SERIES CONCEPT

Vocational Evaluators provide vocational assessment and work adjustment services for clients with disabilities using accepted vocational testing and work simulation methods in a clinical, classroom or employment setting; develop vocational assessment strategies; prepare vocational evaluation reports and recommendations.

Develop assessment plans and work methods; review referrals, gather background information and interview clients; determine the services required to facilitate the assessment; attend staffing team meetings with medical consultants, rehabilitation staff and other referral sources to discuss and clarify clients' medical, vocational and social status; research job markets and skills to determine clients' vocational prospects.

Determine clients' work capacity, learning capacity, personality and behavioral characteristics which affect vocational performance and rehabilitation potential; select, administer, score and interpret vocational and work simulation tests; observe clients' work skills, behavior and readiness; counsel clients when behavior or problems impede the evaluation process.

Prepare written and verbal reports and recommendations; respond to questions posed by the referral source and clients' medical, psychological, social, vocational, educational and economic histories; conduct comprehensive vocational analyses; consider clients' residual functional capacity in comparison to the physical and mental demands of past jobs; describe clients' ability to perform relevant work based on required skill levels, duties, equipment and tools; identify clients' transferable residual skills.

Provide advice and guidance to co-workers, referral sources, employers, counselors, physicians, attorneys and clients; research labor market information, vocational materials and other resources; ensure that vocational factors are properly identified, evaluated and documented; explore issues such as optimum vocational goals, work behavior, physical tolerance, work readiness, residual functional capacity and transferable skills; clarify vocational concepts and their overall impact on clients' ability to engage in competitive work; provide job analyses to establish job duty criteria.

Maintain records of assessment activities; prepare progress and status reports and relevant correspondence; complete necessary forms; participate in program planning and budget development.

Perform related duties as assigned.

CLASS CONCEPTS

Vocational Evaluator II: Under general direction, incumbents perform the full range of duties described in the series concept and independently make decisions with respect to the assessment process; however, individual assessment plans, progress and recommendations are subject to supervisory review through case records and formal and informal discussions. This is the journey level in the series. The Vocational Evaluator II is distinguished from the lower level by greater complexity of assignments and a higher level of independence with which the duties are performed.

Vocational Evaluator I: Under general supervision, incumbents receive training and gain experience in the assessment of vocational ability, aptitude and potential of persons with disabilities. This is the entry level in the series and progression to the journey level may occur upon meeting the minimum qualifications and with the recommendation of the appointing authority.
