempt employees receive their regular salary during a week in which a holiday occurs, regardless of whether they work or have the day off.

The holiday schedule for State employees is established by the Legislature. The following are legal holidays for State employees:

January 1 st	New Year’s Day
Third Monday in January	Martin Luther King Jr.’s Birthday
Third Monday in February	Washington’s Birthday
Last Monday in May	Memorial Day

July 4 th	Independence Day
First Monday in September	Labor Day
Last Friday in October	Nevada Day
November 11 th	Veterans Day
Fourth Thursday in November	Thanksgiving Day
Friday following the fourth Thursday in November	Family Day
December 25 th	Christmas Day

When January 1st, July 4th, November 11th, or December 25th falls on a Saturday, the preceding Friday is the observed legal holiday. If these days fall on Sunday, the following Monday is the observed legal holiday. (NRS 236.015, NAC 284.255-284.257)

Catastrophic Leave

You may qualify for catastrophic leave if you or a member of your immediate family is affected by a serious illness, accident, or a motor vehicle crash which is life-threatening or which requires a lengthy convalescence, or there is a death of an immediate family member. For this purpose:

1. “Lengthy convalescence” means a period of disability that an attending physician expects to exceed 10 consecutive weeks.
2. “Life threatening” means a condition which is diagnosed by a physician as creating a substantial risk of death.
3. For illness, “Immediate family” has the meaning ascribed to it in NAC 284.5235.
4. For death, “Immediate family” has the meaning ascribed to it in NAC 284.562.

In addition to the above requirements, you must have exhausted all of your accrued sick leave, annual leave, and compensatory time, and you must receive approval from your appointing authority or the State’s Committee on Catastrophic Leave to be eligible for catastrophic leave donations. The maximum number of hours of catastrophic leave you can be approved to use in a calendar year is 1,040.

You may donate to your agency catastrophic leave bank, if your agency has one, or you may also donate leave directly to a catastrophic leave account for use by a specific employee in any branch of State government who is approved to receive such leave.

As an employee of the State, you are permitted to donate up to a maximum of 120 hours of annual leave and/or sick leave each calendar year. Your sick leave balance, however, must not fall below 240 hours as a result of such donation.

If you have questions regarding the approval of leave or donation of leave to an account, you should contact your personnel representative. (NRS 284.362-284.3629, NAC 284.562, 284.575-284.577)

Administrative Leave with Pay

Your appointing authority may grant administrative leave with pay to you:

1. To relieve you of your duties during the active investigation of a suspected criminal violation or an alleged wrongdoing;
2. For up to 2 hours to donate blood;
3. To relieve you of your duties until your appointing authority receives the results of a screening test for alcohol and/or drugs;
4. To attend a general employee-benefits orientation or an educational session relating to employee benefits;
5. When your appointing authority initiates the leave, not to exceed 30 days, in order to obtain the results of an examination concerning your ability to perform the essential functions of your position; or
6. To remove you from the work environment, not to exceed 30 days, when you have committed an act of violence or threatened to commit an act of violence.

Your appointing authority, upon the approval of the Risk Management Division of the Department of Administration, may extend the period of administrative leave with pay granted to you:

1. To obtain the results of an examination concerning your ability to perform the essential functions of your position; or
2. To remove you from the work environment, when you have committed an act of violence or threatened to commit an act of violence.

Your appointing authority or the Division of Human Resource Management may grant administrative leave with pay to you for:

1. Participation in, or attendance at, activities which are directly or indirectly related to your job or employment with the State, but which do not require your participation or attendance in an official capacity as a State employee;
2. Your safety during an emergency when employees have been authorized by the Governor not to report to work or to leave work before the end of their shifts during the emergency (your appointing authority may designate certain employees as essential and notify them that they are required to report to work);
3. The closure of your office or work site caused by a natural disaster, pandemic or other similar adverse condition when you are scheduled and expected to be at work (your appointing authority may designate certain employees as essential and notify them that they are required to report to work); or
4. The closure, as a result of a pandemic, of a school or a center or facility that provides day care services which is attended by your dependent child or the temporary cancellation, as a result of a pandemic, of a program attended by your dependent child (your appointing authority may designate certain employees as essential and notify them that they are required to report to work).

Your appointing authority or the Division of Human Resource Management shall grant administrative leave with pay to you if the request is for a reasonable amount of time, is made at least 2 weeks prior, unless impractical, and your absence will not cause an undue hardship to operations of your appointing authority or adversely impact the services provided to clients for your appearance:

1. As an aggrieved employee, a complainant, or a witness at a hearing of the Employee-Management Committee;
2. As a witness at a hearing regarding another employee's whistleblower retaliation claim or involuntary transfer, dismissal, demotion or suspension; or
3. Appearance to provide testimony at a meeting of the Personnel Commission.

Your appointing authority shall grant administrative leave with pay to you for:

1. The initial appointment and one follow-up visit to receive counseling through an employee assistance program provided in-person or telephonically;
2. Attendance at a health fair or related event coordinated by Public Employees' Benefits Program;
3. Serving as a representative of State employees on a statutorily created board or committee;
4. Up to a total of eight hours to prepare for any hearing regarding your whistleblower retaliation claim, involuntary transfer, suspension, demotion, dismissal; or
5. Up to a total of eight hours to appear for a hearing regarding your whistleblower retaliation claim, involuntary transfer, suspension, demotion, or dismissal. (NAC 284.589)

Civil Leave with Pay

In most cases, if you are required to serve on a jury or as a witness in court or at an administrative hearing (if you are not a party to the action), you will be given civil leave with pay. NRS 6.190 outlines the hours you may not be required to work in relation to your service as a juror as well as your requirement to provide your agency notice of your summons at least 3 days before your required appearance.

You may keep jury or witness fees paid to you when you serve on a jury or as a witness in a court or at an administrative hearing when the action is not related to your job, and if the State has not provided payment for the same purpose. When you serve as a witness in your official capacity as a State employee as part of your required duties or as a witness, during your normal working hours, you must accept any witness fee offered and relinquish it to your agency.

Civil leave with pay will also be granted if:

1. You need time off to vote and it is impractical to vote before or after your hours of employment;
2. You are requested by the American National Red Cross as a disaster technician to assist due to an emergency or disaster in Nevada, California, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, or Arizona for up to 15 working days in a year if your appointing authority approves it;
3. You are an emergency communications technician requested by the Department of Public Safety's Division of Emergency Management or a local organization for emergency management during a disaster or emergency which occurs in Nevada, California, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, or Arizona for up to 15 working days in a year if your appointing authority approves it;
4. You are an acting volunteer firefighter, emergency medical technician, volunteer ambulance driver or attendant, or reserve member of a police department or a sheriff's department; or

5. Your absence from the job is necessary to meet a disaster or emergency and your appointing authority approves it. (NRS 281.147, 281.149, 284.357, 293.463, NAC 284.582-284.587)

Military Leave

If you are an active member of the Reserves or National Guard, you will be given a leave of absence with pay for up to a maximum of the number of hours equivalent to 15 working days in any one calendar year (Office of the Military calculates based on the federal fiscal year) in order to perform active military service (e.g. training, deployment). Additionally, if you are an active member of the Reserves or National Guard, and your regular work schedule includes Saturday and/or Sunday, you are entitled to receive the difference between your regular compensation as a State officer or employee and your military pay for military training scheduled on a Saturday and/or Sunday, up to the number of hours equivalent to 24 working days in a calendar year (Office the Military calculates based on the federal fiscal year). (NRS 281.145, NAC 284.5875)

If you perform qualifying military service (e.g. service in time of war) during your employment with the State of Nevada, you will be granted a leave of absence for the period of your military service plus a period up to 90 days. (NRS 284.359)

If you are an employee who performs active military service in the Armed Forces, Commissioned Corps of the United States Public Health Service, or any other category designated by the President or Governor, “in time of war or emergency,” you are entitled to civil leave with reduced pay for the period of such service. The reduced pay is the difference between your gross State pay and your gross pay for uniformed service. (NRS 284.358)

Additional information regarding State employees’ military service rights can be found in the Overview of the Uniformed Services Employment & Reemployment Rights Act \(USERRA\) which is located on the Division of Human Resource Management website.

Release Time for State Examinations

Release time during normal working hours will be provided to you if you qualify to participate in any examination given by the Division of Human Resource Management or its designated representative, provided you give reasonable notice to your immediate supervisor. A formal interview with the hiring State agency is considered part of the examination process. Release time within your normal workday will be considered the same as time worked. However, hours used for this purpose exceeding the normal workday or workweek do not qualify for overtime. (NAC 284.353)

Leave of Absence without Pay

A leave of absence without pay may be approved for up to one year by your appointing authority for any satisfactory reason. The Personnel Commission, upon recommendation of your appointing authority, may grant a leave of absence without pay in excess of one year, for purposes deemed beneficial to the public service.

A leave of absence shall be granted to accept a position in the Legislative Branch during regular or special session of the Legislature if you are in a classified position. (NRS 284.360, NAC 284.578)

Shift Trading

You may enter into a written agreement to trade shifts with another employee who is also employed by your agency if you and the other employee each enters the agreement voluntarily, performs work in the same class, and obtains approval from your appointing authority. (NAC 284.228)

Reporting Absences

If you are absent from work, you are required to report the reason for your absence to your supervisor or designated representative as prescribed by your agency. If you are a nonexempt employee, you are also required to record the absence on your timesheet. (Unclassified employees report leave in full-day increments.)

Any unauthorized or unreported absence may be grounds for disciplinary action. Your appointing authority may dismiss you for any absence without approved leave for three consecutive days during which you are scheduled to work. If you are physically unable to report your absence, you should have someone else do it for you. (NAC 284.5895, 284.594, 284.646)

Benefits Relating to Domestic Violence

An employee who has 90 days of employment with the State is entitled not more than 160 hours of leave (potentially including annual leave, sick leave and/or leave without pay) in one 12-month period beginning on the date of the act of domestic violence if an employee is a victim of an act of domestic violence or his or her family or household member is a victim of domestic violence.

An employee may take leave related to an act of domestic violence to:

1. Obtain a diagnosis, care or treatment of a related health condition;
2. Obtain counseling or assistance;
3. Participate in any related court proceedings; or
4. Establish a safety plan.

An agency shall provide accommodations such as relocation of a work space or duty location, modification of a work schedule, or a new work phone number to an employee who is a victim of an act of domestic violence or whose family or household member is a victim of domestic violence unless an accommodation would pose an undue hardship.

FEDERAL LAWS AND STATE POLICIES

Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action

It is the policy of the State of Nevada that employee recruitment, appointment, assignment, training, compensation, and promotion shall occur on the basis of merit and without regard to race, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, religion, color, national origin, age, pregnancy, political affiliation, domestic partnership, or disability. Ensuring equal employment opportunity is the responsibility of all State officials, managers, supervisors, and employees.

Additionally, as an equal employment opportunity employer, the State of Nevada encourages all its agencies to actively pursue, in good faith, effective affirmative action programs. Such programs are designed to remove barriers to equal employment opportunity, while ensuring the effectiveness of the State merit system. Affirmative action is a comprehensive, result-oriented effort to ensure that equal employment opportunity is achieved. It encourages diversity in the work force in that the composition of State government mirrors the public it is serving.

Sexual Harassment and Discrimination Policy

Sexual harassment is a form of discrimination that is unlawful under State and federal statutes. The State of Nevada regards it as a very serious offense that, under certain conditions, can lead to termination even on the first occurrence. "Sexual harassment" means unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or any other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

1. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of a person's employment; or
2. Submission to or rejection of such conduct by a person is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting that person; or
3. Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with a person's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment.

Employees have the right to raise the issue of sexual harassment or discrimination without reprisal. If you believe you have been a victim of sexual harassment or discrimination, you are encouraged to advise the person you believe to have engaged in sexual harassment or discrimination, that the conduct is unwelcome, undesirable, or offensive. If you elect not to confront the alleged harasser or if the conduct persists after your objection, you should inform your supervisor, next level of authority, or Human Resources. Harassment is an organizational problem and the State wants to know about it so that prompt and appropriate action can be taken to ensure that no further incidents occur with the present victim or other employees in the future. If you experience or witness sexual harassment or discrimination, you should report it by doing one of the following:

- Report the incident(s) to your agency coordinator;
- File an online complaint at: <http://neats.state.nv.us>;
- Complete form Sexual Harassment or Discrimination Complaint form \(NPD-30\) located on the Division of Human Resource Management website; or
- Call the Division of Human Resource Management's Harassment/ Discrimination Hotline at (800) 767-7381.

Employees are also entitled to file a complaint with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (<https://www.eeoc.gov>), the Nevada Equal Rights Commission (<http://detr.state.nv.us/nerc.htm>), or consult with an attorney or labor representative.

The State of Nevada Executive Branch Sexual Harassment and Discrimination Policy prohibits retaliation against employees who bring sexual harassment or discrimination charges or assist in investigating charges. Any employee bringing a sexual harassment or discrimination complaint or assisting in the investigation of such a complaint will not be adversely affected in terms and conditions of employment, nor discriminated against or discharged because of the complaint. Failure to participate in any investigation of alleged discrimination, including an investigation concerning sexual harassment, may lead to disciplinary action. (NRS 233.160, 613.330, 613.405, NAC 284.650, 284.771)

SAFETY AND HEALTH PROGRAMS

State of Nevada agencies have written safety programs that outline policies and procedures concerning employee safety. These programs identify specific safety training requirements and accident investigation procedures, provide for safety inspections and corrective action, and establish specific safety rules for your job. Most agencies have a safety committee that identifies and reviews employee safety concerns.

You are expected to follow all safety rules established by your agency, the State of Nevada, and the federal government. You are also expected to practice safe job procedures and to avoid situations that could jeopardize your safety or the safety of your fellow workers. Since employees on the job are frequently more aware of unsafe conditions than anyone else, employees are expected to report these conditions immediately, and to make recommendations and suggestions for improvement and corrective actions.

The Department of Administration, Risk Management Division, Occupational Safety and Health Administration's (OSHA's), Safety Consultation and Training Section (SCATS), and OSHA's Enforcement Division are available to all State agencies for consultation regarding safety related matters. OSHA's Enforcement Division may be contacted to respond to safety hazards that are not addressed or corrected by an agency.

<http://risk.nv.gov/>

<http://www.4safenv.state.nv.us/>

Workplace Violence

The personal safety and health of each employee is of primary importance. It is the responsibility of all employees to support safety and health programs by reporting any threats received or restraining orders granted against a disgruntled spouse, domestic partner, acquaintance, or others. You must report all incidents of direct or indirect threats and actual violent events to a supervisor, and the matter will be treated seriously. A direct or indirect threat and/or actual violence will be documented and reported to both the Attorney General's office and the Department of Administration, Risk Management Division using the report form found on their website <http://risk.nv.gov/LP/WV/>. All incidents will be immediately investigated and appropriate action taken. (NAC 284.646-284.650)

Alcohol and Drug-Free Workplace

The State of Nevada has a zero tolerance for employees who consume alcohol or drugs while on duty, report to work in an impaired condition, or unlawfully possess drugs while on duty, at a work site, or on State property (see the State's Alcohol/Drug Free Workplace policy). Included in the State of Nevada Alcohol and Drug Program are provisions for pre-employment drug testing of applicants for designated positions affecting public safety and the testing of employees when there is reasonable suspicion (i.e. objective evidence) that an employee may be under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs, following a work-related accident or injury, and before returning to work following a positive test result.

The State's allowable concentration of alcohol in the blood and/or breath is 0.02 for employees on duty. This is a more stringent standard than those used by law enforcement for the general population. This standard was established to ensure that you have the ability to safely and efficiently perform your assigned duties. If you violate this policy, you will be subject to disciplinary action. If you test positive for the first time in a screening test, and have committed no other acts for which you are subject to termination during the course of conduct giving rise to the screening test, you will be referred to an employee assistance program for consultation. If you have been convicted of driving under the influence while on State business, you will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

If you are convicted of violating any State or federal law prohibiting the sale of a controlled substance, you will be subject to termination.

The State's policy is applicable to all classified and unclassified employees. The policy does not restrict agencies from augmenting the provisions of this policy with additional policies and procedures that are necessary to carry out the regulatory requirements of the Drug-Free Workplace Act or Title 49 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Part 40 & Part 382. A copy of the State of Nevada Alcohol and Drug Program may be obtained on the Division of Human Resource Management website. (NRS 193.105, 284.406-284.407, NAC 284.650-284.653, 284.880-284.894)

Driving State Owned Vehicles or Personal Vehicle for Official State Business

Each employee who operates a vehicle for official State business is required to take and pass the four-hour Defensive Driving class offered by Risk Management, and to take the online refresher course every four years thereafter. The Defensive Driving Training Requirement memorandum explains this requirement and may also be found on the Risk Management website. You are responsible for following all motor vehicle laws and must operate the vehicle in a safe manner at all times.

Pursuant to subsection 2 of NRS 284.4065, your appointing authority may request that you submit to a screening test for drugs and/or alcohol if during the performance of your duties, you drove a motor vehicle in such a manner as to cause bodily injury to yourself or another person, or substantial damage to property. Per NAC 284.888, "substantial damage to property" includes, but is not limited to (1) the operation of a motor vehicle in such a manner as to cause more than $500 worth of property damage; or (2) the operation of a motor vehicle in such a manner as to cause two property accidents within a 1-year period.

Employees who test positive for a controlled substance and/or are found to have a blood alcohol content of more than 0.02% can be denied workers' compensation benefits and are subject to disciplinary measures. Additionally, the employee can be held responsible for the vehicle's insurance deductible.

Smoking Policy

State law prohibits smoking in public buildings. (NRS 202.2491) This policy applies to buildings that are either owned or leased by the State and are managed by the State Public Works Division's Buildings & Grounds unit. Contact your agency personnel representative for information regarding smoking policies that may apply specifically to the building in which you work. Smoking is prohibited in, near, or adjacent to any entrance or exit of any public building. The "no smoking zone" is a minimum of 30 feet, and a smoking location must be far enough away from the entrance or exit of any public building so that no smoke will drift or travel into the building or be smelled by any person entering or exiting the building. Authorized smoking locations must be outdoors in an area that is safe and free from any hazardous chemicals, materials, or conditions.

EMPLOYEE ORGANIZATIONS

You may join and participate in employee organizations of State and government employees and take an active part in the formulation of programs and objectives of such organizations. Participation as an officer, committee member, or in any other capacity is your personal choice. (NRS 284.425)

PROHIBITIONS AND PENALTIES

There are very few limitations on your personal activities as a State employee. Some agencies have defined restrictions more exactly than others because of the nature of the agency's functions. Check with your employing agency for precise prohibitions.

In general, you are not permitted to engage in any employment, activity, or enterprise that conflicts with your duties as a State employee. The nature of these conflicts is determined by your agency's appointing authority and a copy of these restrictions will be made available to you. You are prohibited from accepting, from any other source, payment for duties you perform as part of your regular job assignment. You are expected to devote your full attention and efforts to your assigned tasks during your hours of State employment. (NAC 284.738-284.770)

Disclosure of Improper Governmental Action

The law specifically encourages any State officer or employee to disclose improper governmental action to the extent not expressly prohibited by law. It is the intent of the Legislature to protect your rights, should you make such a disclosure. "Improper governmental action" means any action taken by a State officer or employee in the performance of his or her official duties, whether or not the action is within the scope of his or her employment, which is:

1. In violation of any State law or regulation;
2. An abuse of authority;
3. Of substantial and specific danger to the public health or safety; or
4. A gross waste of public money.

State officers and employees are prohibited by State law from using their authority or influence to prevent your disclosure of improper governmental action. "Official authority or influence" includes taking, directing others to take, recommending, processing, or approving any personnel action such as an appointment, promotion, transfer, assignment, reassignment, reinstatement, restoration, reemployment, evaluation, or other disciplinary action.

NRS 281.641 sets forth the appeal process in the event reprisal or retaliatory action is taken against a State officer or employee who discloses improper governmental action. Any claim of reprisal or retaliatory action must be filed with the Division Administrator of the Division of Human Resource Management within 10 working days after the alleged reprisal or retaliation occurred. The claim must be submitted on the Appeal of "Whistleblower" Retaliation Under the Provisions of NRS 281.641 form (NPD-53) provided on the Division of Human Resource Management website. You may contact the Division of Human Resource Management for more information. (NRS 281.611-281.671)

Discipline

If your performance as an employee for the State falls below standard your supervisor will inform you promptly and specifically of the deficiencies. If you are a permanent employee and your conduct comes under one of the causes for action listed in NAC 284.646, 284.650, or your agency prohibitions and penalties, you will be subject to discipline. Disciplinary action will typically be of a progressive nature depending on the severity of the offense.

A discussion of the specific types of disciplinary actions, including oral warnings, written reprimands, suspensions, demotions, and dismissals, can be found in NRS 284.383 and NAC 284.638-284.656.

Policy on Honorarium

State law prohibits public employees and public officers from accepting or receiving an honorarium, defined as the payment of money or anything of value, for an appearance or speech while acting in the capacity of a public officer or public employee. (NRS 281A.510)

Political Activity

Employees may vote as they choose and express their political opinions on any or all subjects without recourse, except that no employee may:

1. Directly or indirectly solicit or receive, or be in any manner concerned in soliciting or receiving, any assessment, subscription, or monetary or non-monetary contribution for a political purpose from anyone who is in the same department and who is a subordinate of the solicitor.
2. Engage in political activity during the hours of State employment to improve the chances of a political party or a person seeking office, or at any time engage in political activity to secure a preference for a promotion, transfer, or increase in pay. (NAC 284.770)

The Federal Hatch Act, as amended in Title 5 U.S.C. 1501–1508, prohibits certain types of political activity on the part of State employees whose principal employment is in a federally funded program.

EMPLOYEE DISPUTE RESOLUTION

Mediation

Mediation is offered to employees as a voluntary, informal, and confidential process that may be beneficial in assisting disputing parties in reaching a workable resolution to a particular situation. The mediation process is not designed to limit or replace established grievance or complaint procedures, but serves as a supplement to the more formal process.

This program allows employees the opportunity to discuss issues and clear up misunderstandings, determine the underlying causes of concerns, find areas of agreement and ultimately formalize a resolution to those issues in a written agreement.

You may make a request to management, your agency coordinator, and/or the Mediation Program Coordinator of your needs or intent to enter into the process, with the understanding that all involved parties must voluntarily agree to mediate.

The mediation policy, forms, and general information may be found on the Division of Human Resource Management website.

Grievance Procedure

It is State policy to ensure that employees receive fair and equitable treatment. The Division of Human Resource Management supports employee-supervisor relations by encouraging communication and reconciliation of work-related problems. The grievance procedure is available for expressing legitimate dissatisfaction without fear of criticism or retaliation.

If you are aggrieved by an action that relates, but is not limited, to such issues as working conditions, discipline, a report on performance, or the inconsistent application of policies and procedures, you may file a written grievance. Before filing a grievance, you should attempt to resolve the situation through informal discussions with your supervisor.

It is important to note that a grievance must be filed within 20 working days after the date of the event you are grieving or the date that you learned of the event. Grievances regarding reports on performance must be filed within 10 working days after you have received the final decision of your appointing authority following your request to review the report. The specified period to resolve a grievance may be extended if you and your agency enter into a written agreement. Please note that a grievance must include a proposed resolution. You may file a grievance electronically via the NEATS homepage or hard copy forms are available through the Division of Human Resource Management website and your agency personnel office. Information on how to file a grievance may be found on the Grievance FAQ's. (NAC 284.658 -284.697, LCB File No. R076-15)

Complaint Procedure

Reasonable break times and a place for an employee who is a nursing mother with a child under the age of 1 must be provided to express breast milk. Coordination between the employee and department or agency is encouraged to determine the employee's specific needs. Each department or agency will have a procedure for such requests, so please check with your department or agency's human resources office.

If you believe your department or agency has failed to comply with the requirements, or you are subjected to retaliation for the use of break times or a place to express breast milk, or for taking any action to ensure compliance with these requirements, a complaint may be filed with the Employee-Management Committee. Before filing a complaint, you should attempt to resolve the situation through informal discussions with your agency or department.

A complaint such as this must be submitted on the Complaint – Nursing Mother Request or Retaliation paper form (HR-88) within 10 working days after the department or agency's response, or lack thereof, to the request for the use of break times or a place to express breast milk. The specified period to resolve such a complaint may be extended if you and your agency enter into a written agreement.

Resolution Conference

After a grievance or complaint has been submitted to the Employee-Management Committee for consideration, either the grievant or agency may request a resolution conference thereby mandating participation from both parties. A resolution conference is an informal meeting between the parties with the assistance of a neutral facilitator. The resolution conference provides an additional opportunity for a grievance to be discussed and for possible solutions to be considered. (NRS 284.384, NAC 284.6952)

Internal Administrative Investigation

Before discussing a potential violation with an employee during an internal administrative investigation, an appointing authority must provide the employee with the Notice of Employee Rights During an Internal Investigation (NPD-32) within 30 days after the appointing authority becomes aware, or reasonably should have become aware, of the allegations. An appointing authority may not take disciplinary action against an employee if a determination is not made within 90 days after the employee is provided with the notice. The 90 day period may be extended if approved by the Administrator of the Division of Human Resource Management prior to the end of the 90 day period. (NRS 284.387)

Appeal of Suspension, Demotion, or Dismissal

Except as otherwise provided in NAC 284.646 and 284.6563, the Nevada Administrative Code requires an appointing authority, who proposes to suspend, demote or dismiss an employee, to provide the employee with at least 10 working days' written notice. A pre-disciplinary hearing with the appointing authority or a designated representative is also required. Following the hearing, the employee must be informed in writing of the appointing authority's decision regarding the proposed action on or before its effective date. If you are a permanent employee and are suspended, demoted, or dismissed, you may appeal to one of the hearing officers provided by the Personnel Commission using the Appeal of Dismissal, Suspension, Demotion, or Involuntary Transfer form (NPD-54) found on the Division of Human Resource Management website. Appeals must be submitted within 10 working days from the effective date of the action to the Division Administrator of Human Resource Management. You may also appeal an involuntary transfer if you believe the transfer was made for the purpose of harassing you. (NRS 284.376, 284.390, NAC 284.656)

SEPARATIONS

Separation from State service includes both voluntary and involuntary separations. The following discusses voluntary resignations from State service and involuntary terminations as a result of a layoff or discharge.

Resignation

It is important to the State to have adequate advance knowledge of an employee's desire to terminate his or her employment. You are expected to submit your resignation at least two weeks prior to the intended termination date. Once your resignation is accepted by your appointing authority, you may not revoke your resignation after 3 working days, unless your appointing authority agrees to the revocation. Your resignation should be submitted on the Notice of Transfer or Resignation form (NPD-45) available on the Division of Human Resource Management website. (NRS 284.381, NAC 284.602)

Layoff

In the event it becomes necessary to reduce the workforce due to a shortage of work or money, the abolition of a position or some other material change in duties or organization, nonpermanent employees must be separated from service before permanent employees. If it becomes necessary to lay off permanent employees, the order of layoff will be based on seniority.

If you are a permanent employee affected by a layoff, you will have reemployment rights. You may also be eligible for unemployment compensation for the period during which you are unemployed. The State of Nevada's Department of Employment, Training and Rehabilitation, Employment Security Division determines eligibility and benefits for unemployment compensation. Contact the Division of Human Resource Management regarding reemployment. (NAC 284.612-284.632)

Discharge

New hires serving probationary periods and who have not attained permanent status in a class may be terminated at any time for any legal reason. (NRS 284.290, NAC 284.458)

If you have completed the required probationary period and attained the status of a permanent employee, you can only be terminated for cause or as a result of a physical, mental, or emotional disorder which results in your inability to perform the essential functions of your job.

Grounds for disciplinary action are set forth in NAC 284.650 and 284.653, and must be described as part of the notice and hearing requirements in NAC 284.6563 when dismissal is proposed. In accordance with the notice and hearing requirements, if you are recommended for termination, you must be given at least 10 working days' written notice of the proposed action, with the exceptions as provided in NAC 284.646 and NAC 284.6563. A hearing must be scheduled between you and the appointing authority or his or her designated representative to discuss the proposed action before a final decision is rendered by your appointing authority.
