Basis for Recommendation

The Department of Public Safety (DPS), Division of Parole and Probation (P & P) requested modifications to the class specifications for the Parole & Probation Specialist series to clarify the role of the Pardons Unit and to clarify equivalencies for the Parole & Probation Supervisor.

In coordination with Subject Matter Experts from P & P and analysts within DHRM, it is recommended that the Class Concepts for the Parole & Probation Specialist IV be amended to reflect and clarify the duties and responsibilities of the Pardons Unit. As such, the class will identify two areas of responsibility, item (1) for the Pardons Unit and item (2) for the existing duties and responsibilities.

- 1) Work in the Pardons Unit as a Pardons Investigator. Incumbents are responsible for the completion of a comprehensive investigation on requests for pardons to include, but not limited to, a review of pardon applications, conducting interviews with the applicant, contacting the victims of the crime, conducting a full criminal history and social media investigation, and preparing and submitting a comprehensive investigative summary report to include a recommendation as to whether the division should support or oppose the pardon request. These reports, upon review and approval of the Division Chief, are submitted to the Board of Pardon Commissioners to use in their determination to grant or deny a request for pardon. Incumbents may be required to personally brief the Governor, or their staff, on the pardon applications appearing on the Commission agenda.
- 2) Work as a lead worker over an assigned staff of lower-level Parole & Probations Specialists located in the Court Services Unit, Offender Supervision Unit, or Re-Entry Unit. Incumbents spend the preponderance of time assigning, reviewing, and approving work; training and providing guidance; monitoring and evaluating the progress of lower-level staff and providing input to the supervisor regarding performance. In addition, incumbents may be assigned the most complex and high-profile cases and reports which are defined by the agency as those involving severe or heinous crimes, extensive media coverage, cases with a large number of victims, and/or large restitution cases. Incumbents are expected to manage a small caseload as workload dictates.

It is recommended that the Entry Level Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities at the Parole & Probation Specialist IV be amended to reflect the clarification of the Pardons Investigations Unit.

In addition, it is recommended that the Education & Experience section, of the Minimum Qualifications, be revised at the Parole & Probation Supervisor class to allow for two years of experience at the Parole & Probation Specialist III class to qualify and three years of experience at the Parole & Probation Specialist II class, within a specified work unit, to qualify. This will allow those individuals who neither work as a lead worker nor at the advanced journey level an opportunity to promote to a supervisory position.

Furthermore, the EEO Administrator has recommended that the EEO-4 Code for the Parole & Probation Specialist II to be changed from “E” Para-professional to “B” Professional to account for the duties and responsibilities of the position and the grade level allocated.

Lastly, minor revisions were made in the Class Concepts and Minimum Qualifications, at every level, to maintain consistency with verbiage, formatting, and structure.

These changes will allow the division to better utilize resources and increase the operational efficiencies of the Division. The modifications to the class specifications will also increase the applicant pool as well as allow increased upward mobility for existing State employees.

Throughout the process management staff within DPS and P & P, and analysts within DHRM participated by offering suggestions and reviewing changes, and they support the recommendation.

Changes to the class specification are noted as follows: additions in blue and deletions in red.

SERIES CONCEPT

Parole & Probation Specialists perform technical duties in administrative functions and units, which do not require peace officer status. Duties include casework services, investigations, tracking and monitoring assigned parolees and probationers, assisting in the monitoring of low-risk cases, pre-parole investigations, housing, and resource assistance, conducting risk assessments, pre-sentence investigations, determining restitution and supervision fees, and referral services for the assigned unit. Positions in this series obtain and verify information; prepare and process case files and recommend appropriate action; and monitor offender activities. Incumbents are not Peace Officer's Standards and Training (P.O.S.T.) certified and do not perform law enforcement functions such as conducting field inspections of offenders' worksite or residence, conducting surveillance, searches, and arrests, or transporting prisoners to court or detention facilities.

Process documentation associated with the release of offenders being paroled, in residential confinement, in drug court supervision, and residing in a state other than Nevada; review files received from the court/parole board for required signatures, pre-release plan, criminal history, parole eligibility dates, and the terms and conditions of parole/probation.

Research the criminal and personal history of the offender including the facts surrounding the current offense, special conditions of release involving restitution, drug and alcohol treatment and testing, counseling and/or community service; obtain reporting instructions and transfer offender files to the appropriate location; notify victims prior to release of offenders or of special circumstances as requested; contact law enforcement agencies that have placed a hold on the offender and arrange for parole to the agency's custody; contact service providers such as residential and inpatient programs and arrange for program participation upon release from custody.

Monitor offenders through written correspondence and the telephone; contact family, friends, neighbors, employers, treatment counselors and other law enforcement agencies to ensure the parolee or probationer is in compliance with stipulated agreements; establish and monitor compliance with payment plans and renegotiate payments if offender falls in arrears; track actions taken by the court/parole board; prepare various reports regarding violations of probation or parole, progress or discharge, and monthly caseload status; advise and direct offenders to comply with the terms of parole and/or probation.

Develop and maintain case files for each offender containing legal documents regarding criminal history, probation and parole agreements, monthly reports, correspondence and records which chronologically list contacts with the offender; develop and execute case plans; compile information, present recommendations, and submit various reports and documents to the court/parole board for review and action after obtaining supervisory approval; audit case files in compliance with agency standards; prepare statistical reports detailing case activity to conform with agency requirements.

Monitor and track hearing dates; provide documentation for hearings; make appearances at hearings and provide testimony as necessary; obtain hearing results and follow up on court/parole board directives, actions, and recommendations.

SERIES CONCEPT (cont'd)

Perform related duties as assigned.

CLASS CONCEPTS

Parole & Probation Supervisor: Under general direction, incumbents plan, organize, coordinate, and supervise the day-to-day activities of a staff of Parole & Probation Specialists. Incumbents may be required to write pre-sentence investigation, ~~and/or~~ pardon investigation reports, and/or post-conviction reports, but the primary focus at this level is to supervise the work of lower-level Parole & Probation Specialists to include conducting performance evaluations, developing work performance standards, work assignment and review, scheduling, timekeeping, training, and discipline.

Assist higher-level management staff with the preparation of reports and statistical analyses and participate in the development of the work unit's budget.

Implement federal, State and agency regulations, policies, procedures, and guidelines related to program operations; recommend changes to established policies, procedures, and guidelines; provide assigned staff with explanations, clarifications and interpretations of policies and procedures.

This class is distinguished from the Parole & Probation Specialist IV class by full supervisory responsibility for a staff of at least five Parole & Probation Specialists.

Parole & Probation Specialist IV: Incumbents at this level, in addition to being able to perform the full range of duties outlined in the series concept, either:

- 1) Work in the Pardons Unit as a Pardons Investigator. Incumbents are responsible for the completion of a comprehensive investigation on requests for pardons to include, but not limited to, a review of pardon applications, conducting interviews with the applicant, contacting the victims of the crime, conducting a full criminal history and social media investigation, and preparing and submitting a comprehensive investigative summary report to include a recommendation as to whether the division should support or oppose the pardon request. These reports, upon review and approval of the Division Chief, are submitted to the Board of Pardon Commissioners to use in their determination to grant or deny a request for pardon. Incumbents may be required to personally brief the Governor, or their staff, on the pardon applications appearing on the Commission agenda.
- 2) ~~function~~ Work as a lead worker over an assigned staff of lower-level Parole & Probations Specialists located in the Court Services Unit, Offender Supervision Unit, or Re-Entry Unit. Incumbents spend the preponderance of time assigning, reviewing, and approving work; training and providing guidance; monitoring and evaluating the progress of lower-level staff and providing input to the supervisor regarding performance. In addition, incumbents may be assigned the most complex and high-profile cases and reports which are defined by the agency as those involving severe or heinous crimes, extensive media coverage, cases with a large number of victims, and/or large restitution cases. ~~[or pardons investigations.]~~ Incumbents are expected to manage a small caseload as workload dictates.

Parole & Probation Specialist III: Incumbents at this level perform duties as described in the series concept at the advanced journey level and either:

- 1) Work in the Court Services Unit and assist offenders in completing the pre-sentence interview questionnaire, check offender's criminal history, complete a risk assessment to determine criminogenic risks and needs; provide resources to offenders based on their needs, write comprehensive pre-sentence investigation reports to the court and post-conviction reports to the parole board regarding the offender's crime and provide aggravating and mitigating factors regarding the offender for the Court's consideration. Incumbents may represent the agency in court, provide testimony regarding the recommendation, and respond to questions from the judge; or

- 2) Work in the Offender Supervision Unit, under the direct guidance of a sworn officer, and assist them in carrying out investigations and supervision duties to include performing administrative supervision functions for the lowest risk offenders that do not require peace officer certification such as receiving information from the offender, gathering additional information regarding the offender's activities, determining compliance with administrative conditions of supervision, preparing reports, drafting correspondence, performing risk and needs assessments and documenting information within the records management system for assigned cases; or
- 3) Work in the Re-Entry Unit, where incumbents are physically located within a correctional facility and/or jail. In addition to being able to perform the duties described in the series concept, incumbents meet personally with inmates to assist in formulating viable release plans; review reports to identify which parole-eligible inmates are lacking parole plans and then formulate same; coordinate with Department of Corrections staff to schedule inmates for re-entry meetings; participate in program analysis and provide feedback to supervisor for improvement and added efficiency; respond to and initiate contact with public and private service providers, community organizations and groups to assist Division in maintenance of a list of programs and services available to parolees; provide documented feedback and status to supervisor relating to programs, referrals, interagency cooperation and relationships to ensure and improve program development; develop and maintain case files; and provide analytical, narrative and statistical reports regarding activities as required. In addition, incumbents coordinate with local Courts, Parole & Probation Officers, and the Parole Board regarding the dispositions of offenders incarcerated in local jail; or
- 4) Work as a lead worker in the Pre-Release Unit, Interstate Compact Unit, Warrants and Extradition Unit, or similar work unit staffed with a large number of Parole & Probation Specialists. Incumbents spend the preponderance of time on complex cases; train and provide guidance to lower-level specialists; prepare statistical reports; and assign, review, and approve the work of others during peak workload periods and in the absence of the supervisor.

Parole & Probation Specialist II: Incumbents at this level perform duties as described in the series concept and either:

- 1) Work in the Pre-Release Unit and track and monitor a caseload of parolees/probationers who are currently incarcerated; process all documentation associated with the release of offenders being paroled and for inmates allowed to reside in Nevada communities under residential confinement or drug court supervision; assist investigating officers by conducting preliminary pre-parole investigations of sponsors and proposed residences; may have face-to-face contact with offenders. This is the journey level in the series for the Pre-Release Unit; or
- 2) Work in the Interstate Compact Unit and track and monitor offenders; process all documentation associated with offenders who have requested permission to reside in a state other than Nevada during their term of parole/probation; investigate inmate indigent claims and process confirmed cases in accordance with established policies and procedures; may have telephone and/or face-to-face contact with offenders. This is the journey level in the series for the Interstate Compact Unit; or
