

Phoenix Scholarship Reward Program

Your road to graduation just got a little more affordable

Now is the time to earn your degree. Our Phoenix Scholarship Reward Program can help make your dream of a better future — and more career opportunities — a reality.

At University of Phoenix, we're regularly evaluating our learning model, curricula, degree programs and affordability to ensure we're delivering an education that will help you connect to a rewarding career. For a limited time, we're offering new and transfer students, like you, the opportunity to earn reduced tuition as you progress through your associate, bachelor's or master's* degree program. Show us your commitment to make it to graduation, and we'll help you save as much as $10,800 along the way.

To further prioritize the affordability of your education at University of Phoenix, we are also implementing a tuition freeze for students who participate in and remain eligible for the Phoenix Scholarship Reward Program. The tuition rate in effect when you sign the MOU will not increase, provided you continue to maintain eligibility for the scholarship, as detailed in the MOU.

ELIGIBILITY

Our Phoenix Scholarship Reward Program lets you control your educational destiny. As long as you stay in school — and consistently work hard toward completing your associate, bachelor's or master's degree as described in the MOU — you'll remain eligible for this program.

To participate, you must:

- Enroll and attend your first for-credit course in your associate, bachelor's or master's* degree program before February 28, 2014.
- Sign a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) acknowledging the eligibility requirements and benefits of the program. This MOU will be presented to you in the online application process after you have identified your employer.
- Complete 24 credit hours over 52 weeks (associate and bachelor's students) or 24 credits over 60 weeks (master's students) which is a typical academic schedule.
- Continue to maintain your eligibility requirements, by completing 12 credits every 26 weeks (associate and bachelor's students) or 12 credits every 30 weeks (master's students.)

BENEFITS

If you maintain your eligibility, you will receive a credit against tuition for each course you successfully finish, on top of the tuition reduction you already have in place through your organization's relationship with University of Phoenix.

Continue to maintain eligibility, and you could potentially save up to $10,800 by the time you graduate.
